SSC Enrollment at All-Time High

Increased attendance at fall football games provides evidence of the growing enrollment at SSC.

1971-72. It was the year in which Congress broke tradition and granted 18 year olds the right to vote. Southeastern State College broke tradition and banned the freshman beanie.

"Love Story" brought more than $30 million to the box office and produced a tide of tears that threatened to engulf the country. "Don't Drink the Water," SSC's community production of the fall semester, produced tears of another kind - the audiences laughed until they cried.

While the "generation gap" continued to widen, Southeastern held its first annual Parents Day, an event that drew over 450 parents from at least 10 states.

Russia lost its former Premier, Nikita Khrushchev. America lost its King of Jazz, Louis Armstrong.

Southeastern enrolled 3,735 students during the fall semester, which represented a 21% increase over the fall semester of 1970 and set a new enrollment record.

A lot happened In Just One Year.

Registering to vote is a new experience for college students under 21 across the United States.

SSC parents are welcomed to campus for what is to become an annual event - Parents Day.

The production of "Don't Drink the Water" included (l-r) Steve Schlesselman, Suzanne Hatch, Neil Stanfield, Howard Starks, Smitty Lorey, Betty Spears, Glen Burke, Farrell Hatch, Norman Colvin.

Dempsey Patton, recipient of the 1971-72 Oliver Hodge Memorial Scholarship, receives congratulations from President Hibbs.

The Day Care Center, a college-maintained and operated pre-school, provides a community service to parents who work or attend classes.

President Hibbs Takes Time for Students

This scene from "Alice in Wonderland," features Janie Robertson as Alice, Debbie Calhoun as the blue caterpillar, and the bluebells.

It was another year of controversy. Attica exploded - Pakistan wept - Viet Nam continued. Calley was convicted - Medina freed.

It was the year of the baby bust - the big push for population control had begun. At SSC the Small World Day Care Center and the Children's Theatre provided special services designed for the young.

While the Jesus Revolution hit the United States, the Irish Revolution raged on the other side of the Atlantic.

On campus, President Hibbs' "open door policy," which guaranteed every Southeastern student the right to be heard, was working. He was fair - the system was just - the students were content.

Scott Hancock participates in the Ford Philpot Crusade, an early fall revival which attracted many Southeastern students.

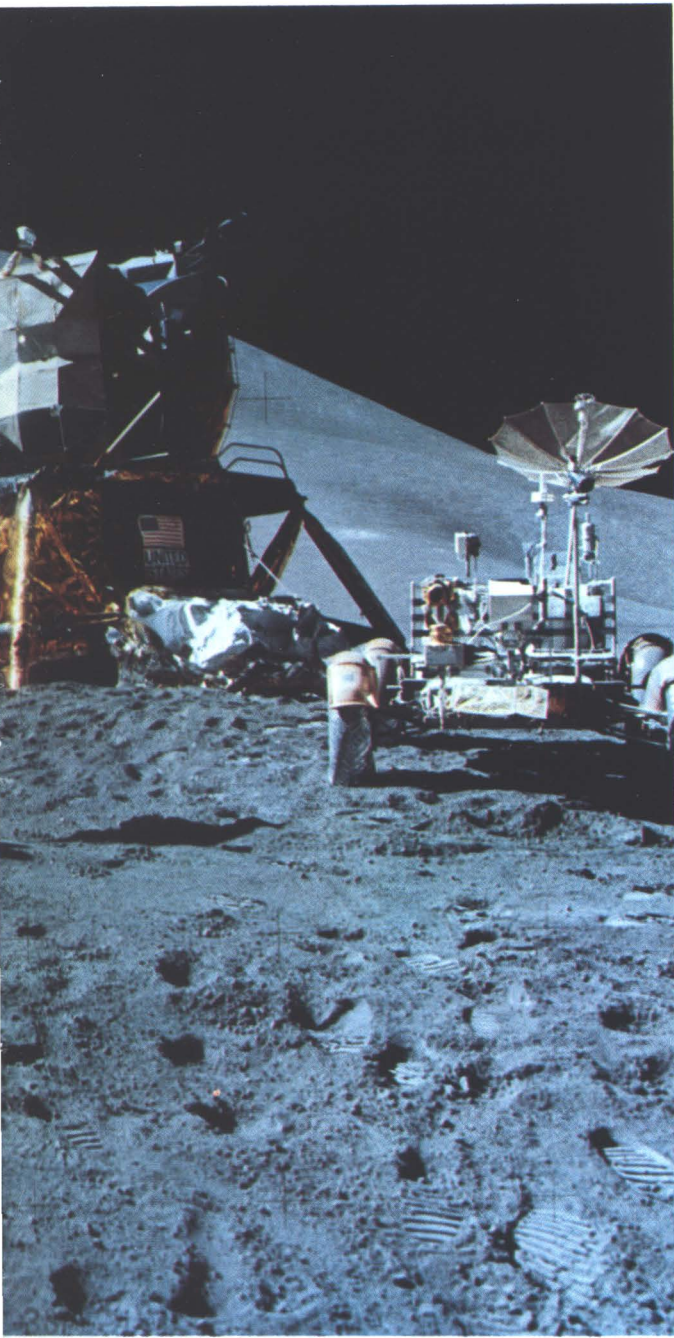

Dr. Hibbs takes a break for a little light conversation with Steve Barker and Regina Blaker.

Astronaut James Irwin gives a military salute on the moon during the Apollo 15 flight.

SSC First-Oklahoma First-America First

During the pre-election period of 1971-72, presidential candidates made campaign promises to the American people. At Southeastern, Steve Barker, Student Senate President, kept his promise to fellow students and served well.

The United States was the only nation in the world to have men riding on the moon in a rover. SSC was the only college in the world to offer a course in Choctaw.

Poet Rod McKuen was popular with students across the country while SSC published student and faculty literature in the first edition of Ibraxis.

OU brought the glory back to Oklahoma by defeating Texas 48-27. The Pittsburgh Pirates won the World Series in seven games.

Southeastern State College, Durant, Oklahoma, U.S.A. - a nice place to be in '71-72.

Over 400 guests attend a luncheon in the Student Union ballroom in the second observance of the Carl Albert Year in Education.

The steady growth of the SSC aviation program is marked by the addition of flight equipment which includes the Cessna 150.

Dr. Paul Olson, professor at the University of Nebraska, delivers the after-dinner speech at the Albert Day festivities.

International Student Enrollment Doubles

The same year that Congress rejected the supersonic transport project, SSC's aviation department owned six airplanes, an investment of nearly $100,000.

While President Nixon announced to the American people his trip to Peking aimed at improving relations with that country, Southeastern and Dr. Hibbs welcomed more international students to the campus than ever before.

Nationally, Carl Albert reigned as Speaker of the House of Representatives. Here at home, it was the Carl Albert Year of Education.

The roar of a cycle around campus square provides a unique accompaniment to classroom lecture in Morrison Hall.

The blight of pollution, a matter of national concern, hits close to home at Lake Texoma.

Shoe manufacturers and barbers share a common concern over new trends among young people.

Hot pants, long pants, granny dresses, knickers,—if it suits the mood, wear it.

Individuality the Key to '71-72

It was the year of the “put-on”. Martha Mitchell Dolls gave Barbie a run for her money. Spiro Agnew was still competing in the wrist watch industry. Cowboy Bob brought Howdy Doody back, not to television, but to college campuses across the country.

Hem lines ran the gauntlet from granny dresses to hot pants or died completely in frayed cuffs. Long hair was in - shoes were off.

Following in the tradition of “Easy Rider,” a new breed of jockeys made themselves heard on campus. They did their bit for cleaner air as well as the parking problem on campus.

If it is true that rules were made to be broken, then this one is a dandy example.

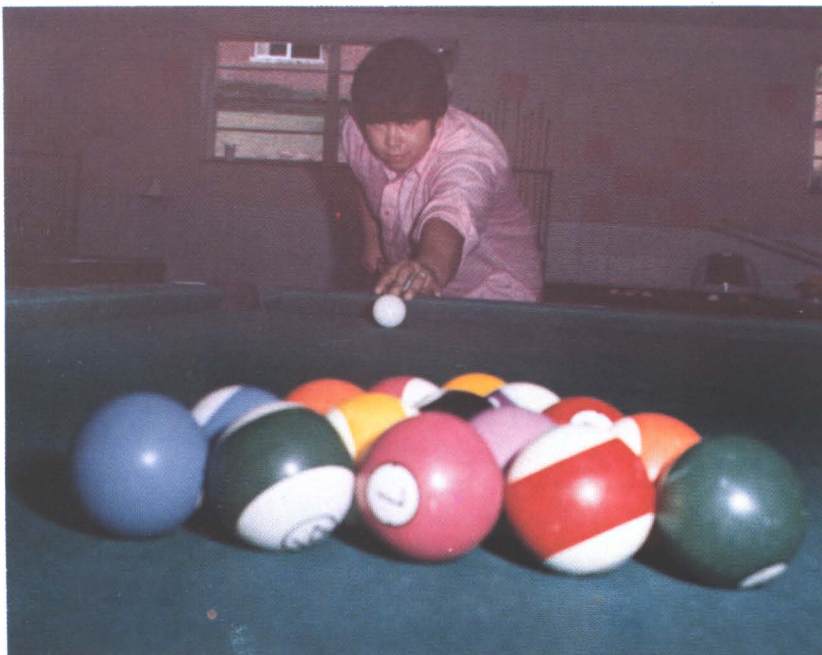

The amphitheatre, serving SSC students in a number of useful ways, is the scene of the Thursday night pep rallies.

A Lot Happened in Just One Year

One good excuse for cutting classes is to sharpen the sense of concentration.

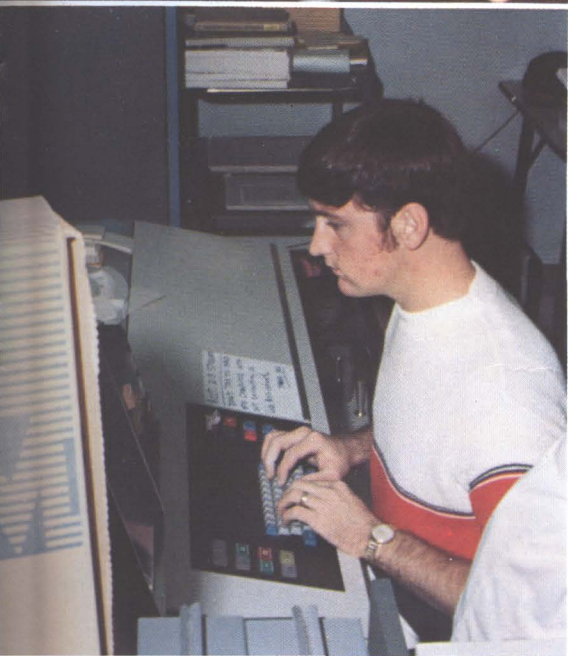

The Savage has attempted to record some of the international, national, and local events of 1971-72, which have had and will, undoubtedly, continue to have far-reaching effects on the students and faculty of Southeastern.

It was a big year for contentment and discontentment, patience and impatience, trust and mistrust, failure and success.

The year promised, through education, understanding and tolerance, the hope for a better world.

A highlight in the Southeastern-Southwestern game - the home team is leading.

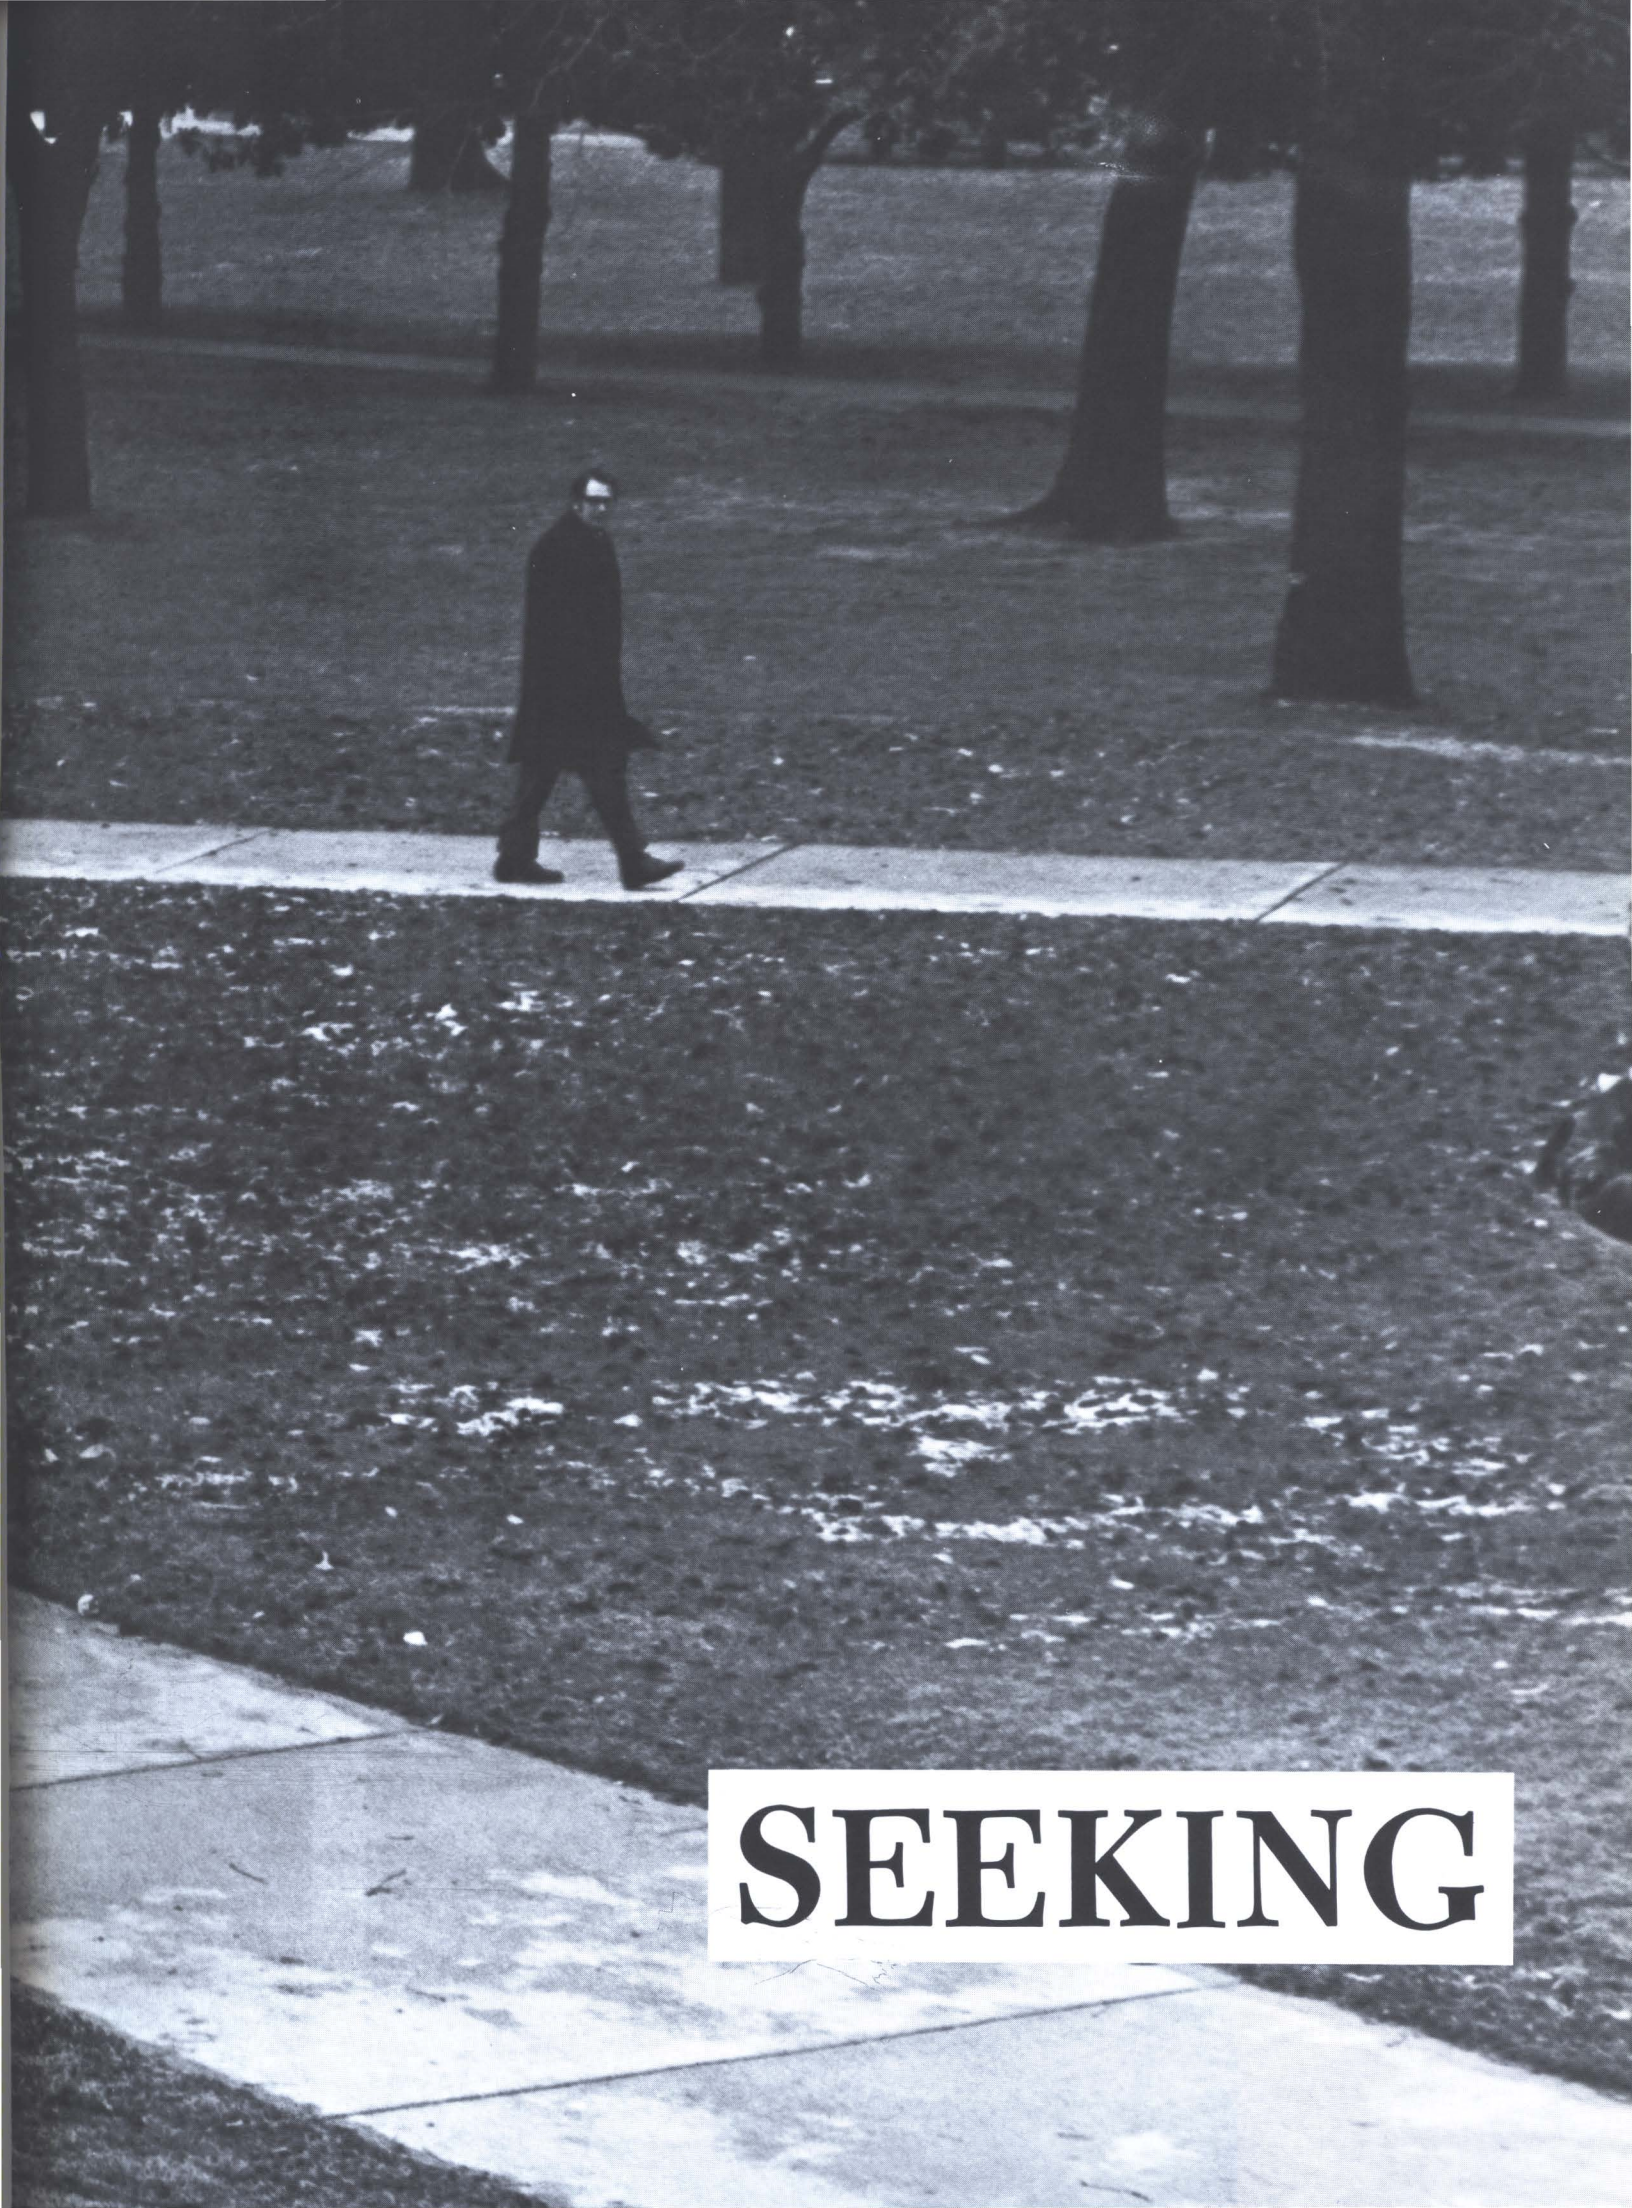

Morrison Hall, one of the main centers of campus activity during the day, takes on a different personality on a quiet night.

Southeastern students find their place in the American educational system through courses such as technology, computer science and anatomy.

Changing school tradition, the freshman beanie is tossed aside and freshman no longer wear green paint.

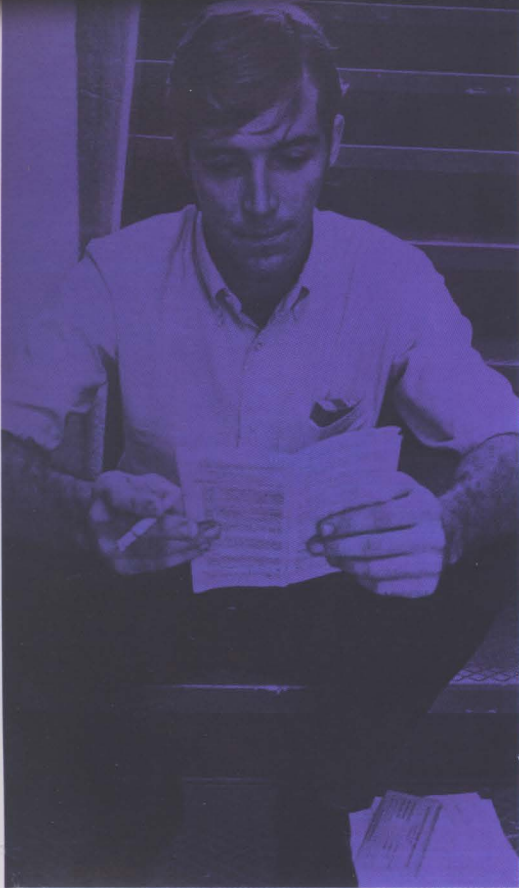

Dennis May is only one of the many students who finds Alexander Graham Bell a big help in meeting new friends.

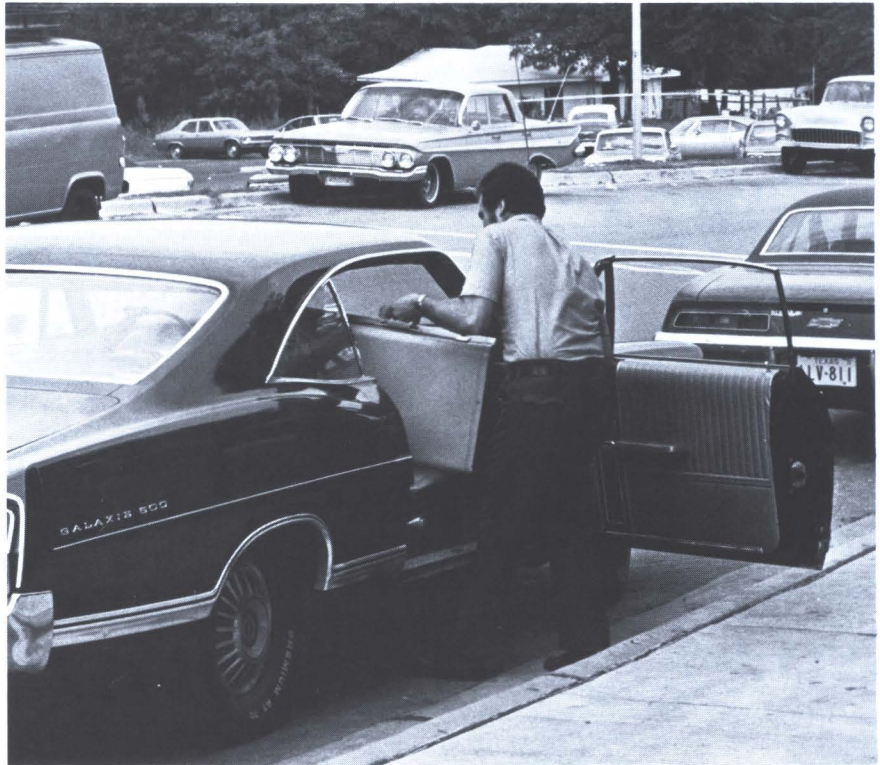

Greek pledges make themselves known on campus through their many activities such as sneaks and slave week.

During enrollment, students read the most popular book on campus, the Class Schedule.

Many a muscle is developed on moving day when hundreds of students bring their treasured possessions to the dorm.

Dean Ellis and Mike Herron are well occupied with the Phi Sig cannon during football games.

"Late for class again! Oh well, there's no need to hurry now. Maybe I'll make the next one."

Looking for Goals

The area of industrial technology is an ever enlarging field fascinating to many SSC students.

A lonesome stroll across the campus square on a rainy Saturday morning is a great way to ease the tension of studying.

Creativity and skill are a major part of an artist's task as shown by Roberta Cazelle.

John Maybary and Mike Dawson help one another by getting to class early and looking over notes for the tests.

Story time is one of facination for the preschooler's at Southeastern's day care center.

Selling stamps to students on campus such as Joy McCoy is only one of Postmistress Mrs. Cecil Montgomery's many duties.

The between class place to be for a few minutes of relaxation and a coke is in the Student Union Coffee Shop.

Behind the Scenes

Robert Thomas, Abdol Mosaddegh, Esmain Darnaie, and Edwin Lake find the game room foosball machine a perfect afternoon sport to play.

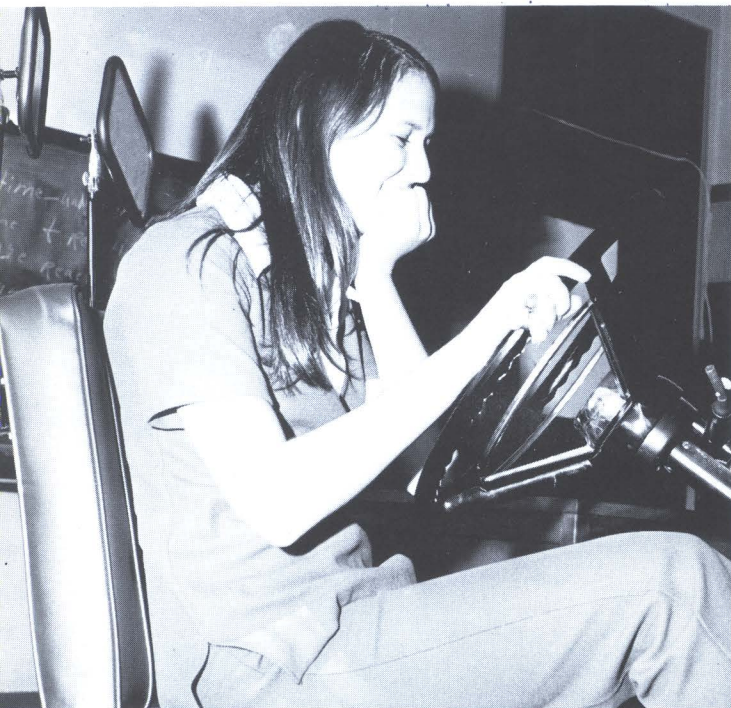

Monday night is D.J. time for 2½ hours of fun and exercise in the Ball Room.

A fast game of Bridge is enjoyed by Bill McCulluck, Norman Cecil, Bill Kato, and Trisha McCulluck.

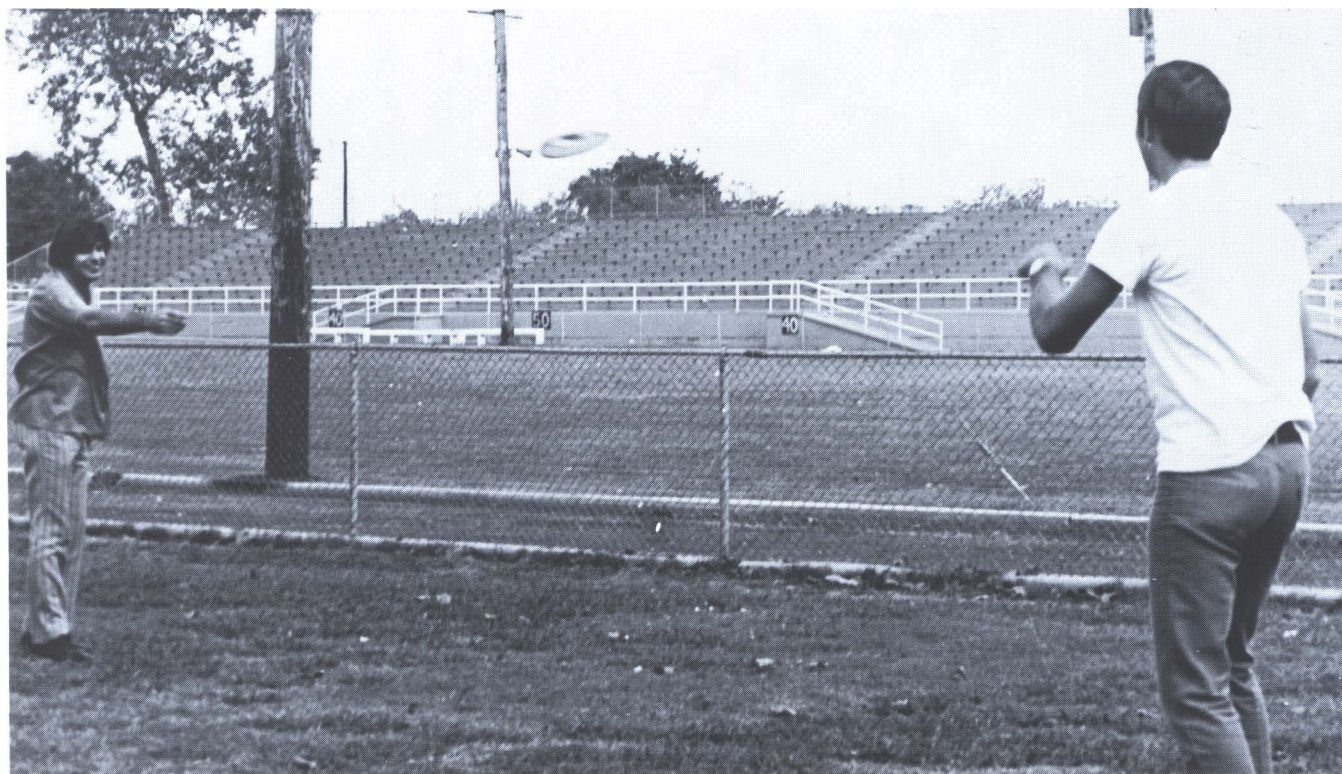

The prospect of turning the key seems a bit frightening but funny to Karen Groomer.

"If only we had a ping-pong ball, we'd have a really fantastic game going this time, partner."

The Pursuit of Happiness

Frisbee, the game for all seasons, just might be the most popular sport on Southeastern's campus.

Carl Albert Year in Education at SSC

To recognize his outstanding contributions to the field of education, the distinguished Congressman, the Honorable Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, Carl Albert, was honored at Southeastern during the 1971-72 academic year.

Southeastern joined with the Governor, the Durant Chamber of Commerce, and the city of Durant, in designating the period as the Carl Albert Year in Education.

Four public observances of the tribute to Mr. Albert were held during the year, each concentrating on an educational theme of special interest to SSC.

The distinguished speakers at these events included Mr. Albert; Dr. Paul Olson, foundation professor at the University of Nebraska; William Arrowsmith, professor of classics, Boston University.

Speaker Albert consults with former President Lyndon Johnson who is tentatively scheduled to appear at SSC in July.

Serving as Oklahoma's 20th governor is Democrat David Hall. He and his wife, Jo Evans, are parents of three children.

Hall, 40, is a graduate of the University of Tulsa where he obtained his Law degree in 1959. A member of Phi Beta Delta, Governor Hall was chosen University of Tulsa's Outstanding Law Student, and was awarded the medal of honor for service to youth by the International Order of DeMolay.

After graduation, he was elected as Assistant Tulsa County District Attorney and in 1962 was elected District Attorney. In 1968, Hall became Professor of Law at the University of Tulsa. He is also the author of Oklahoma Criminal Information and a Captain in the Air Force Reserve.

From Gas Station Attendant to President

It's less than 400 miles from Beaver to Durant, but it's a long way from pumping gas and checking oil to presiding as college president Dr. Leon Hibbs, a man of varied talents, made it in 19 years.

Born October 15, 1930, son of P.O. and Louella Hibbs, Leon was an only child until the day of his high school graduation in 1948 when a sister was born.

Beaver, located in the sparsely populated, rugged Oklahoma panhandle, is in principally cattle and wheat country. The Hibbs family lived on a farm during the childhood of the future college president, and as young farm boys often do, he came naturally to hunting and horses.

After high school graduation, Hibbs bought a gas station in Beaver which he operated during the first year he spent studying at Northwestern State.

In 1950 he married Maxine Parker, also from Beaver, and the new Hibbs family moved to Alva, the first of a series of moves which would eventually bring them to Southeastern. Hibbs worked as an electrician during his last two years as a math major at Northwestern.

Upon completion of his B.A. Degree in 1952, the two moved to Greenough, Oklahoma, where Hibbs was not only principal, but teacher, basketball coach, janitor and bus driver. Everything but the kitchen sink? That too! Mrs. Hibbs completed the team by working in the school cafeteria.

The Hibbs stayed in Greenough for four years where the family grew from two to three with the addition of their first child, Max, in 1953.

In 1956 the family moved again, this time to Norman where Hibbs received a Masters Degree in Education Administration from the University of Oklahoma.

The job of moving his family was becoming tougher each time because by now the family had grown to four with the birth of their first daughter, Gaye, but they did it again, and made a new home in Stillwater. In the spring of 1957, Hibbs was granted another degree - the Masters of Science from Oklahoma State University.

Another move? Yes, back to Norman. While Hibbs was employed by the State Department of Education, he completed his Doctorate from the University of Oklahoma.

After 21 years of school, a diploma and four degrees, Dr. Hibbs and his family moved to Lafayette, Indiana, where he was director of the Midwest Airbourne Television Instructional Division at Purdue University.

Listen to What the People Are Saying

Speaker of the House of Representatives, Carl Albert, and President Hibbs exchange ideas about education.

Dr. Hibbs with children Max and Gaye in 1959 - the year he received his doctorate.

After two years at Purdue and another son, Craig, the family packed up and came back to Oklahoma where, in 1962, Dr. Hibbs assumed the position of Dean of Education at Oklahoma City University, a position which he held for five years.

In 1967, Dr. Hibbs accepted the presidency at Southeastern, and the young man from Beaver brought his family to the white brick house at the corner of 6th and College. A second daughter, Le-An, was born in 1968.

Like most college presidents, Dr. Hibbs is a busy man with a busy schedule. But that's where the comparison ends. SSC's president is on the campus - not just in an office behind a desk. He meets regularly with students in a kind of gripe session. He takes his meals with students at the college dining hall one week out of each month. He manages to spend at least one afternoon each week around the student union - answering questions, giving advice (when it's asked for) and just getting to know students.

He smiles - he says hello - he knows the names of most SSC students. And at a time when new enrollment records are being set almost every semester, that's not an easy trick.

Southeastern has grown and prospered under the direction of Dr. Hibbs. His success is partly due to a pretty simple philosophy - take time to listen to what the people are saying.

Performing one of many duties in his first teaching position, Hibbs is shown with his basketball team.

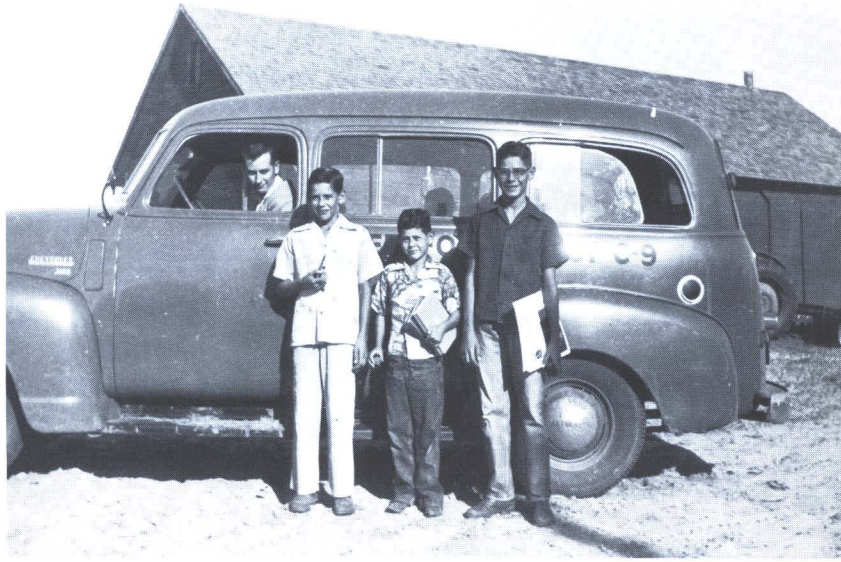

Leon Hibbs - horseman, hunter, farm boy from Beaver - 19 years later, he's president at Southeastern.

In his first teaching position he is principal, teacher, coach, janitor, and bus driver.

Deans and Directors Guide in Many Ways

Carl McCoy, Director of Institutional Research

Among their duties, the deans and directors of Southeastern coordinate class scheduling and course requirements; regulate coed housing and supervise activities; sponsor campus organizations; direct the student teaching programs; guide graduate students in the Master's Degree programs; and help students find employment after graduation.

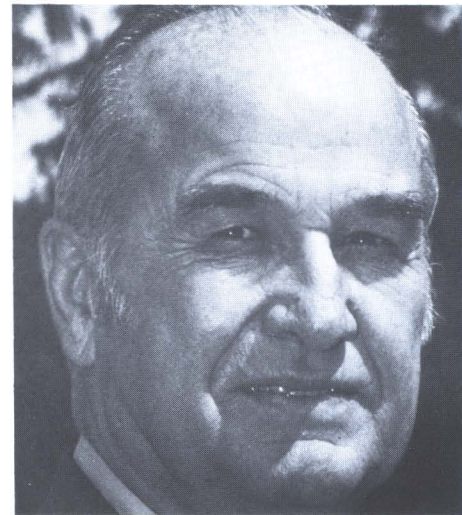

In addition, the busy administrators allow time for personal guidance for students with day-to-day campus problems.

Marked Expansion in Art Division

Some of these paintings prove that brushes are not always necessary in creating a work of art.

The Art Department of Southeastern State College has continued its steady growth. Along with its increased enrollment, a new instructor has been added, Mrs. Louise Bostic. Max McClen-don art instructor, enjoyed the honor of being elected president of the art section of the Oklahoma Educational Association.

The Annual Faculty Exhibition was held during the fall semester. In the spring semester, a student art show for graduating seniors was well represented. The department also hosted the spring Invitational Exhibition at which state student artists participated.

Music Majors Double Again

James Wintle

A new and larger look sported the Music Department this year with the development of a new curriculum, the addition of new band uniforms, and a 100% increase in music majors during the past 5 years. All the music theory courses were woven into an integrated program requiring three years to complete.

For the fourth year in a row, the department doubled its number of music majors, due to the vast expansion of courses, quality of faculty and students, and the overall record of SSC music graduates.

Counseling Program Aids Students

The aim of the Psychology and Education Department - to prepare students to become effective teachers as well as productive, emotionally-mature adults - is accomplished, in part, through the student-teaching program.

This program featured instructional classes for 9 weeks and practice teaching during the remainder of the semester, during which students evaluated their teaching skills.

The Counseling Intern Program, in its second year, helped to strengthen the emotional development of troubled students by utilizing the aid of graduate student skills.

Under the guidance of Dave Cook, director of theatre, one tragedy and a variety of musicals and comedies were presented.

"I Do! I Do!" a musical comedy, was produced during the 1971 summer semester.

First semester productions included the delightful comedy, "Don't Drink the Water," and "Of Mice and Men," SSC's entry in the American College Theatre Festival.

Spring semester productions included "The Lion in Winter," high comedy; "The Roar of the Greasepaint, The Smell of the Crowd," musical comedy; and a comedy of manners, "The Importance of Being Earnest."

SSC's debate team, under the direction of C. W. Mangram, enjoyed a successful season, bringing 13 trophies back to the campus.

Audio-Visual Department Keeps Busy

Highlighting the year for the audio visual department were trips to the Regional Leadership Conference at East Texas State, the National A-V meeting in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and the Spring and Fall A-V State Conference.

The audio visual department provided Southeastern with video tapes, recordings, transparencies, and other a-v instructional materials. It kept account of all college films, slides, and projectors.

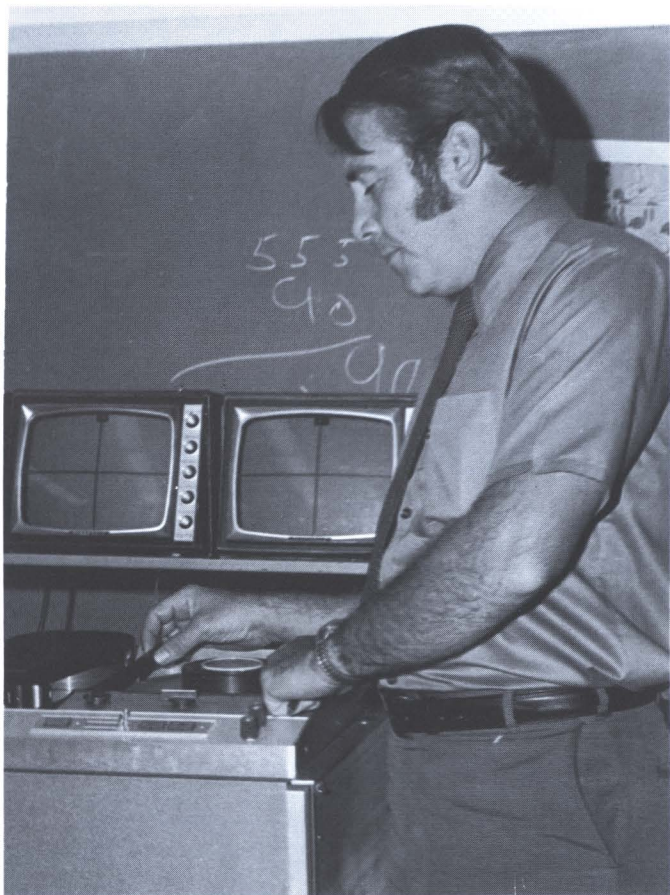

The audio visual department added a new proficiency requirement for secondary majors. A Certificate Program for 1972 was planned as well as the moving of the Video Taping into the Instructional Program of the college.

Library Collection Increases

At the beginning of the 1971-72 school year, the library contained 107,475 volumes. The collection, arranged by subject areas, was particularly strong in the fields of education, literature, history, and children's literature.

Copier machines and microfilm readers were available, as well as a new microfiche double image reader.

A Library Media Workshop, conducted by the SSC library professional staff and the State Department of Education was held at the SSC Library on November 18.

Department Enrollment Jumps 23%

Dr. Charles Hammack, Department Chairman

New equipment, workshops, and laboratories complemented the rapidly growing Industrial Education and Technology Department, headed by Dr. Charles Hammack. Many renovations to the facilities improved the classroom environment.

Due to a 23% increase in enrollment, it was necessary to expand the facilities of the department. A new professional drafting lab and a second electronics lab were constructed and in operation for the fall semester.

Several major pieces of instructional equipment for electronics, metals, and automobiles were obtained from the State Department of Vocational and Technical Education. Instructional furniture and equipment were also purchased for an additional drafting lab, as well as equipment for woodwork and photography.

In addition to the new facilities, a curriculum development workshop was held for 40 vocational teachers concerned with handicapped students. This workshop, directed by Troyce McGovern, Director of Special Projects, was sponsored by the State Department of Vocational and Technical Education.

Home economics graduates qualify for careers such as: teachers in schools offering general home economics, home economists with extension or public service companies, head-start directors, day-care-centers, school lunch managers, dietetic aids, social welfare case workers, and nursing home or hospital food service supervisors.

SSC's home economics department, under the direction of Dr. Frances Revis, added two new courses to its curriculum during the 71-72 school year.

Southeastern was represented by members of the home economics faculty at the Southern Regional Conference and the Dietition Seminar, both held in Dallas, Texas.

SSC Rebuilds Athletic Programs

Dr. Don Parham, Department Chairman

Reorganization described the physical education department this year. With the rebuilding of the football and basketball programs, SSC added four new members to the coaching faculty. Duke Christian was appointed to the post of head football coach, while Frank Davis took over as head basketball mentor. Also added as new assistants to Christian's gridiron staff, were Val Reneau and Joe McNulty.

Under the direction of Dr. Parham, head of the department, and PE instructor Richard Rutherford, the summer athletic recreation program was reorganized and expanded.

Five Major Programs Offered in Business

Dr. Linnie Ruth Hall, department chairman

Dr. Lennie Ruth Hall heads the Business Department, which offers major programs in business education, accounting, business administration, management, and secretarial administration. Two year programs are offered in accounting and business administration, general clerical and secretarial administration.

Several business conventions were attended by both business students and faculty. These included the Southwestern Business Administration Convention in San Antonio, the National Convention of Phi Beta Lambda in Miami, Florida, and the American Accounting Association Convention at the University of Kentucky.

SSC Math Institute in Third Year

Dr. Fred Collins

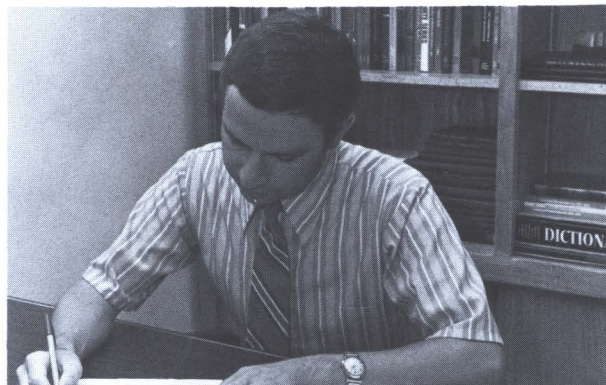

Dr. Doyle Bostic

The third Southeastern State College Math Institute for secondary teachers was held in '71, with over 60 teachers representing 28 states, participating.

The major objectives of the institute were to improve subject matter competence, to strengthen the capacity of teachers to motivate able students to consider a career in mathematics, and to gain a mutual understanding and appreciation of each other's teaching problems.

The department, chaired by Dr. Leslie Dwight, took part in the district OEA Meeting for secondary math teachers and co-sponsored the Texoma Math Conference.

An advanced senior level course, complex variables, was added to the math curriculum during the year.

Computerized Enrollment Speeds Procedure

Robert A. Branton, Jr., Department Chairman

Combining the complexities of mathematics and computerization, the Computer Science Department offers both major and minor programs.

New procedures, developed within the department, have added the computerized enrollment system to SSC.

A new computer, a PDP-11, replaced the IBM 1130, allowing the use of typewriter terminals, a welcomed time-saving device.

Conservation Program Increases by 750%

Dr. Earl Kilpatrick

The Biology Department expanded its curriculum by adding new courses in zoology, ornithology, ichthyology and limnology. In addition, new equipment was purchased for use in classrooms, laboratories and field work.

Student participation in the conservation degree program has grown in the last four years from 20 to the present enrollment of 150. Opportunities to observe native plant and animal life were provided students by field trips throughout Oklahoma and surrounding areas.

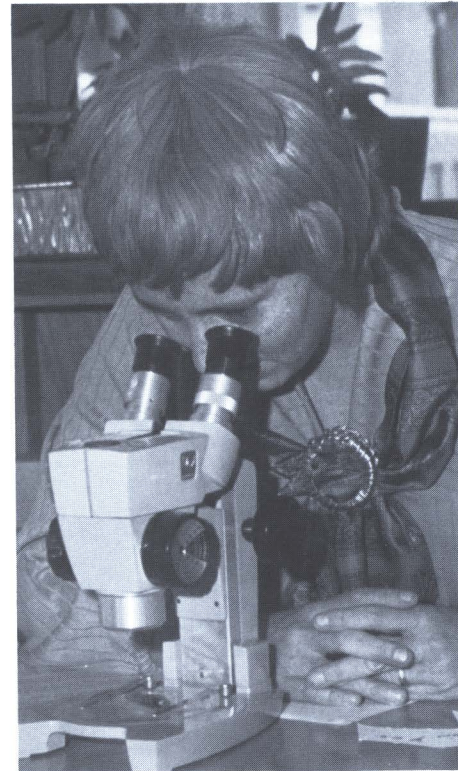

The department, directed by Dr. Earl Kilpatrick, was represented at both the fall and spring meetings of the Oklahoma Academy of Science.

New Equipment Totals $20,000

The Physical Science and Chemistry Department, under the direction of Dr. Arnold Walker, added nearly $20,000 worth of instructional and research equipment to its facilities during the '71-72 year.

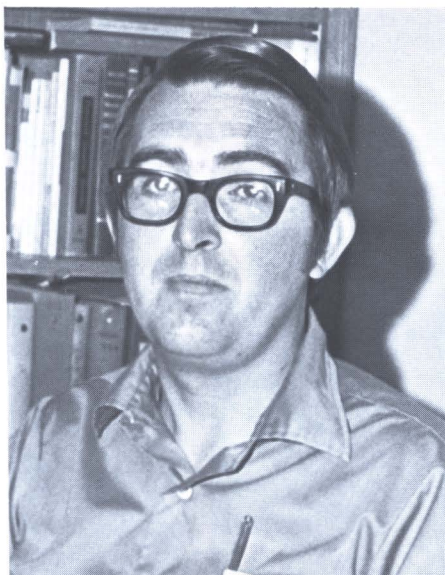

The professionally oriented chemist or physicist at SSC has used, upon graduation, many of the sophisticated pieces of instrumentation not usually available to undergraduates. Some of the more specialized instruments available include: infrared and ultraviolet-visible spectrophotometers, analytical gas-liquid chromatographs, nuclear radioactivity and laser beam equipment.

Choctaw, Russian Added to Curriculum

Dr. Wade Baskin, Department Chairman

The Foreign Language Department, chaired by Dr. Wade Baskin, expanded its '71-72 curriculum and added courses in Choctaw, Russian and Intensive English for international students.

The department has played a major role in the development and operation of the Choctaw Bilingual Education Program, jointly administered by SSC and the McCurtain County Superintendent of Schools, Mrs. Fayrene Benson. Jorge Morales is co-director of the program and supervises the production of oral language materials for elementary schools enrolling Choctaw children.

Todd Downing has compiled the first Choctaw grammar and teaches the only class in Choctaw in the world.

Two SSC foreign language majors, Joy McKinney and Charles Kite, have been selected to participate in an exchange program. They will spend one month in Mexico where they will be involved in an intensive study of language and culture.

The only Choctaw class in the world, taught by Todd Downing, attracts students from many areas of Oklahoma and Texas.

TTT Dedicated to Improving Education

The Oklahoma-Texas TTT project was aimed at continuing improvement of the pre-service, in-service, and graduate education and training of elementary school personnel, primarily through improvement of college teachers and programs of training within colleges, schools, and universities. It purposed to improve the education of teachers and other educational personnel in the elementary school to help children learn—especially the disadvantaged.

Under the leadership of program director, Dr. Eugene E. Slaughter, participants in the Pre-Service and Reading programs worked in the Title III program at Colbert during the year. The model, non-graded school served as an example for making innovations in teaching programs and educational practices.

Dr. Eugene Slaughter, Coordinator

TTT Counselor Gary Dominick visits with some fifth graders in one of Durant's grade schools.

Dr. Jack Robinson offers advice to a fourth grader who is working on an electrical experiment.

Wanda Elliott and Brenda Brown consult with TTT seminar leader Ron Cowan.

Carolyn Bergman, a TTT junior, helps a first grade student with his reading program.

Money—Grades—Enrollment

Because of the increased enrollment at Southeastern during the '71-'72 academic year, the business office handled more student transactions than ever before.

The business office not only is the place to pay, it is also the place to receive money. In addition to receiving enrollment fees, the staff is involved in issuing checks to students each month. At the present time there are nearly 700 work-study and student employees.

After approval of National Defense Loans and Lou Wentz Loans, the money is issued through the business office,

The enormous work of the office is efficiently managed by a staff of seven, directed by Ernest Ayres, manager.

It is the responsibility of the Registrar's Office to keep transcripts up-to-date and to mail a record of semester grades to every student. Transcript copies are furnished, on request, both to on-campus students and former students scattered throughout the world.

In addition, the Registrar, Leroy McClendon, and his staff advise students on matters of enrollment.

A new computer has been added to the office which will speed-up the enrollment process by doing away with class cards.

Debits—Credits—Balance

George Breeden serves Southeastern in the role of Controller. This office is in charge of all areas of accounting, including federal programs, college funds, and auxiliary enterprises.

The staff of the Controller's office records all accounting transactions of the college and prepares monthly financial reports.

Working with division chairmen and department heads, the controller prepares and maintains departmental budgets.

The primary responsibility of the purchasing department is to check and approve college purchase invoices. In addition, David Parker, purchasing agent, approves physical improvement programs and supervises the maintenance staff on the grounds and in the buildings.

One of the major projects of the year was to install new seats in the Little Theatre. A sidewalk construction project was begun during the spring semester.

Auxillary Staffs Improve Campus

Billie Bowen, Bill Morton, manager, and Geri Lane take a coffee break in the Chateau de Verre.

The auxillary staffs, directed by Bill Morton, provide a variety of student services aimed at making home-away-from-home as pleasant and comfortable as possible. Through the combined efforts of post office, book store, coffee shop dormitory, and dining hall employees, students benefit from an experienced staff of professionals.

The construction of a sidewalk cafe, as an addition to Hallie McKinney Hall, was completed early in the spring semester, which greatly increased the dining hall service. Another project, landscaping of the courtyard behind the student union, was begun during the year.

College Nurse, Elinor Trosin, offers first aid health information and counseling to all students.

Food service employees are (l-r) Anita Foster, Nellie Kistler, Nelvogene Duncan, Virgil Anderson, Mildred Koonce, and Tom Vickers, Food Service Director.

Postal Clerk Mrs. Cecil Montgomery and her assistant, Sue Tate, keep the mail moving at the SSC post office.

Leonard Porcelli, Jerry Sweeney and Betty Owens combine their efforts in managing the coffee shop.

Secretaries Are Significant

Helping students with enrollment problems is often the task of Sally Clark, Dean of Instruction Secretary.

The duties of the Southeastern secretaries are vital to the functioning of the college. Not only do they assist the faculty and administration in turning out a tremendous amount of paper work each year, they are often the students' best friends.

This year, the secretaries took part in the Christmas decorating contest and made many business offices brighter and more cheerful than usual.

The secretaries, along with the rest of the staff and faculty of Southeastern, joined in the festivities of the Christmas dinner, one of their few opportunities to get together during a busy year.

Wide Range of Special Projects at SSC

Special Projects, as the name indicates, are those programs and individual projects which do not fall in the category of regular curriculum, but are conducted by the staff and faculty of Southeastern.

Programs coming under the heading of Special Projects are: Neighborhood Youth Corp, Upward Bound, Triple T, Choctaw Bilingual Program, and Education Professions Development Act.

Special Projects also includes projects such as (1) construction of central heating plant, (2) construction and coordination of Southeastern Industrial Training Center, (3) development of driver safety education range, and (4) the renovation of the library, science-mathematics building, and Morrison Hall.

Also included are special programs under Titles I, IV, VI and the U.S. Department of Urban Transportation.

Troyce McGovern, Special Projects Director.

Dr. Hank Griffith, EPDA Specialist.

Upward Bound Offers Seven Week Program

The Upward Bound program, offering pre-liminary college instruction to promising high school students, highlighted its season with a successful summer term. A total of 50 high school juniors and seniors were involved in a seven week enrichment course on campus.

An additional 21 students were enrolled in Upward Bound's bridge program designed for students who have already earned their high school diploma. The program offers six hours of college credit to each participant. Of the 21 pre-collegians who were enrolled, 18 are currently attending college.

For those Upward Bound students who do choose post high school education, there is a continuing motivational program throughout the academic year.

Upward Bound is in its sixth year of operation at SSC, under the direction of Mrs. Jeannette Bear.

TUSC Provides Special Services

The Technology Use Studies Center, directed by Dr. C. Henry Gold, continues to disseminate information and provide technical assistance to industrial firms and other organizations in a 19-county area of Southeastern Oklahoma and a 15-county area of Northeast Texas. This dissemination and assistance service is provided to bring about the utilization of NASA-generated technology.

Information services to the faculty and students in a variety of technical disciplines at Southeastern, Oklahoma State University, the University of Oklahoma, East Texas State University, and other state colleges and universities in the project area were also provided.

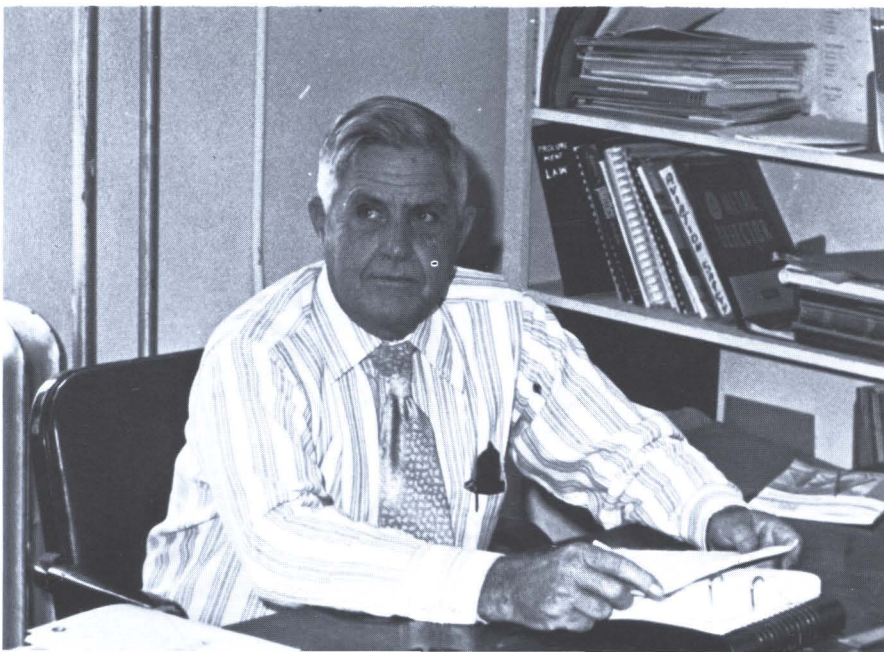

TUSC continued to work closely with other agencies and institutions, public and private, concerned with promoting the economic and technological development of the region.

“Changing World,” 1971 Homecoming Theme

Fast and furious defense was exhibited by SSC against Nationally Rated Cameron State College.

Rocking out to the sound of the band, Alumni and Students “get with the beat.”

Adding variety to the parade action, Jackie Schaefer moseys through town on horseback.

For the grand finale of the Homecoming Revue the five finalist stand for the judges.

Adding rythm to the march of the parade was the Shawnee Highschool Band.

Ringng chants of spirit throughout the town, SSC cheerleaders encourage support for the team.

The Holiday Season at SSC

Nancy Morgan poses in the center of the plaster nativity scene which was created by art instructor Montee Hoke and some of his art students.

Christmas '71 was filled with joy and tears, fun and hard work. The fun of the festive occasion unfolded with the first annual pole wrapping contest. All the decorating on campus was done by students and faculty, competing to win prize money in a contest sponsored by the Faculty Dames.

The SSC concert band presented a program of Christmas music. The Chorale, speech department and brass band combined their talents for the annual Candle-lighting ceremony.

Christmas graduation was a melancholy time for saying good-bye to old friends—139 of them.

Christmas came, ready or not, and was followed by a six weeks break which afforded many students the time for a "long winter's nap."

The Church of Christ Bible Chair sponsors a Christmas party for local elementary children.

Chip Fox is precariously balanced on a shaky ladder during the pole wrapping contest.

The Christmas dinner for all dormitory residents is one of the most popular meals of the year at SSC.

The fountain in front of Morrison Hall takes on a festive look during the holiday season.

The Chorale, under the direction of Bob Pratt, entertains at the annual Candlelighting ceremony.

Woody Allen's farce comedy "Don't Drink The Water" takes place inside an American Embassy behind the Iron Curtain. An American tourist, caterer by trade, and his wife and daughter rush into the embassy two steps ahead of the Communist police who suspect them of spying and picture-taking. But it's not much of a refuge, for the ambassador is absent and his son now in charge, has been expelled from a dozen countries and the whole continent of Africa. Nevertheless, they carefully and frantically plot their escape.

The ambassador's son and Walter's daughter, Ed Byrd and Jane Ann Looney, fall in love in spite of the predicament they're in.

Walter and the embassy chef, Andy Riddle, become involved in a dispute over the menu, while the priest, Howard Starks, reassures Walter's wife.

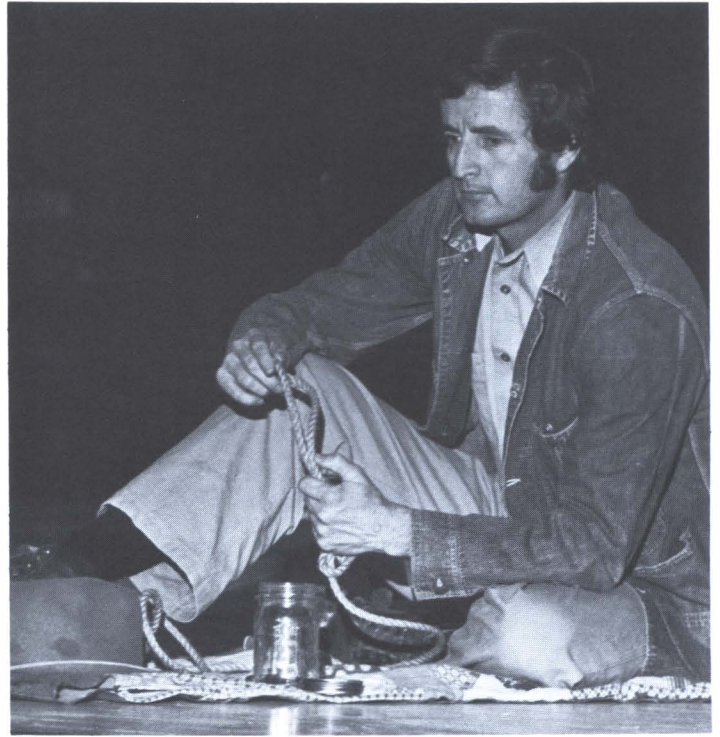

Dean Spears as Walter, the American tourist, panics and almost fires at Glen Burke, who portrays an embassy official.

Tippy, a ten year old border collie, and Candy, played by Don Hill, both make their stage debut in the Steinbeck play.

Charles Warthen, as George, was named best actor for his performance in the regional competition of the ACTF at Ft. Worth

“Of Mice and Men”

The SSC drama department's presentation, “Of Mice and Men,” directed by Dave Cook, brought national honor to Southeastern when it was named as one of the nation's top ten college plays.

During the fall semester the play was entered in the American College Theatre Festival (ACTF). The SSC production was judged best at the state level and went on to compete with plays from Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas and New Mexico.

At the regional level, the SSC entry won the honor of participating in the ACTF in Washington, D.C. In addition, Charles Warthen won the Irene Ryan Scholarship for best performance. Dr. Frank Wade, Don Hill, Paul King and John Waggoner won Acting Excellence Awards.

In April the play was presented in the John F. Kennedy Center of the Performing Arts in the nation's capital.

Starks Directs - Cooks Star

Eleanor gives comfort to her husband, King Henry, as Princess Alais watches anxiously.

Richard attempts to physically prove to his brother John that he is the best son for the throne.

Geoffrey and his mother plan to deceive their family with treacherous plans of war in alliance with King Phillip.

"The Lion in Winter," directed by Howard Starks, deals with an imaginary event in the lives of genuine historical personages—Henry II, Eleanor of Aquitaine and their three sons. However, it is not an historical play in the usual sense of that term. It deals with people, not history, and specifically, it deals with the tangled confusions, loves, pains and comedies of a family.

Will Alais remain Henry's mistress or become his queen? This is one of many questions that Henry must answer.

“Get It Together” ’72 Scandals’ Theme

“Get It Together” was the theme of the 1972 Savage Scandals. Directed by Marshall Viney, the variety show emphasis was on rock and soul music.

The student senate sponsored the Scandals, with Katie Frank Slack acting as faculty sponsor, Joe Bob Burton served as music director with Secialue Porter heading the choreography.

Some of the members of the SSC folk singing group accompany Anthony Jeffrey in the chorus of “Amen.”

Crentha Butler shares her talent with a receptive audience as she belts out “Oh Me, Oh My.”

Guitarist Mark Lindsay plays the beautiful, but difficult number “Classical Gas.”

Scandals Director Marshall Viney expresses his appreciation to the performers and the audience.

Senate Sponsors Activities

The SSC Student Senate, acting as a liason between students and administration, is dedicated to enriching campus life.

The Senate, led by president Steve Barker, sponsored many of the homecoming activities—the queen contest and revue, the parade, half-time activities and the homecoming dance at the National Guard Armory.

Among the most popular movies shown on campus, through the efforts of the Senate, were “Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid,” “Kelly’s Heroes,” and “Paint Your Wagon.”

Campus organizations compete for the spirit trophy, another Senate-supported project, by backing SSC teams in athletic contests.

Spring activities included Sadie Hawkins Week and the Savage Scandals, both backed by the Student Senate.

Steve Barker, serves as Student Senate President, working closely with students, teachers and administrators.

Dr. Krattiger, Student Senate Advisor, and Betty Jackson attend the weekly senate meeting.

A spring concert, featuring the popular musical group Bread, is one of the proposals of the Senate.

One of the Senate's major projects—Sadie Hawkins Week—requires careful planning, imagination and hard work.

The Southeastern Informs

Jim McGowen, editor, works hard to complete a deadline for the weekly collegiate paper, The Southeastern.

THE SOUTHEASTERN once again monitored the thoughts of the SSC student body. Editorial statements helped to secure several changes in the physical appearance of the campus and thought-provoking statements in the "HOW ABOUT?" column provided the groundwork for a slight change in student opinion.

With a staff of strictly student help, under the direction of Jim McGowen, editor, they served to inform, enlighten and entertain throughout the academic year. Both the amusing and the tragic had their place in the six page weekly.

Production of the newspaper encompassed many long hours' work for staff writers and make-up crews. Photographers sometimes traded sleep for more time to make newspaper pictures better than ever.

Advisors Kenneth Nichols and later Tommy Quaid were there to direct the newspaper. Lights in the office were burning well into the night at frequent intervals during the academic year. And all was done in an attempt to make a readable and interesting newspaper for the students, faculty and alumni of SSC.

Circulation manager, Terry Rider, is in charge of mailing newspaper to subscribers as well as state schools.

Jan Meadows feature editor, and Carrie Fisher, advertising manager, look over the newspaper layout before sending it to press.

Yearbook-Blood, Sweat and Tears

All hands are busy as the staff works to complete each of the deadlines for the '72 Savage.

The 1972 Savage, under the direction of Marsha Regan, editor, and Billie Letts, advisor, was the largest yearbook ever presented to the student body of Southeastern. The emphasis in the 336 page book was on creativity and imagination. Original art work was incorporated into the Savage, principally on the division pages.

The theme of the book—In Just One Year—was selected because of the versatility it offered the copy writers and photographers. The purpose was to record not only the highlights of the academic year at Southeastern, but the major events on the local, national and international levels.

A new section was added&The Savage Congratulates—two pages devoted to the recognition of outstanding students at SSC. The addition of the graduate student section was another first.

Billie Letts and Mike Sloan use their creative writing ability with copy and cutlines.

Kathy Wells, Sherry Hollan, and Wilda Cross check their records for Jack Younger to take Honors Section Pictures.

Phillip Black, Billie Letts, Connie Alexander, and Carrie Schultz work to compile the Organization Section.

Al Packard, Closing Section Editor, checks news information for copy and pictures to go in the Synopsis.

Lynda Garrett, Rita Grego, and Beverly Scott check and sort the pictures for the Class Section.

SSC Band Bigger Than Ever

Ron Goddard and Sudie Gregory work out a "rough" spot for an upcoming concert.

The 1972 Savage Band, directed by Ronald Goddard, was the largest ever assembled at SSC. The 60 members came from a wide variety of geographical areas, represented major programs from almost every department on campus, and included beginners as well as accomplished musicians.

The concert band presented three major programs during the year, playing everything from traditional to avant guard. The brass choir was featured at the Candlelighting ceremonies.

Various band members were featured at student recitals held twice a month.

The marching band performed at home football games and on one occasion delighted the crowd with a kazoo concert. The pep band added an essential element to the spirit of the SSC basketball games.

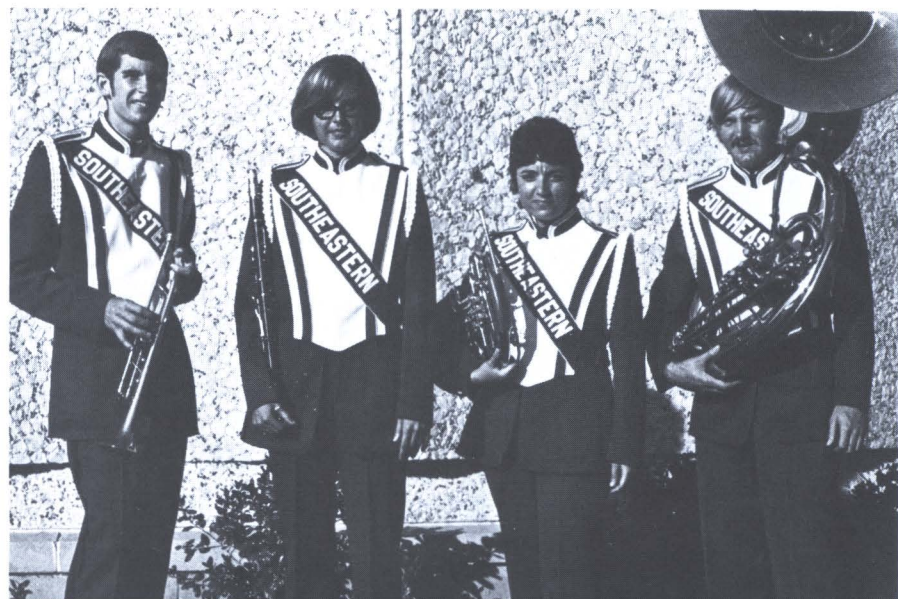

Ben Butler is waiting anxiously for that one opportunity . . . his big moment.

Kathy Taylor, Bill Sharp and Rita Grego very intently are rehearsing for another S.S.C. football game.

Joe Bob Burton, Donna Halley, Jane Yost, and Eddie Sharp proudly display their new uniforms.

Debators Travel 14,000 Miles

The 1971-72 Southeastern State debate squad traveled over 14,000 miles in one of the most successful debate seasons in several years.

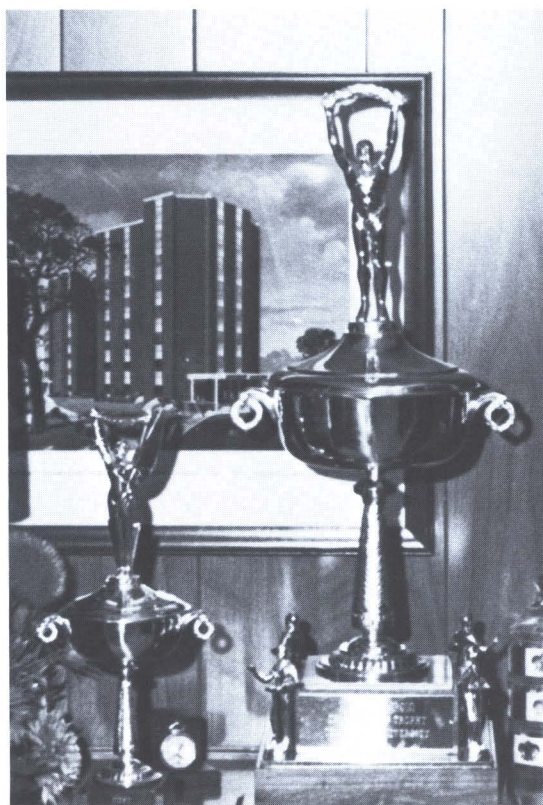

By the beginning of the spring semester, C.W. Mangrum had coached his debators to two first place finishes, two second places, three thirds and three fourths. They had a cumulative total of 17 trophies.

The team of Rick Hooper and Jimmie Holloway won first places at Texas Tech university and Central State University. They finished second at the University of Texas as well as third at Lamar Tech University and Kansas State College. The team has also received individual awards. Jimmie Holloway was top speaker at Lamar Tech and second at the University of Texas. Rick Hooper was second speaker at Lamar Tech.

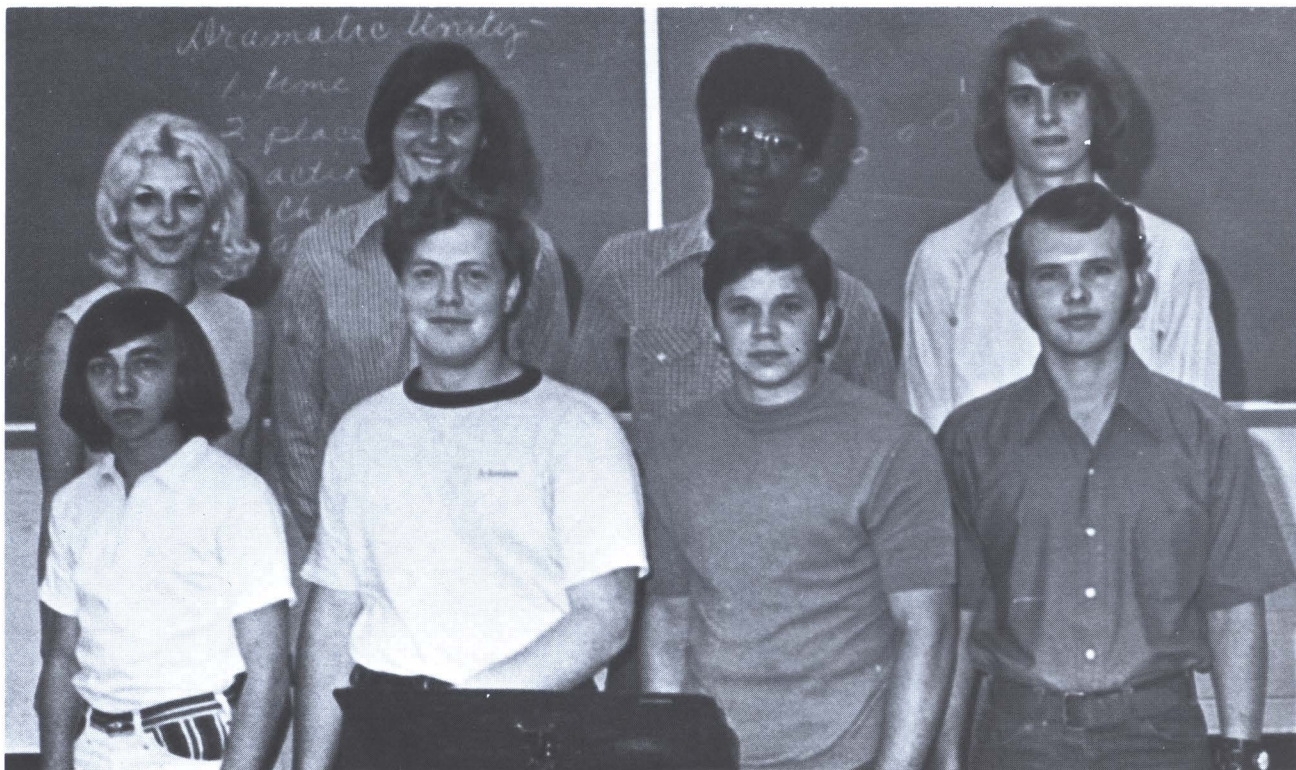

The team of Fred Collins and Gary Kennedy won a second place at Northwestern State College and third at Central State University.

Other members of the squad are Sammie Holloway, Terry Harper, John Troop, Mike Dawson, and John Maberry.

One team will participate in the six state District #4 Tournament which determines if SSC will travel to Salt Lake City for the National Debate, tournament consisting of 52 teams from across the nation.

The first place trophy (center) won at the Texas Tech University tournament, is on display in Dr. Hibbs' office.

Majorettes Display Southeastern's Pride

The Southeastern majorettes kept a very tight schedule performing with the band during the year. Performances included pep rallies, twirling at the football games and performing at half-time activities. The golden girls also marched in parades and attended concerts and tours with the band.

Becky Tomme displays her twirling ability for football fans during half-time entertainment.

Spirit Leaders Strive for Savage Support

The year of 71-72 was kept full of spirit by the cheerleaders and the Savage mascot. Attending all home and away games was just part of the duties of the Spirit Team, Pep Rallys, making signs, decorating and practicing took a lot of time. Spirit was the main goal of the cheerleaders. They strived for student support of the teams as the mascot helped to create enthusiasm at the games.

Creating school spirit and helping the cheerleaders is Savage Mascot, Bill Tsoodle.

SENSATIONS

1971 Savage pitching staff (l-r) David Ward, Keith Hardcastle, Danny Neighbors, Danny Wright, Kenny Young, Carroll Scott, and Riggy Thomas.

Displaying concern for Savage baseball is not uncommon for Southeastern on such a beautiful afternoon.

Shortstop Larry Wills has an easy trip around the bases and scores against Bishop College.

Southeastern Second in OCC

The '71 Savages produced the best won-lost season in the history of Southeastern baseball, with an overall record of 31-6 and a 12-4 mark in the Oklahoma Collegiate Conference. The Savages made a strong run for a third consecutive OCC crown. However, the loss of a double-header late in the season to Oklahoma Baptist prevented the diamondmen from repeating their title.

Under the leadership of coach Don Parham and graduate assistant, Tim Hardesty, Southeastern won several double-headers including twin-bills with TCU at Fort Hays, Kansas, and the University of Nebraska at Omaha.

DATE	SSC	OPPONENT

May 1	1-7	Oklahoma Baptist University	2-8

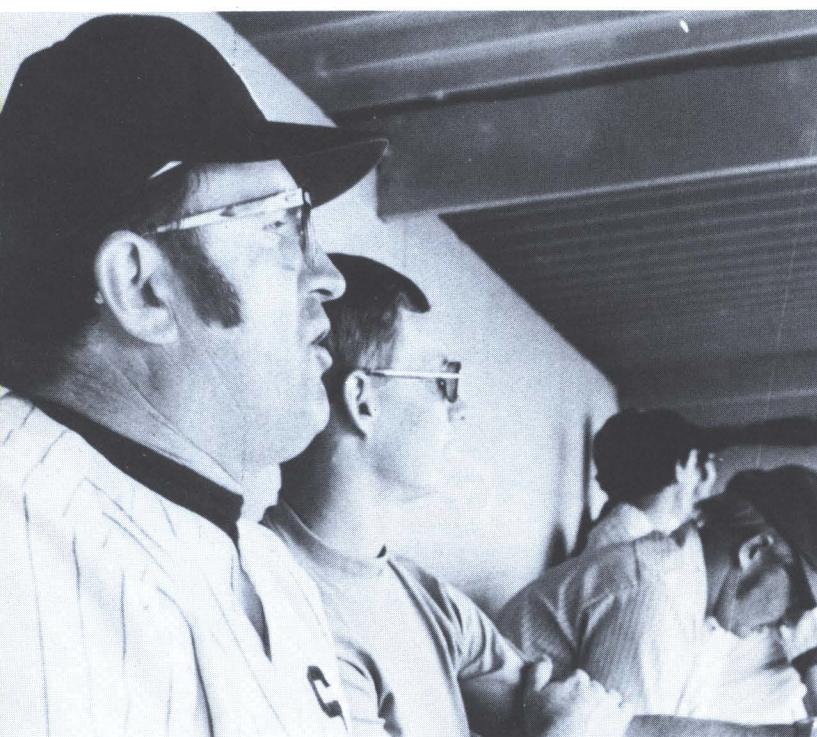

David Ward makes the out at second base while Teddy Cooper backs him up in the OBU game.

Danny Neighbors scores against Ft. Hays after hitting another home run and is greeted by his teammates.

Diamondmen Finish Third in NAIA

Headed by a team batting average of .296, the Savages produced many outstanding statistics to compliment their excellent record.

Among the starters, shortstop Larry Wills led all hitters with a .354 average, followed closely by Richard Payne (.347) and David Ward (.338).

The pitching department had an earned run average of 1.47—fifth in the NAIA. Riggy Thomas, ace southpaw for the Savages, produced a 7-0 won-loss record, a 1.00 ERA, and a .391 batting average.

Defense won many close games for the baseballers. With a team fielding average of .967, and a double-play total of 16, Southeastern finished third in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics.

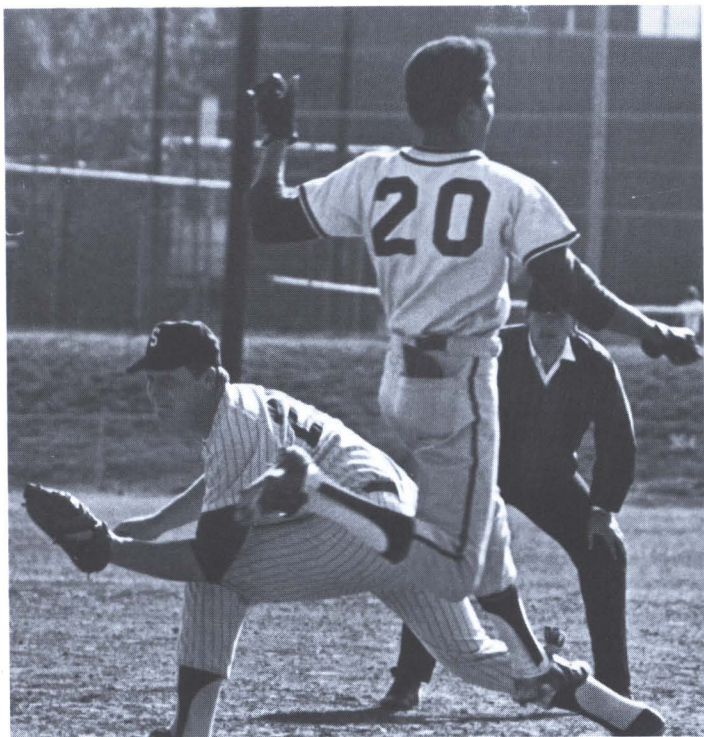

Coach Parham waits in the dugout while the Savages work against Langston for three more outs.

Keith Hardcastle is welcomed at home plate by David Ward as he scores against OBU.

Sliding home to score another point against Bishop College is the Savage third baseman Jerre Algeo.

David Ward, Southeastern's Outstanding Player of the Year, awaits an oncoming ball for an out.

David Robertson scores for Southeastern as this Northeastern catcher desperately tries to meet the ball.

Several honors followed the SSC baseball season for '71. David Ward, Savage first baseman, received Southeastern's "Athlete of the Year" nomination for his outstanding performance on the field and in the classroom.

Six SSC players were selected as all-conference choices. These included Ward, pitchers Riggy Thomas and Danny Wright, shortstop Larry Wills, and outfielders, Keith Hardcastle and Richard Payne.

But the Achievement of a 31-6 mark was a great honor in itself.

Members of the 1971 baseball team are (front, l-r) C.T. Hurd, Craig Taliaferro, Teddy Cooper, Paul Lance, Jerre Algeo, Riggy Thomas, David Robertson, Keith Harcastle, Carroll Scott; (row 2) Asst. Coach Tim Hardesty, David Ward, Larry

Jerre Algeo slides into home giving SSC the score and this OBU catcher a headache.

Coach Dyer helps Dwight Nuckolls perfect the style that took him to the Nationals.

Phil Carter prepares to return a serve at the Nationals in Kansas City.

Larry Horn has his eye on the ball as he returns with a forehand drive.

Netmen Win 11th Consecutive OCC Title

Dwight Nuckolls displays the effect of a lefty serve at the Nationals.

Southeastern's 1971 netmen broke loose with a 16-6 season record, clinching the Oklahoma Eastern Division Championship by defeating Oklahoma Baptist University of Shawnee. They continued their rampage with a decisive victory of the Oklahoma Collegiate Conference crown.

At the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics Tennis Championships at Kansas City, Missouri, the netmen took the fourth spot in the country.

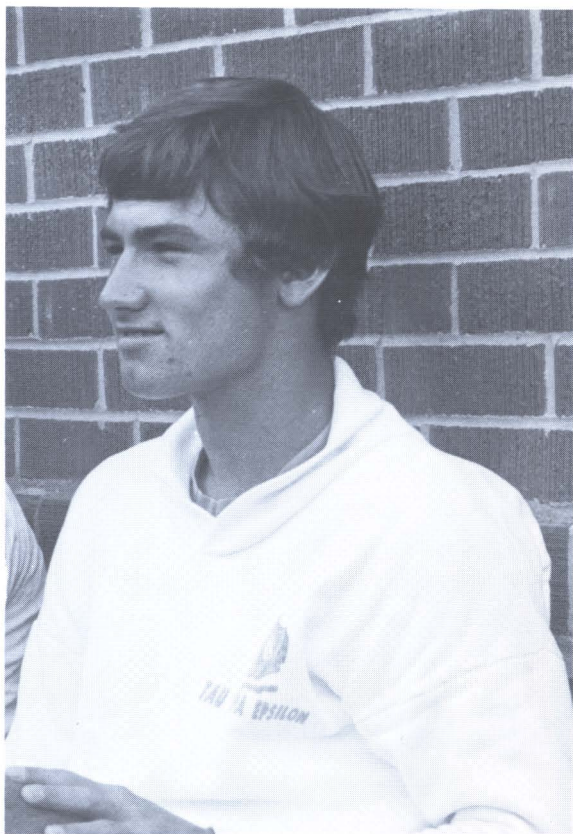

Seven members comprised Coach Clarence Dyer's team of '71, who kept alive the winning tradition that has been a trademark of the veteran coach.

The netmen defeated such notable tennis schools as; North Texas State, Baylor University, Oklahoma State, and Tulsa University to complete another successful year.

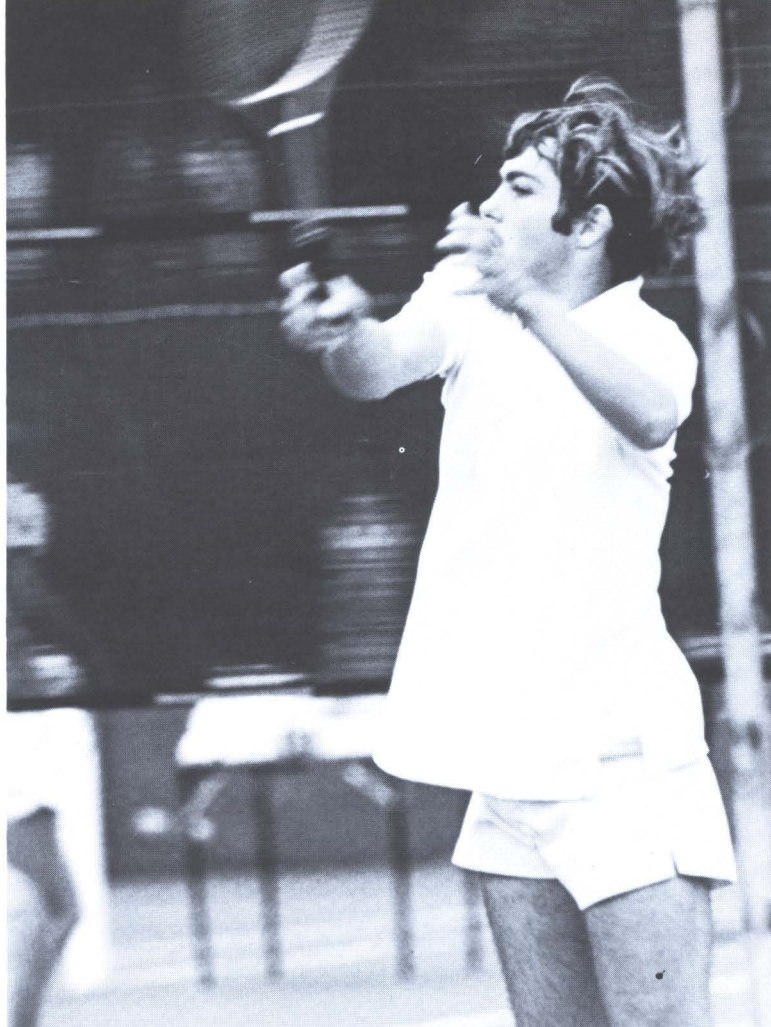

Phil Carter, Mark Milligan, Ron Sharp, Larry Horn, Dwight Nuckolls and Kimm Ketelson clear the net at the Nationals.

Ron Sharp watches his teammates with approval as they push for another Oklahoma Collegiate Conference victory.

Smashing another forehand drive at the tennis tournament in Kansas City is Kimm Ketelson.

Using good offensive strategy to return a high lob is Mark Milligan at Kansas City.

Phil Carter	20	6-0	155	Soph.	Henryetta
Larry Jack Horn	20	5-9	150	Soph.	Vian
Richard Sasser	23	6-0	170	Fr.	Lawton

Kimm Ketelson won the Oklahoma singles crown while Phil Carter and Mark Milligan nabbed the doubles title.

Mark Milligan led the Savages with the seasons best win-loss record standing 17-5. Carter and Milligan led in doubles ending the season with a 15-5 record.

Tim Brown, freshman from Lubbock, Texas, was fatally injured in an automobile accident March 21, which marred the year for the tennis team. Before his death, Brown had compiled the best win-loss record for the season, standing 5-2 while playing the number two spot. The netmen dedicated their victories for the remaining season to his memory.

Eric Reubin places the baton securely in the hands of Clarence Hudson in the 440 relay.

Nelson McKinney clears the last hurdle on his way to another winning performance.

Charles Gulley Wins OCC 100-Yard Dash

SSC's cindermen finished fourth in the Oklahoma Collegiate Conference track event held at Northeastern. Charles Gulley, 5'11" sophomore, won the first place medal in the 100 yard dash.

On April 17, the cindermen participated in the Austin College Invitational Meet at Sherman, Texas. In the 440 relay, the team combined for a 42 second timing. Charles Gulley recieved second place honors in the 100 yard dash and was awarded third place in the 220.

The mile relay team ran third, while Dennis May took fourth in intermediate hurdles.

T. Gerard Sets New SSC Two-Mile Record

Southeastern's Savage cindermen participated in eight invitational meets in 1971 at which time the individual records paced their efforts to higher standings.

Freshman Terry Gerard broke Southeastern's school record in the two-mile run at Austin College, as SSC ran a single point out of third place.

Clarence Hudson clinched first place, winning the 440 intermediate hurdles in 56.6 seconds. Larry Neighbors was fourth in the pole vault, leaping 12'6". Gerald Watson placed fourth in the two-mile run, while Jerry DeMoss finished fourth in the 880, then took fifth in the mile.

Terry Gerard reaches the finish line at the Austin College meet and sets a new SSC school record in the two-mile run.

Macejewski Sets New OCC Passing Record

Carl Finnie no. 32 had a great day against East Central, rushing 178 yards in 27 carries.

1971 was a year for rebuilding and that was exactly what Coach Duke Christian in his first year as head football coach had in mind from the beginning for his young team. In the Oklahoma Collegiate Conference, Coach Christian had eleven returning lettermen, offensively and defensively, to build on. The season ended with one win, Langston 20- SSC 28, but every opponent knew that the Savages had come to play the game.

Junior-transfer quarterback, Johnny Macejewski, set a new OCC passing record in the Southeastern-Panhandle clash. Macejewski completed 20 in 38 attempts for a new passing record of 390 yards for three touchdowns.

End Mike Bundy was an All-Conference team choice for 1971, while hard-hitting Clarence Hudson was named for the third straight year to the second team.

Saturday, September 11, SSC vs Southern Arkansas. SSC bounced back from a 0-9 deficit to a 6-9 halftime score, then gutted it to a 13-9 lead over the Muleriders with only 38 seconds left in the game. The spoil of the comeback was a 75 yard run from a punt formation that resulted in a chilling 15-13 Mulerider win with only a few short seconds left in the game.

Mike Bundy no. 25, an All-Conference choice for 1971, catches another Southeastern touchdown pass.

End, Mike Bundy, slips while trying to defend a Lion during SSC's 28-20 win over Langston.

After making substantial yardage gain, the Henderson defense rapidly closes in on Lavon Hicks.

Savage Gridiron Defeats Langston 28-20

Offensive tackle no. 74, Dennis Parker, watches Southeastern State's defensive unit from the sidelines.

fell to the Ouchita Tigers 20-7. SSC scored first in the game, but the Tigers retaliated to make it 7-7. With 3:40 left in the second period, a John Taylor punt was run back for the score making another Savage heartbreak. That was not the only big play for the Tigers who snatched a Southeastern fumble and ran it 86 yards for the final score.

Saturday, September 18, SSC vs Ouachita Baptist. For the second straight game, big plays sealed the fate of the Savages as they fell to the Ouchita Tigers 20-7. SSC scored first in the game, but the Tigers retaliated to make it 7-7. With 3:40 left in the second period, a John Taylor punt was run back for the score making another Savage heartbreak. That was not the only big play for the Tigers who snatched a Southeastern fumble and ran it 86 yards for the final score.

Saturday, September 25, SSC vs Henderson. Johnny Macejewski passed for 112 yards and hit Mike Bundy for the Savage touchdown, but the Reddies were able to wrap up the game 13-7 rolling up 33 yards on the ground, and ending SSC's non-conference schedule.

Saturday October 2, SSC vs Southwestern. The Bulldogs had little difficulty subduing the Savages in their first OCC game of the season with a 40-0 victory.

Saturday, October 9, SSC vs East Central. The Savages gave the fans something to cheer about as they faced their old rival on enemy soil. SSC offense rolled up 33 points, but the Tigers kept any victory chances ending up with 41 points.

Saturday October 16, SSC vs Langston. Southeastern got its first taste of victory after five in a row by defeating the Lions 28-20. Macejewski found an open target in Charles Gulley who sailed two Savage touchdowns.

The hoofs fly up and down goes the Central State Bronco with an SSC Savage on his back.

Sophomore Halfback no. 21, Dusty Martin, moves in on the solid tackle of a Panhandle State Aggie.

Finding open holes to get the needed yardage is a specialty of no. 24, Lavon Hicks.

Fight to the End-Theme of the Savages

iant struggle only to find themselves behind 34-21 at the end of the game.

Saturday October 23, SSC vs Northwestern. The Savages traveled to Alva and put together a game that was hard to forget. SSC played their best game as a complete team and put up a valiant struggle, only to find themselves behind 34-21 at the end of the game.

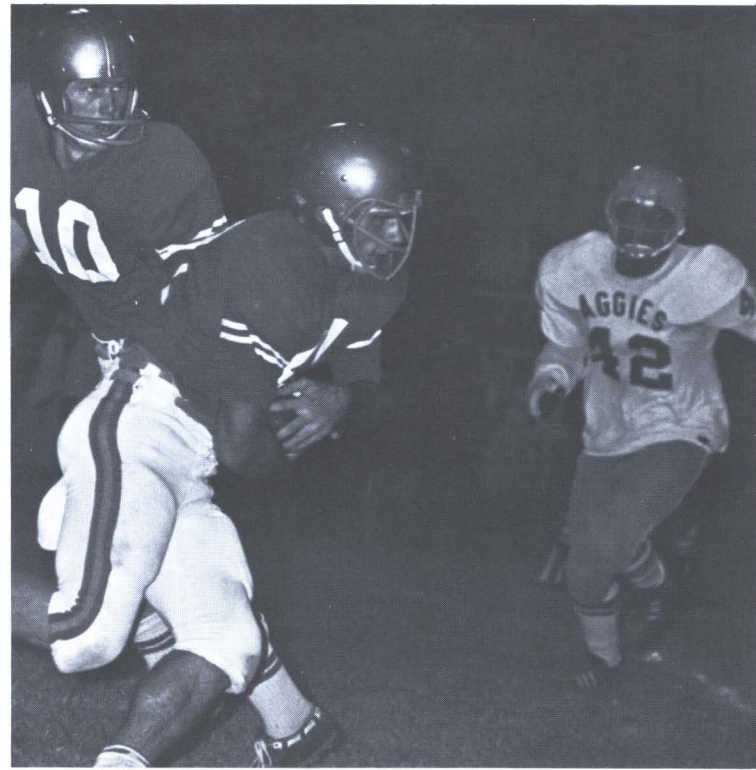

Saturday, October 30. Homecoming fans certainly got their money's worth as the Savages turned in a great effort and battled the mighty Aggies down to the final 13 seconds before bowing on a 42 yard field goal to lose it 0-3, on a day when both defensive units outdid themselves.

Saturday, November 6, SSC vs Central State, to the Savages everlasting credit. They did not quit, even after doing themselves in early—they hung in there and battled the nationally ranked Broncos on better than even terms to a 34-21 loss.

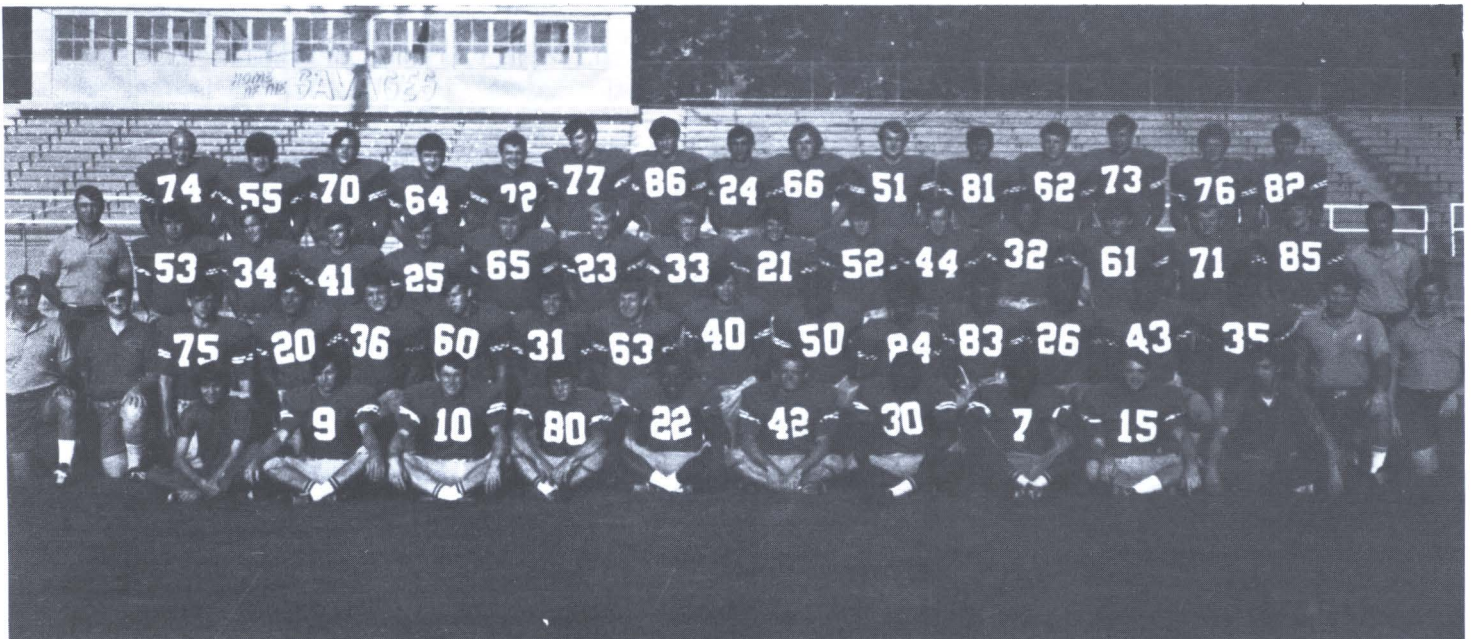

Saturday November 13, SSC vs Panhandler State. It was a showcase night for Southeastern even though they failed to break into the win column. They outpassed the leading passer in the nation, but the Aggies nabbed the win 48-33.

Saturday November 20, SSC vs Northeastern. It was the last game for the season and the Savages wanted the win, but their efforts ending up in a heartbreaking lose of 17-7.

Battling to the end was a trademark of the year's ballclub—there was no giving up, no letting down and no matter the score or the time left to play, the team just didn't quit!

SSC quarterback, Johnny Macejewski, no. 10, hands-off to Lavon Hicks to run the play up the middle.

Pushing no. 25 Mike Bundy into the ball is a Henderson Reddie who got away with the misdeed.

Coaches Christian and Reneau watch from the sidelines as Mike Bundy scores another SSC touchdown.

Savages Dominate in Home Opener

George Neff (24) claims a key rebound in the Savage's home opener against Southern U. of New Orleans.

Southeastern's aggressive Savages proved early what kind of a season its fans had to look forward to. During their first home game they romped to an impressive 119-92 victory over Southern U. of New Orleans.

The following weekend SSC bowed, 72-71, to a fired-up Southwestern State club only to bounce back and knock off the Aggies of Cameron, 87-82, which were the preseason favorite to capture the Oklahoma Collegiate Conference crown.

With Southeastern leading, 71-70, Southwestern's Jimmy Callen hit the front end of a pressure shot and one free throw with only nine seconds remaining in the game to give the defending co-champion Bulldogs its superslim victory in the conference opener over the Savages.

At Cameron the Savages found themselves trailing by seven points at the half and decided that they weren't going to give it away like they did in the Southwestern game the night before.

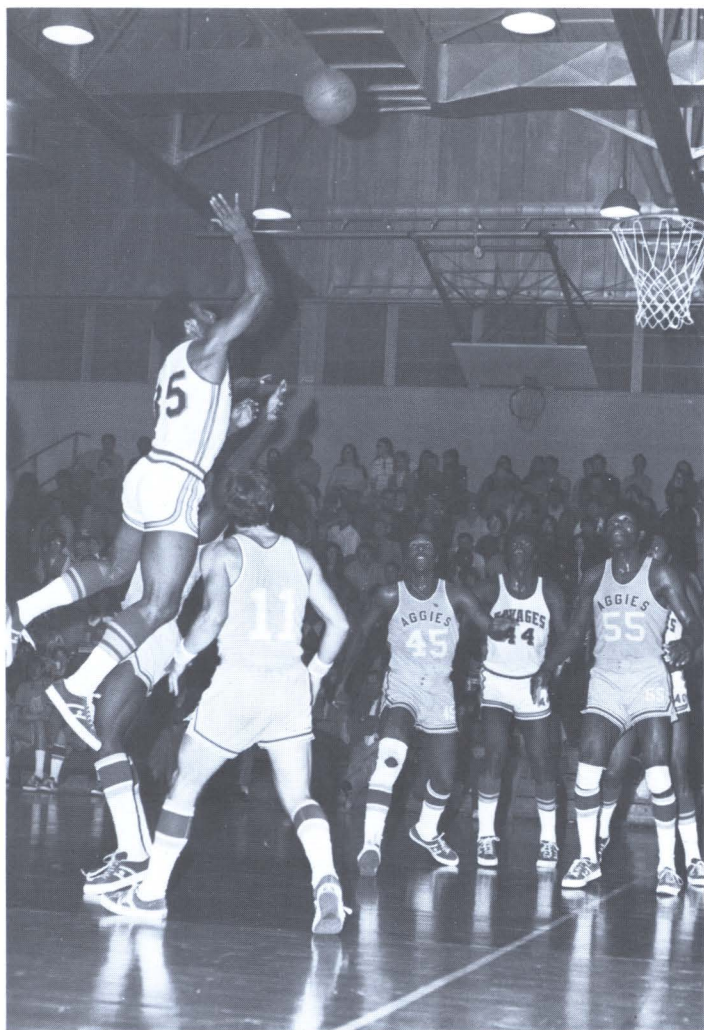

With 12 minutes left on the clock Savage George Neff hit from the baseline to put SSC into a slim two point lead at 59-57.

Standing 1-1 in conference play the Savages would journey home to an important four game OCC home-stand playing Phillips, East Central, Northeastern State, and Oklahoma Baptist University.

Peterson shows style with this jumper in Southeastern's 87-72 victory over Cameron State.

"Here Benji, take it." Jimmy Williams (10) completes this pass to Paschal during the Ranger game.

Transfers Supply Crucial Spark in Savage Victory

Transfers provided the necessary spark which enabled the basketball team, to compile the best season record witnessed by a team in five years.

Late in the season five transfers held a starting role for the Savages—Nate Harris, Tobey Kendrick, Benji Paschal, Marion Peterson and Jimmy Williams.

Harris transferred to SSC from Oral Roberts University while Kendrick and Paschal joined the Savage Squad from Dekalb Junior College, Atlanta, Georgia.

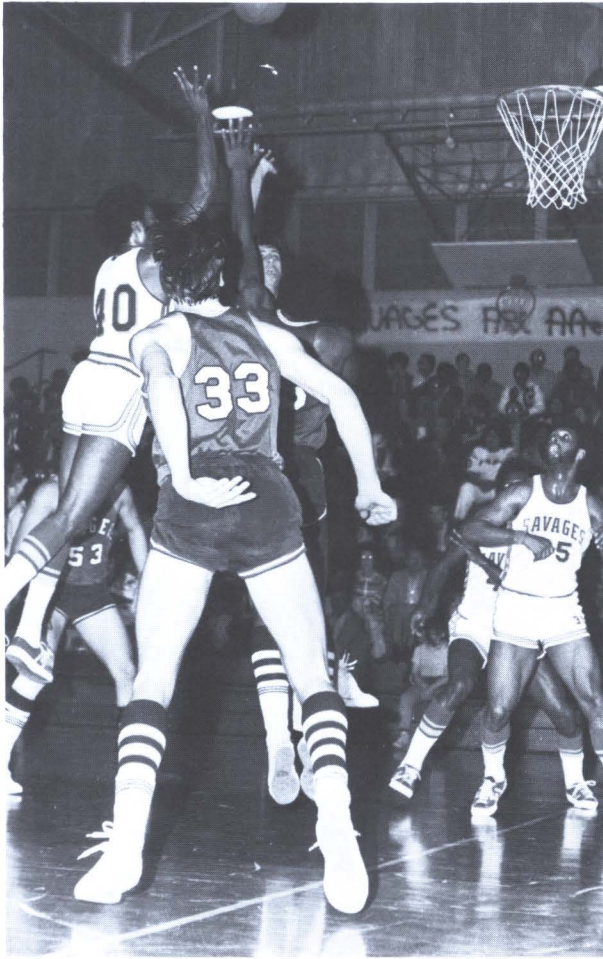

Peterson transferred from Murray State Junior College and Williams journeyed from Conners Junior College.

A freshman from Star Spencer High School in Oklahoma City, George Neff, also has been action as a starter for SSC this season. Neff was an all-conference selection three times and gained the title of all state his senior year.

Paschal and Williams were all conference selections during a junior college reign while Kendrick was all-American and voted the outstanding player in Georgia.

SSC Respected by Conference Foes

Harris gets this shot off as Peterson waits for the rebound in the Savage victory over Northwestern.

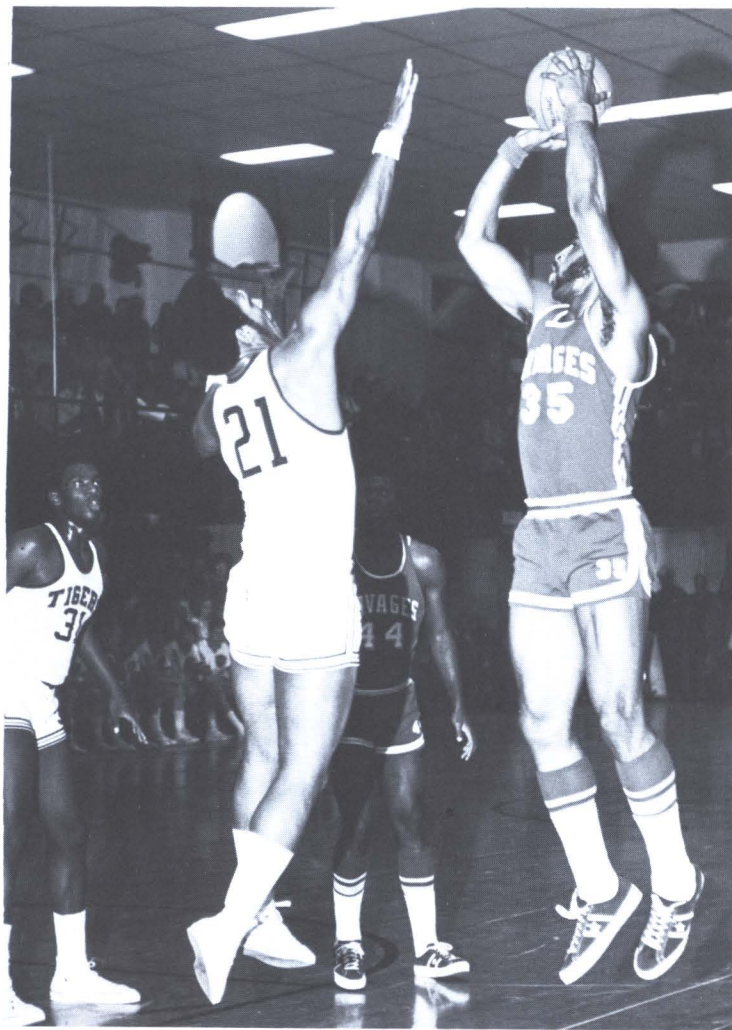

Kendrick does charge but also receives two points in his effort on this shot against Cameron.

Peterson fights a Bison for this rebound in the Savage's 93-85 loss to Oklahoma Baptist University.

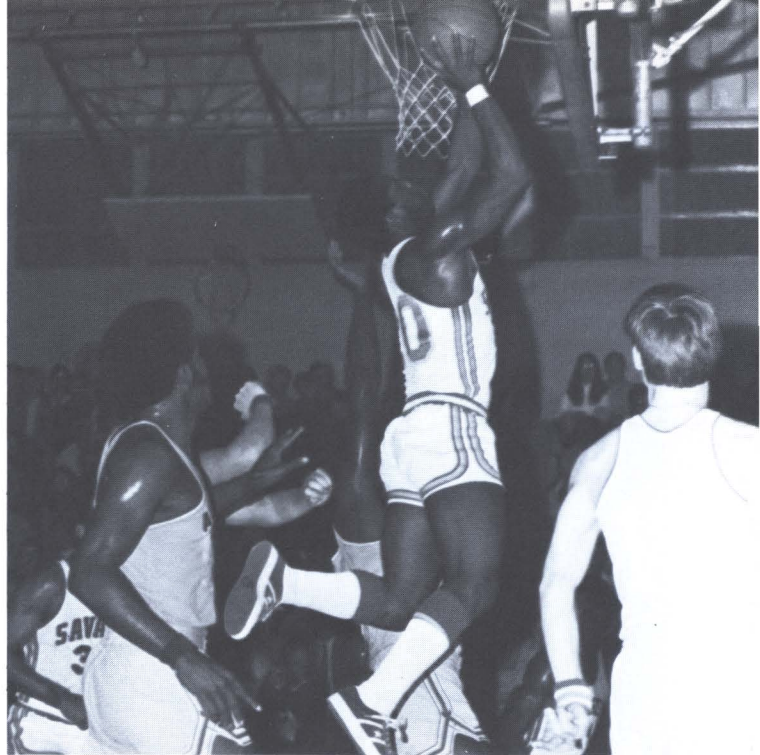

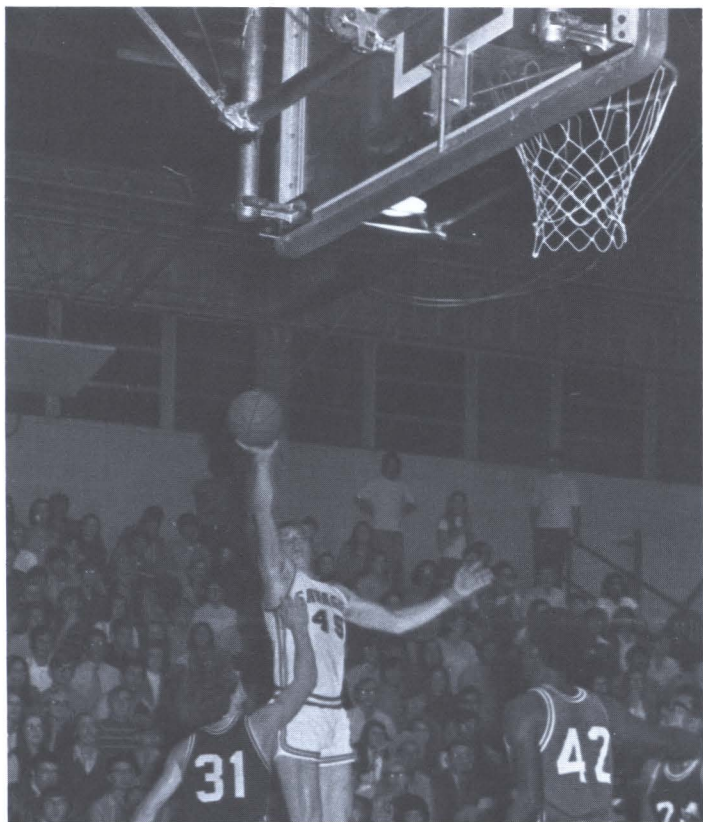

Peterson (35) makes it look easy as he arches this shot over East Central's Larry Hardeman.

Guy Berry (45) displays his one hand style with this two-pointer against Phillips.

At 5'9" Benji Paschall leaps high for this layup in the Savages victory over Cameron State.

SSC Roundballers Impressive in League Play

Savage's Berry (45), Kendrick (44), and Peterson (35) have this Phillips U. player under control.

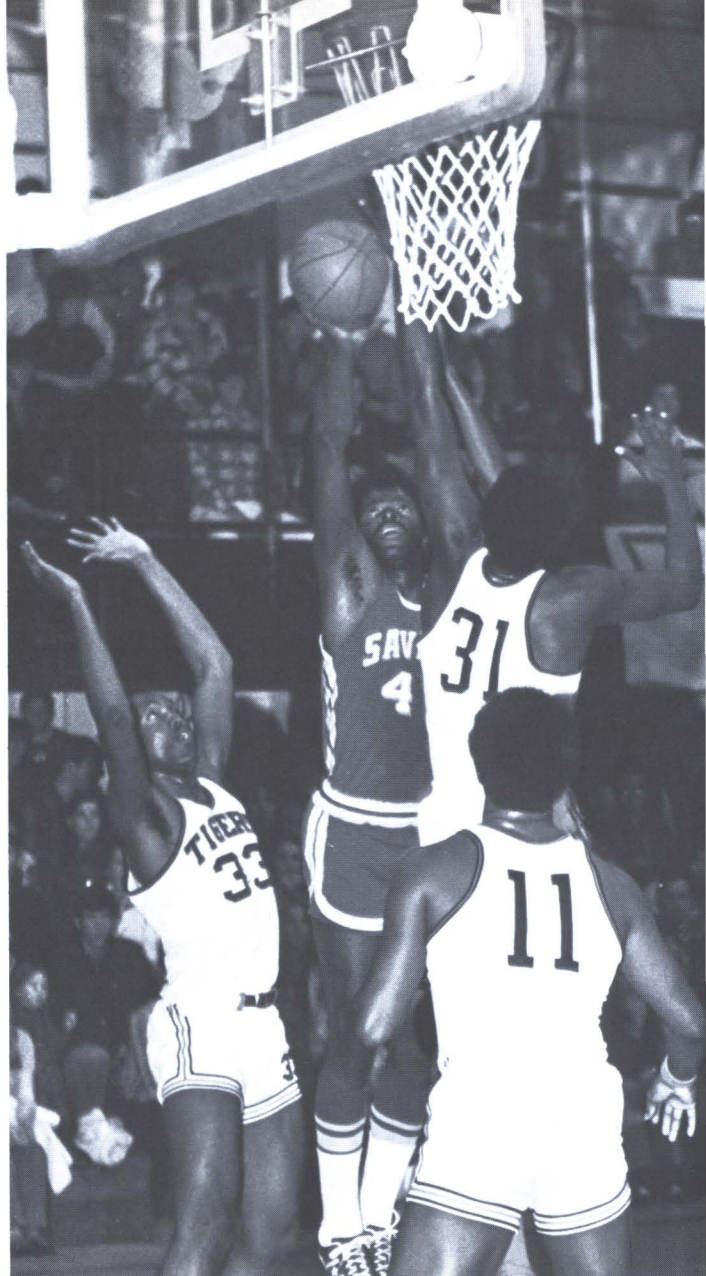

Neff is high above the rim on this shot against the Tigers of East Central State.

Arch Rival Tigers Upend Savages in Late League Outing

Being surrounded by a band of Tigers didn't stop Kendrick from getting this shot off.

Jim Byrd (41) and Peterson (35) look on as the opposition begins a fast break.

Savages Shock OBU, Northeastern

Southeastern's upset-minded Savages rattled, shocked and blistered King's Row late in the season when Northeastern State fell 82-75, and OBU came out on the short end of a 68-66 overtime defeat.

On a Friday night the Savages upset the league-leading Redmen and to rub salt in the wound, did the job on the Redmen's home court.

Coach Davis summed it up when he said, "We hit at critical times, stayed on the boards with them, got some key rebounds, and just played a good overall game."

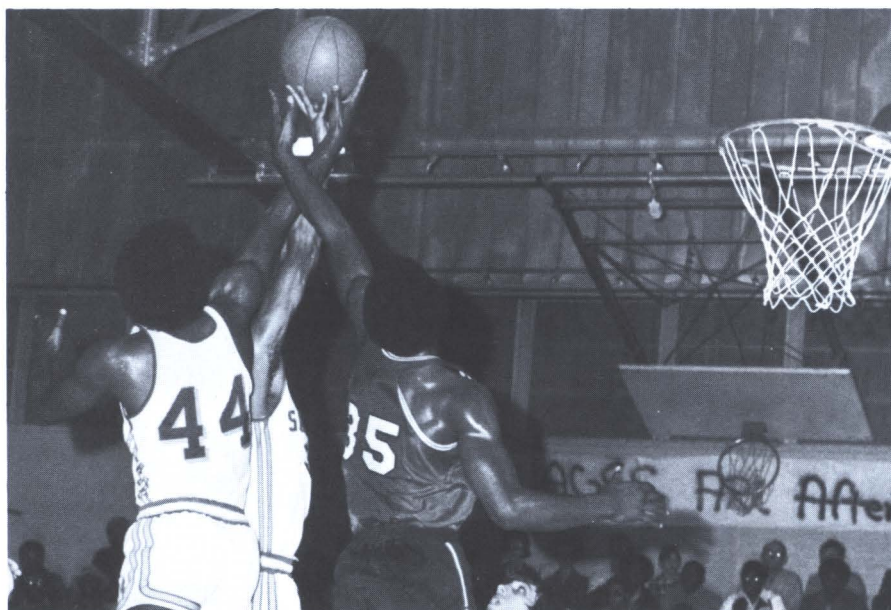

Kendrick led the Savage attack with 20 points, followed by Benji Paschal with 16, Harris and Williams with 13 each, Peterson 12 and Neff rounded out the scoring with eight.

OSU lost its heartbreaker to the Savages when Toby Kendrick swished the net with seven seconds left in the overtime victory.

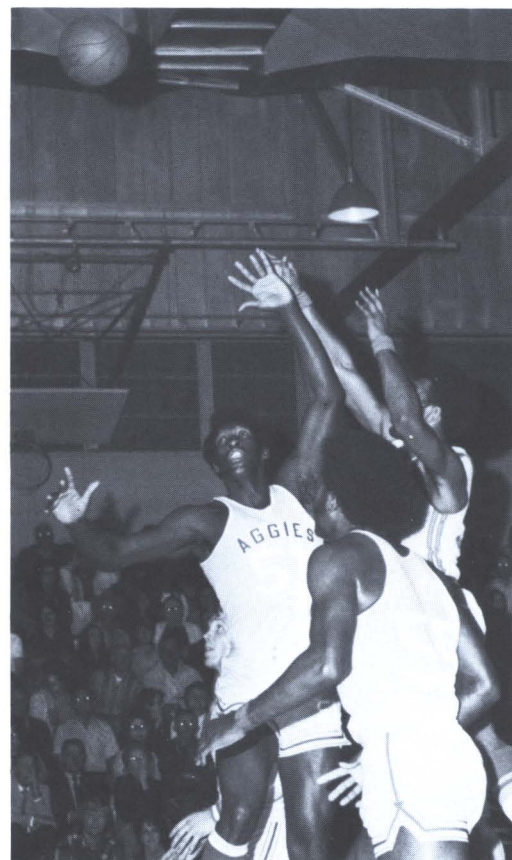

The swisher climaxed an inbounds play that started with only 12 seconds left in the period after the Savages had given up a foul and watched a big Bison miss the shot. Kendrick snared the rebound where the Savages protected the ball until OSU slapped it out of bounds with 12 seconds left.

Kendrick led SSC scorers with 18 points, including that all-important two at the end. Marion Peterson had 16, Paschal 14, Williams and Neff ripped the cord for eight apiece while Harris was totaling his four.

Assume the Savages got this rebound since Kendrick and Peterson have a hand on the ball.

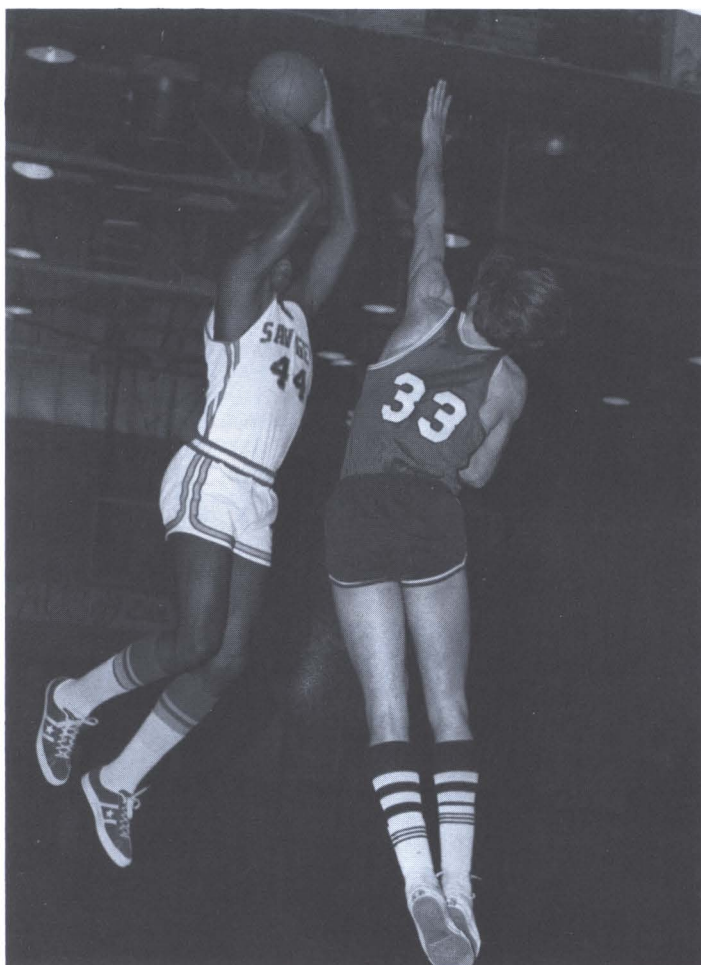

Neff is set for this shot while Williams (10) gazes on in SSC's victory over the Aggies.

Peterson hits this bucket despite the rough traffic of Cameron State guards.

Kendricks supplies the offense against this Tiger team pouring through 28 points in a losing effort.

"May I coach," seems to be the thought of Williams on this jumper against the Bisons.

Kendricks almost has it slapped away but manages to fire through two more points for the Savages.

Byrd flies high to get this tip in the Savages 95-71 thrashing of Langston U.

Savages Most Improved in Conference

Coaching has its ups and downs for Coach Hudson and Coach Davis during the third overtime with NWSC

Frank Davis completed his first year as head coach at Southeastern State and what a completion it turned out to be for a Savage team.

Davis played his college ball at Arkansas Tech, starting as a freshman and earning honorable mention all-conference honors. After transferring to Oklahoma Christian College, Davis played on teams that won 52 games while losing only 15. He still holds several scoring records at OCC and he was a seventh round draft choice of the St. Louis Hawks following graduation in 1963.

The Savage coach returned to OCC as head coach and won 69 per cent of his games over a six year span. At OCC, Davis-coached teams compiled a record of 107 wins against 49 defeats. His 1968 club, with a record of 26-8, won the NAIA District 9 championship by defeating the Northeastern Redmen who finished number one nationally.

Davis dropped behind somewhat in recruiting after being named to the head job and taking the reins on June 1, at SSC, but still managed to come up with some good prospects.

Don Hudson was the assistant coach this year. He played his high school ball at Putnam City and acted as graduate assistant and scout for the Savages.

Clubsmen Look Ahead to Tourneys

Southeastern's golf team teed off March 14, when the Savage clubsmen journeyed to McAlester for a match with Northeastern and East Central under the guidance of Coach Duke Christian who is in his first year as golf coach.

Three seniors head the field of six, with Mark Dunham, Tony Fox, and Tommy Cathey putting the greens for the last time in college.

Terry Collins a junior, Kent Samuels and Bebo Dodd, Freshmen, round out the team.

The Savage folf schedule for 1972 included:

March

Members of the intramural football championship team include: front row; John Hardin, Pat Roland, and Mike Redbird. Back row: Paul King, Lonnie Westmoreland, Paul Amos, and Bill Tsoodle, who comprised the Delta Chi Delta Saints.

It is a scramble for the ball as defenders try for an interception, but it's too long a pass for them.

If John Hardin cannot catch him, it will be a sure touchdown for this SSC intramural team.

Saints Think Lumps and Bumps Worth It

Football constitutes a major portion of the fall intramural activities with 18 teams and over 160 students participating in 1971.

Southeastern's intramural football title was captured by the Delta Chi Delta Saints with a decisive 35-19 victory over an independent group—the Aces. The Saints comprised of 7-0 season record, while the Aces finished 6-1.

With two games played each weekday afternoon, the teams were divided into three leagues—Eastern, Central, and Western—and the team with the best record in each league entered the play-off.

Only the open field lies before this intramural player as he leaves a pack of defenders far behind.

Doug Jones puts his toe into it as he boots his opponent's position clear back to the end zone.

Students Learn Self Defense

Suk W. (Frank) Baik, a fifth degree black belt from Korea instructs students of SSC on the different methods of Aikido.

Baik as an instructor of Aikido, taught members of the Korean Police Force. He said, "The Methods of Aikido I instruct at Southeastern are the same as those I taught to the Korean police."

Aikido is a form of self defense which involves all the methods which are combined in judo and karate as well as the other forms of self defense.

In 1971, 13 white belts, 13 blue belts, five red belts and five black belts emerged from Baik's instruction at SSC.

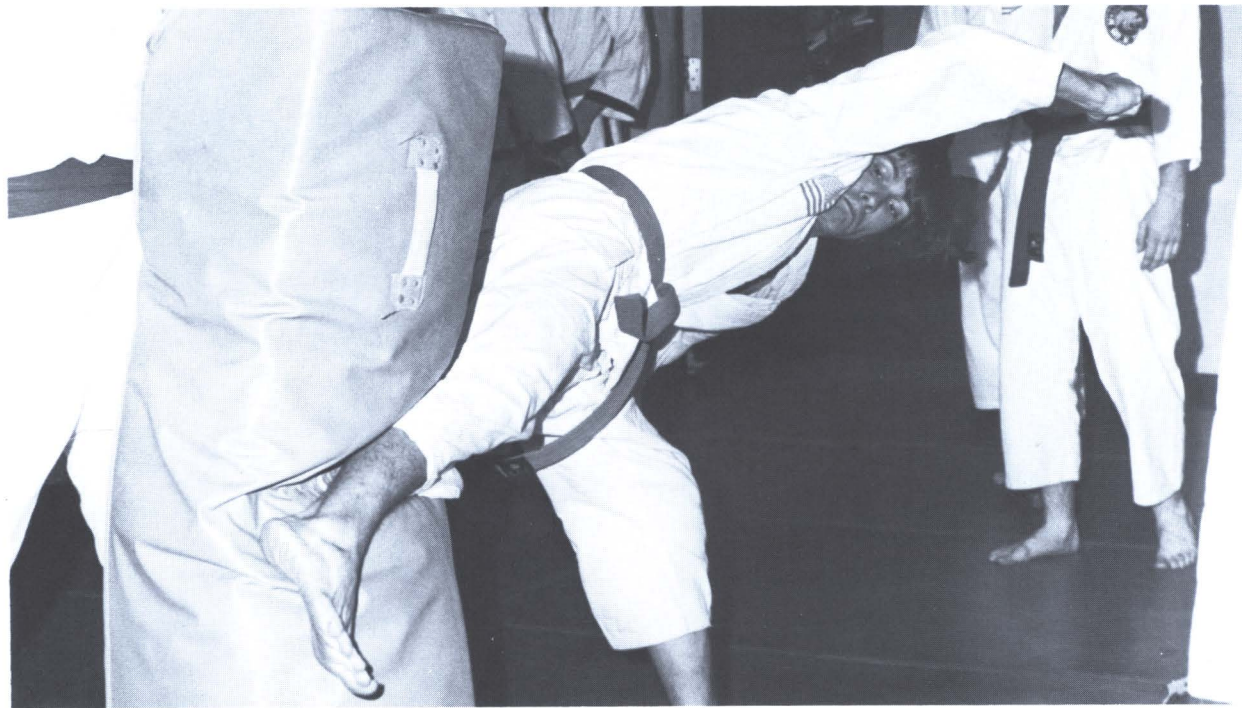

To arrive at a belt, a student is tested for the knowledge he has achieved in Aikido and how well he can use the application of various chops and kicks.

Baik charges no fee for taking the Aikido courses because he wants in some way to show his appreciation for being able to study in the United States so he teaches the methods of self defense to American students.

Each student's accomplishments with Aikido is recognized by the National Aikido Association which is a world wide organization.

Donald Pond, a white belt, administers this striking blow to Kent Henderson, a black belt.

Mike Pickert, blue belt, displays excellent balance as he works to earn a higher belt with this kick.

Aikido kicks require hard work and practice as seen on the face of white belt, Mike Buck during this workout.

Suk W. (Frank) Baik, Aikido instructor, uses his student to demonstrate the correct way to employ a kick.

Shooting practice, a necessity for building a good team, is part of the daily training routine.

Women's Basketball Pulls in Nine Teams

Nine teams participated in the women's intramural basketball program for 1972, with twenty games scheduled for action.

The teams were Daughters of Shaft, Whirley Birds, BSU, Wrangler James, Alpha Taus, Spankey's Gang, Rounders, Roadrunners and the Over the Hill Gang.

League action began in late February and concluded in March.

Kathy Wells, with no time to block the shot, starts for the basket and the rebound.

Over 250 in SSC's Intramural Program

Joe Cross (88) moves in to take the pass from his teammate to set up another TKE score.

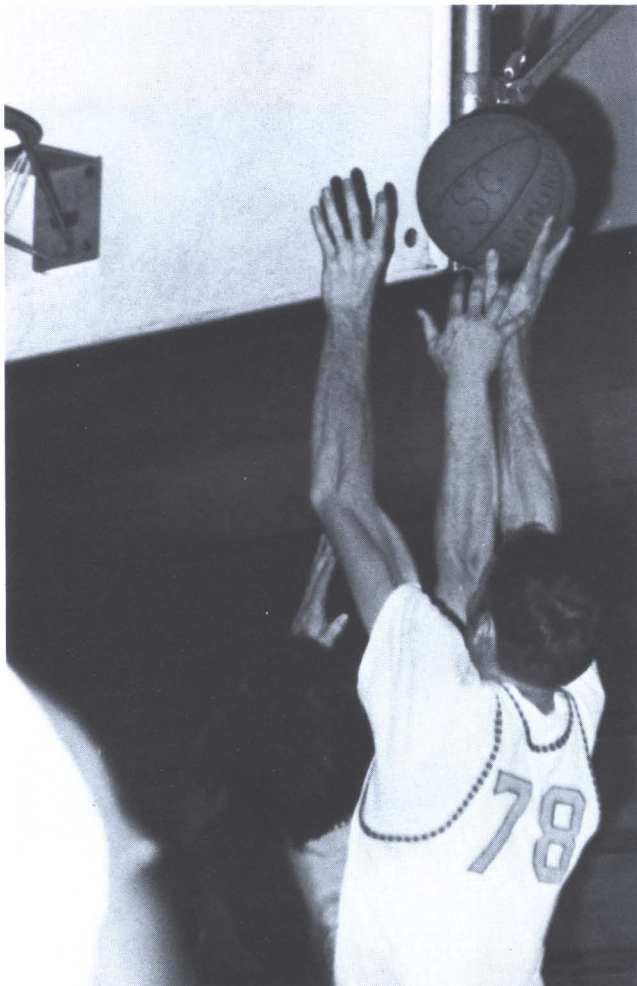

Mens intramural basketball kicked off its 1972 season with 35 teams participating.

SSC's intramural program included 250 men, and the teams were divided into seven leagues; American, National Continental, Inter-National, Subterranean, Universal, and Caribbean. 70 games were played during the spring season.

Jerry Algeo conducted the intramural basketball games, having the largest turn-out in the history of Southeastern.

The games began February 15 and lasted til March 14.

78 stretches toward the basket while his opponent displays a defensive struggle in intramural play.

After the opening toss-up, it's flying elbows and a mad scramble for possession of the ball.

Women's Volleyball

The women's intramural volleyball program, sponsored by the Women's Recreation Association, was directed by Mrs. Vickie Hudson.

Seven teams participated in the intramural program which involved more than 65 women.

Roadrunners I, captained by Sharon Gale, ran away with the volleyball championship. Team members included Marilyn Stanley, Janice Whitmire, Judy Caldwell, Betty Durlington, and Wanda Huckaby.

A Southeastern coed belts the ball over the net in fall intramural volleyball action.

Volleyball, a fast-paced game, requires coordination, cooperation and a keen sense of timing.

Cindy Crow spikes the ball while her opponent attempts to save the point.

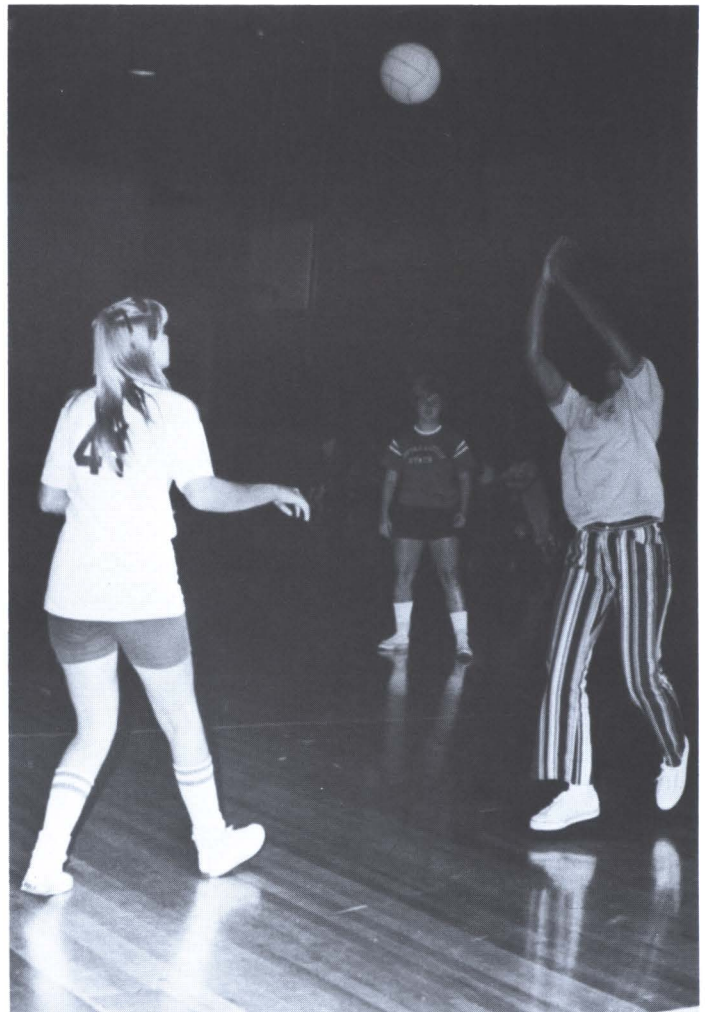

Dexterity is vital to building a winning team. Kathy Wells moves fast in anticipation of the ball.

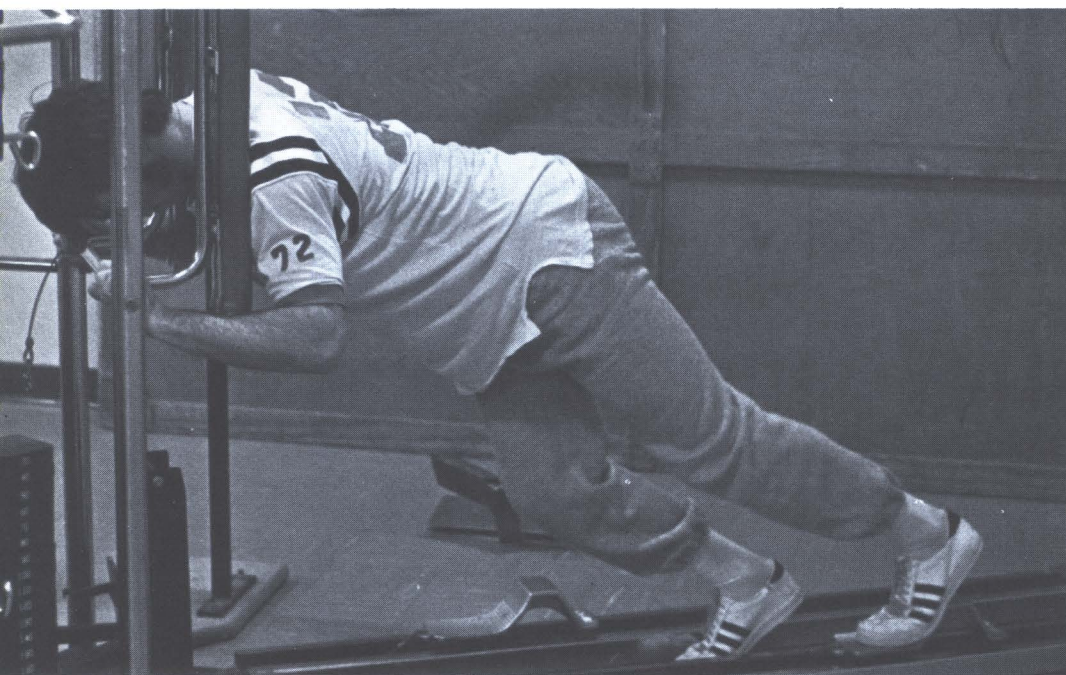

Members of the volleyball team work on hitting the ball effectively during a practice session.

Good players are set for action—balanced and alert—depending on their teammates for support.

Phys. Ed Curriculum Expands Activities

The weight machine is designed to increase strength and improve muscle tone.

Horseback riding and scuba were added to the curriculum of the physical education department in 1971-72 and took their place in the wide line-up which includes tumbling, swimming, weightlifting, tennis, golf, and the general P.E. courses.

The gameroom occupies much of the leisure time of the SSC students with pool, snooker, and ping-pong as the main attraction.

The women have also been active in physical education having a varsity basketball, and softball teams.

To pass the weekends, the gym opened its doors from 9-12 on Saturday mornings.

An outdoor basketball court was built and new tennis court lights were installed in order to give SSC students more outdoor facilities.

Coordination and timing are essential to the perfection of the figure eight drill.

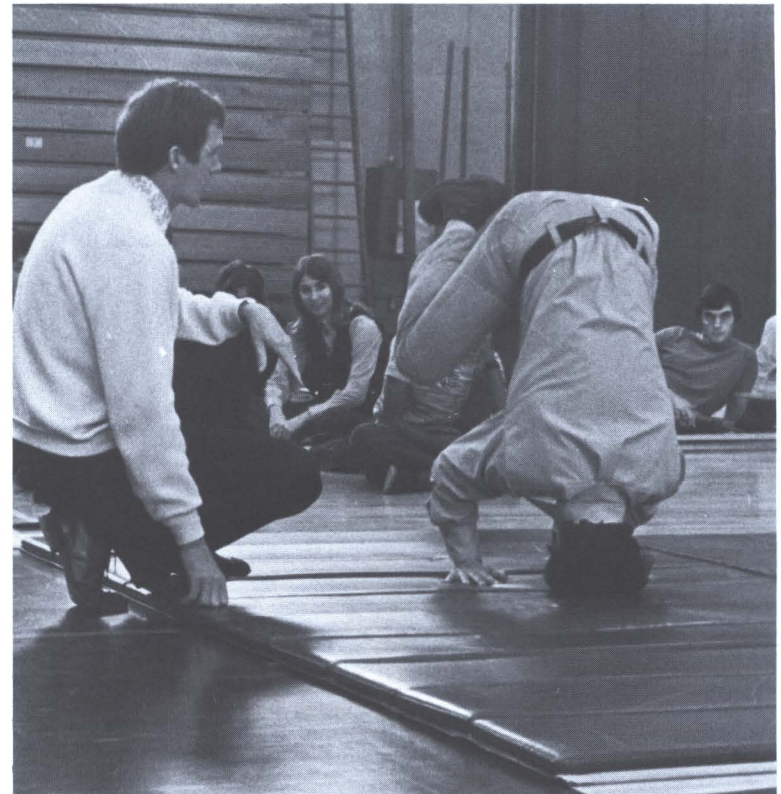

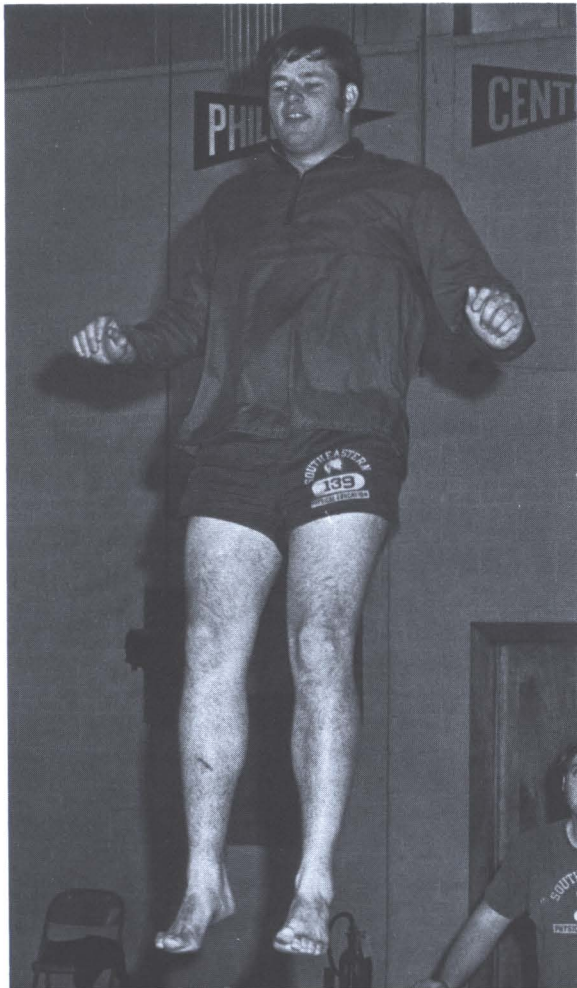

Table Tennis, a challenge to both beginners and professionals, is one of the most popular gameroom activities.

The trampoline requires perfect timing, balance and coordination. Ron Cooper works on a basic maneuver.

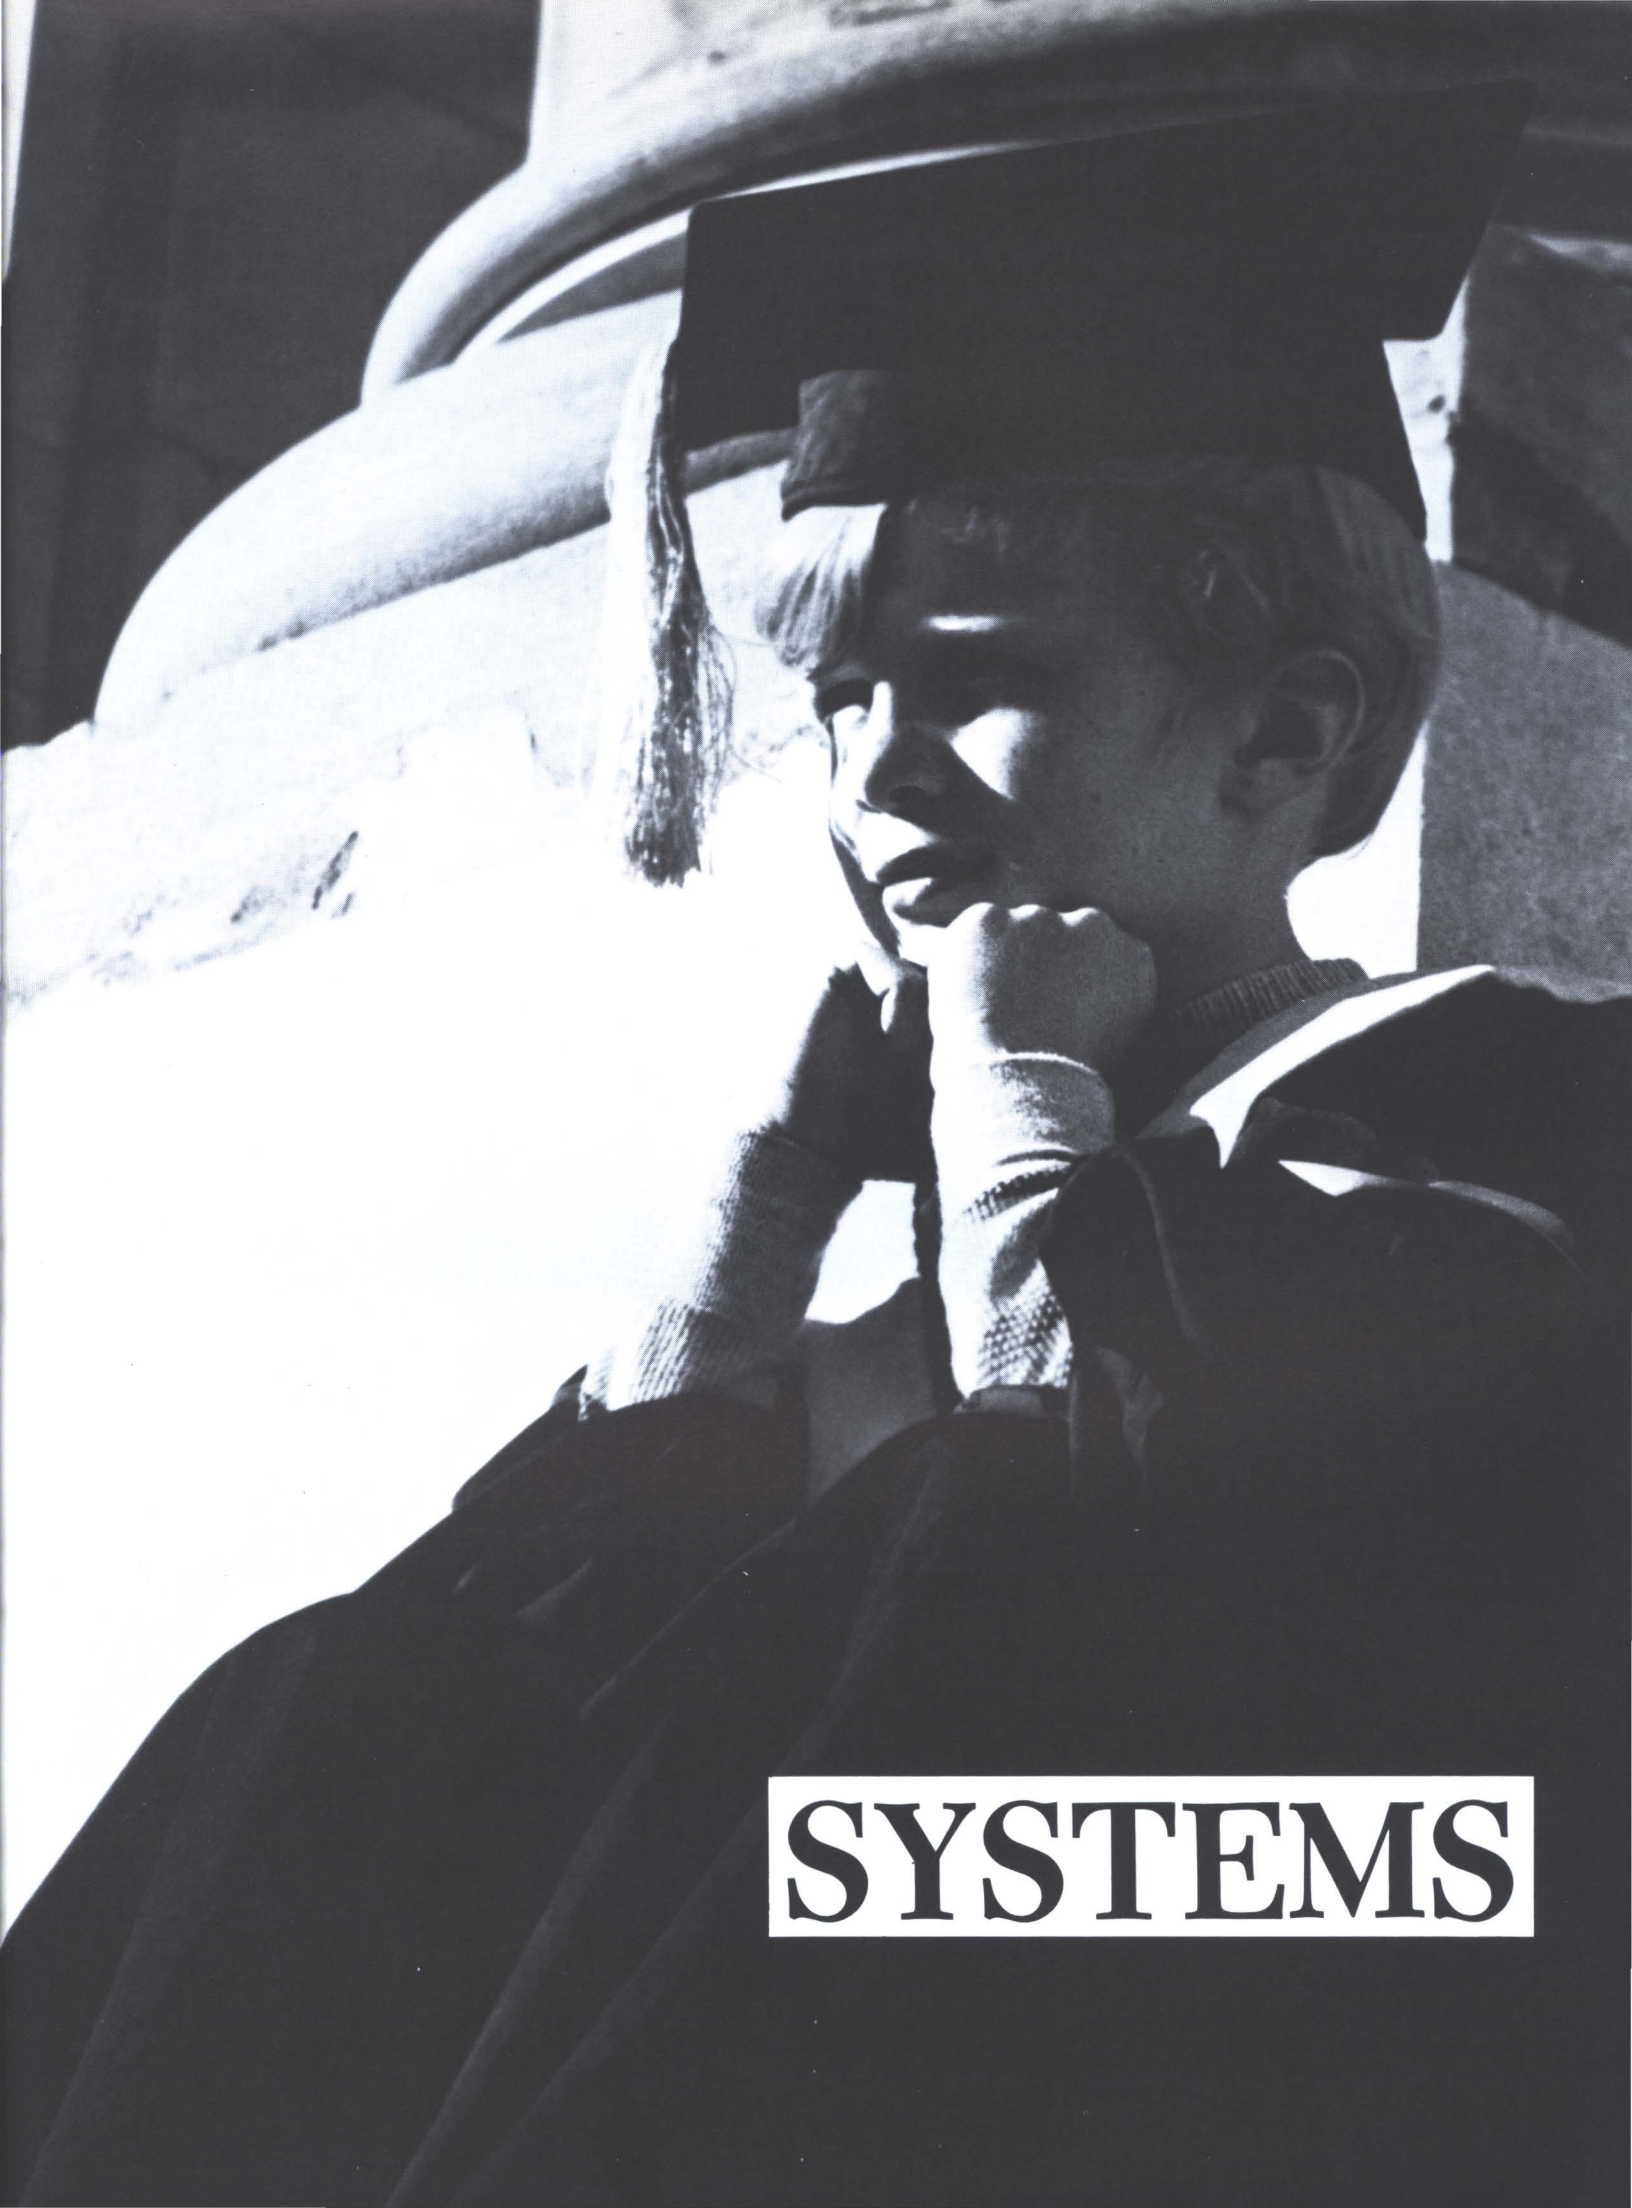

Physical education courses are designed to help students improve their physical fitness and develop basic skills.

SYNOPSIS

Pollution does not respect size or location: from towns like Durant to metropolises like Dallas, it remains "a clear and present danger"

Competition, enthusiasm, and excitement reigned high at Southeastern's first soccer game where the international students did us proud.

The problem of eye pollution is no longer limited to urban areas—Durant's Main Street offers a good example.

Southeastern and Its World of Change

IN JUST ONE YEAR...

The SSC drama department put Southeastern in the news with their awards in the American College Theatre Festival competition.

President Nixon visited Asia—the Asian flu visited the United States. The Howard Hughes mystery book grew into an affair of international intrigue, while proposed Ku Klux Klan activities became a controversial issue in Oklahoma.

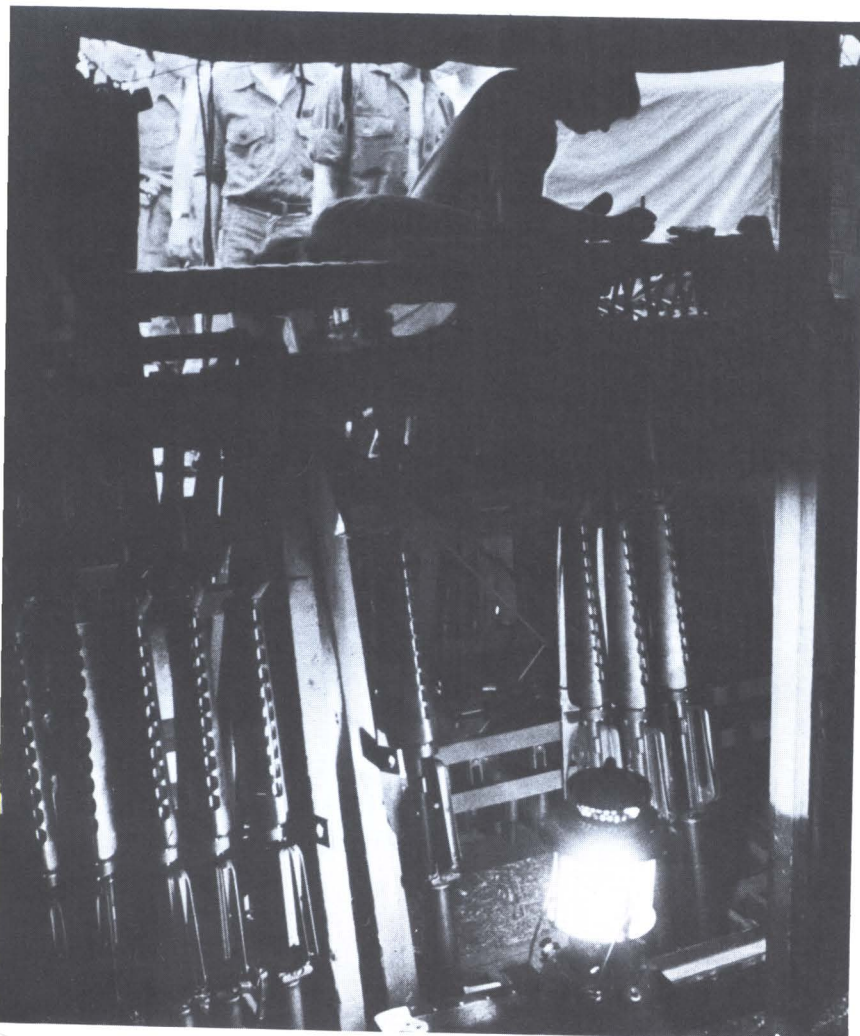

KHIB, Southeastern's FM radio station, went on the air—the Savage went to press. Maurice Chevalier dies—Bangladesh was born.

Homemakers across the nation tossed canned soup out and kitchens, once again, smelled of the homemade variety.

Over 20 SSC students put aside cultural differences and joined together to form a popular new folk singing group.

As the international student enrollment increases at S.S.C., cultures combine in the never-ending search for answers.

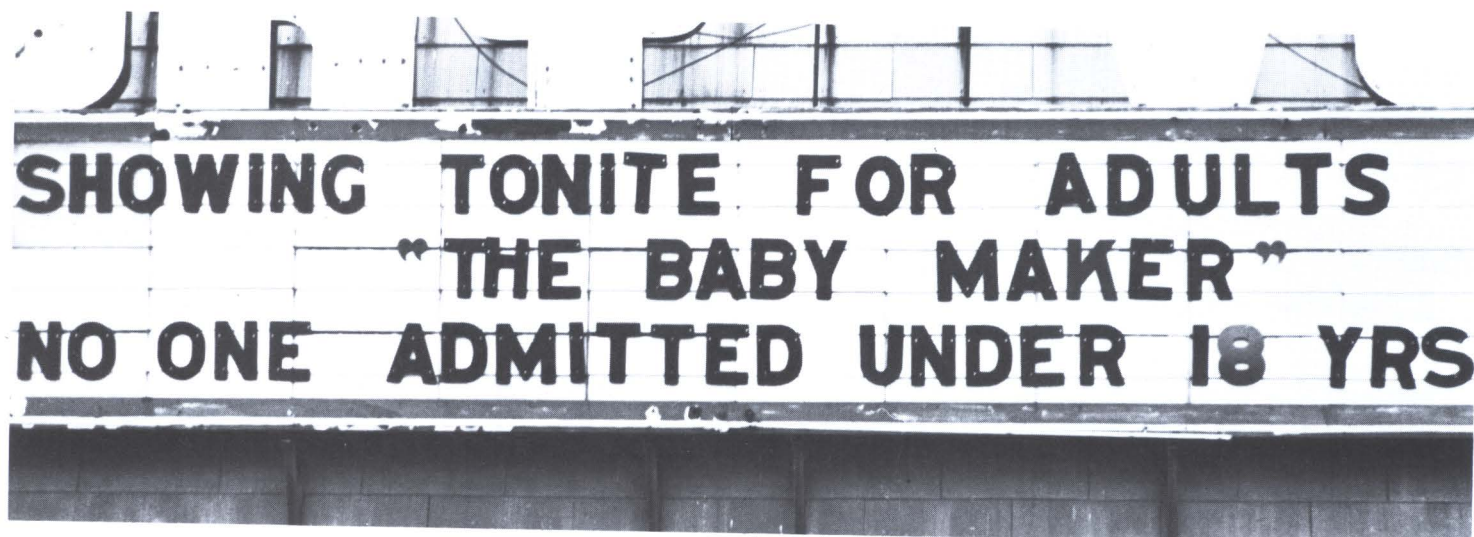

"I die, no matter what I do, I die.
Is this the sum of what man has to do?"
Richard Eberhart

SSC students learn about the culture of the Middle East during the celebration of the 2500 anniversary of the Persian Empire.

With the increasing crime rate throughout the country, the fight against pornography rages ever onward right here in "River City."

Oklahoma's Carl Albert receives recognition from three of America's most esteemed men, Astronauts Scott, Irwin, and Worden.

Celebrities, Cynics, and Censorship

In their first year, the SSC folk singing group traveled to promote public relations in nearby towns.

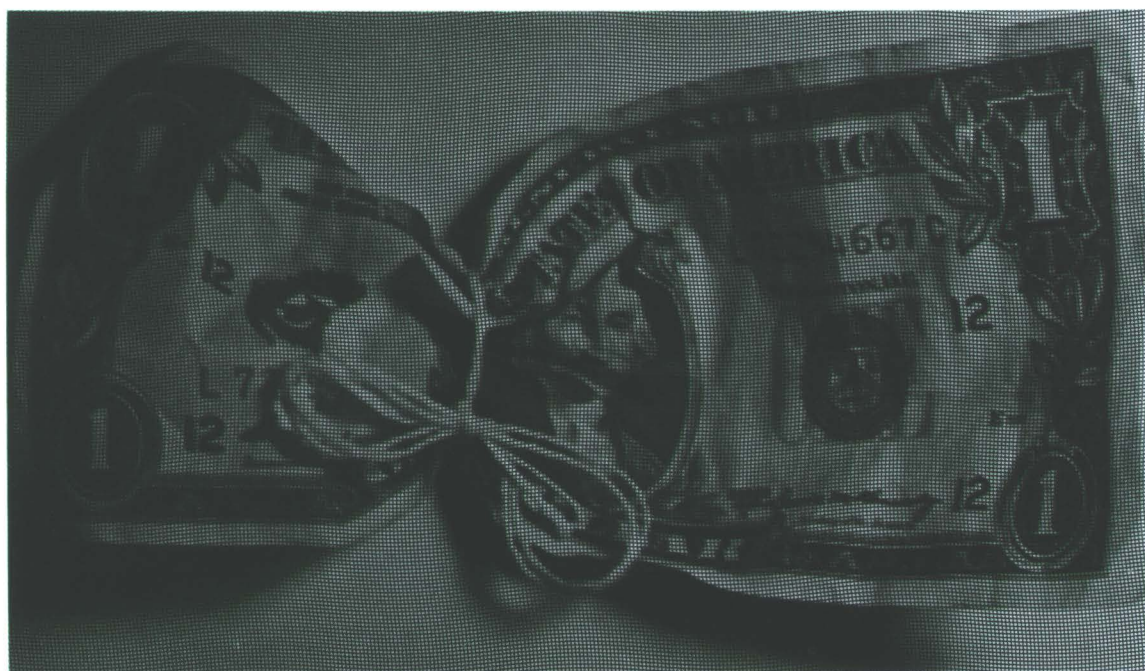

Dr. Wade's performance of "Of Mice and Men" not only displayed his fine talent, but his eagerness to work with students outside the classroom.

In today's world we receive many warnings due to new and present dangers; for example: Speed kills . . . so does botulism.

1971 provided the setting for President Nixon's tight money policy in an attempt to save the American dollar.

Southeastern's new Christmas Decorating Contest provided involvement for students and faculty alike.

SSC students, local military, and the alumni prepare the Youth Shelter for occupancy.

Sidelines and Main Attractions

A short-lived controversy in Durant was the alleged inhumane treatment of dogs.

"The truly human person should realize that he must shake hands with the future." -Dr. George Henderson, SSC's 1971 Leadership Conference.

On today's highways, signs point the way to everything. Is this what "PUBLIC LITTER BARRELL" means to you?

Are words the least important of the ways that men communicate with one another?

"... any man's death diminishes me, because I am involved in Mankind, ..."—John Donne

Impressions-Felt As Vibrations

The Performing Arts Concert Series provided SSC students with "Electric and New Music"

"The Child is Father of the Man; And I could wish my days to be Bound each to each by natural piety . . ."

Wordsworth

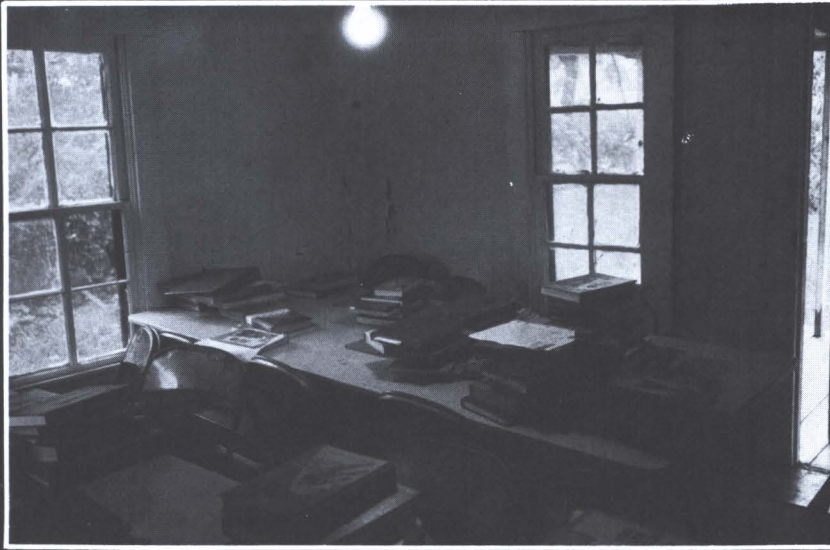

Located on SSC's campus is KHIB, the new FM station designed to better inform students of current events.

Oklahoma's sunny skies and fertile ground prove to be valuable for more than just peanuts and cotton.

Changes Perceived Through Ideas

Man's material environment has not hampered his desire to progress, through education.

The 1972 Savage has focused on some of the major issues of the year—issues of special importance to SSC students.

The purpose was not to judge man or his motives—right or wrong, good or bad—but to record, as objectively as possible, the events of the year.

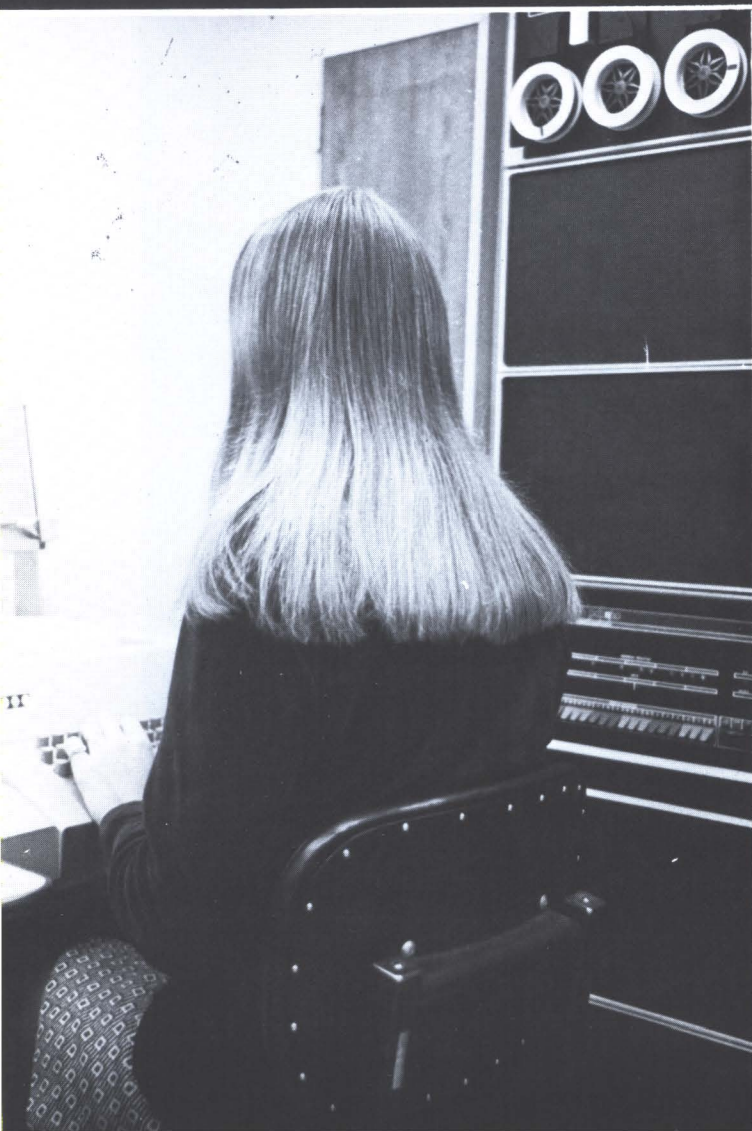

Many of the issues which existed at the beginning of the year, continue to exist at the end of it—social discord, political turmoil, religious disunion, financial crisis, environmental disorder.

But, with all its imperfections, it is still a world filled with humor, sympathy, enthusiasm, sincerity, tenderness, and love.

Through knowledge and compassion the future holds much promise.

THEREFORE...

Improving education through new designs in equipment, is the Computer Science Center.

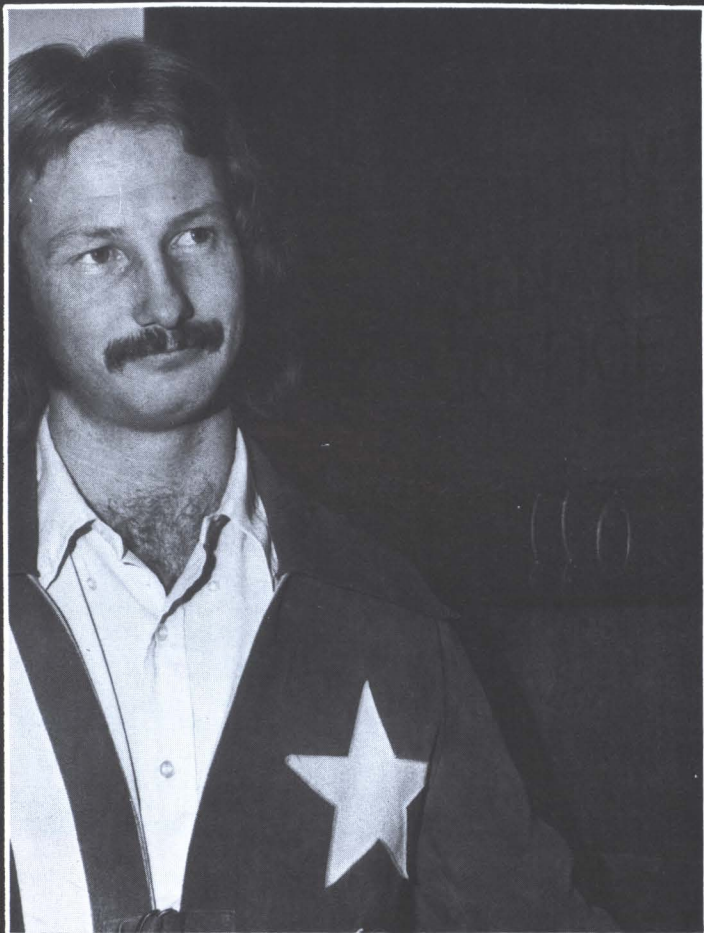

"...In all this world there is nothing so easily squandered, or once gone, so completely lost as life."

... Kenneth Fearing

Large enough to be nationally recognized, yet small enough to be friendly, SSC provides a foundation for the exchange of ideas.

Southeastern's unique policy of student body-administrator's informal discussion provided many answers.

A former student senator questions why the system cannot be varied or changed.

"Some men see things as they are and ask 'Why?' I dream things that never were and say 'Why not?'"

The generation gap loses its meaning in one American tradition—the small town, Saturday morning parade.

One way to build a better tomorrow is by working and sharing with the new generation today.

Uniting, creating, sharing—the Leadership Conference works toward the improvement of campus relationships.

An education—one of the necessary tools in building a greater future.

The 1972 SAVAGE is dedicated to
THE HOPE OF A BETTER WORLD

When I began working toward the completion of Savage '72, I found a poster which soon became my slogan: "A yearbook is an awful lot of trouble." After 1000 dummy sheets experimented on, 100 pencils worn to a frazzle, and 350 rolls of film dedicated to capturing SSC 71-72, it's finished. All the late hours burning the midnight oil have proven to be worth the effort in capturing all those moments we will look back upon and remember in years to come.

Only has this edition of the SAVAGE been possible with the help of my great staff and class plus the diligent work of the photographers who always came through when I needed them most. Special thanks to Billie Letts, yearbook advisor, and Kenneth Nichols. Without them this could not have been.

*Best of Luck,
Marsha Regan*
