Table of Contents

ADMINISTRATION . . .

At no time do students need guidance and counseling more than in college. These are the crucial years in which we decide what we are going to be 'when we grow up.' The administration and faculty help us to decide and then provide the training and preparation necessary.

PUBLICATIONS . . .

Student publications are vital to any college. The newspaper carries any important happening on campus, gives the time and place of upcoming events, and gives an over all picture of college life. The yearbook is to serve as a reminder in the future. Years from now, you'll use your '60 SAVAGE to recall good times and great people.

ORGANIZATIONS . . .

Organizations is one of the broadest sections of this book. The organizations of a campus can make or break it. They are exercises in getting along with people and co-operating for a common purpose.

GREEKS . . .

The six Greek organizations on campus serve a necessary and real need in the lives of their members. They are defined as social groups and they not only provide an active social life on campus but help to prepare us for life in society later on.

SPOTLIGHT . . .

In the spotlight of the campus are certain ones who stand out above the rest of the crowd, perhaps because they're prettier, or more active in campus life. This section of pretty girls, favorites, queens and Who's Who, is devoted to them.

CAMPUS . . .

Here is where you see a real cross-section of college life. Informal shots of the things we do, the people we do them with, and the places where we do them.

ATHLETICS . . .

No campus is complete without its share of athletic heroes. But more important than heroes are the ones who play on the team, the ones who make the 'Savages' really savage opponents.

CLASSES . . .

Here is the heart of our yearbook, for these people are Southeastern. In the class section no gridiron ace, nor beauty queen, nor campus brain can outshine even the most unknown person because each is an important part of the whole campus.

BUILDINGS . . .

The Ad building, library, gym, these are places we see every day. Here is where we study, gossip, think, and play. We'll remember these buildings as long as we remember Southeastern.

ADVERTISING . . .

Business men and women of Durant are exceptionally nice to Southeastern students in many ways. One way is the support they lend to our yearbook.

DURANT, OKLAHOMA

August 28, 1959

Hi!

Today we started to work on our '60 yearbook. You have no idea how frightening a prospect that is. No matter how many of you contribute effort to this book, no matter how hard Rodney and Peggy and the others on the staff work, when it comes down to the day when you begin to find fault with the book and discover the two million, five hundred thousand mistakes we're bound to make, I'm the one everyone is going to suggest tar-and-feathering. But don't get me wrong. I wouldn't trade jobs with a one of you.

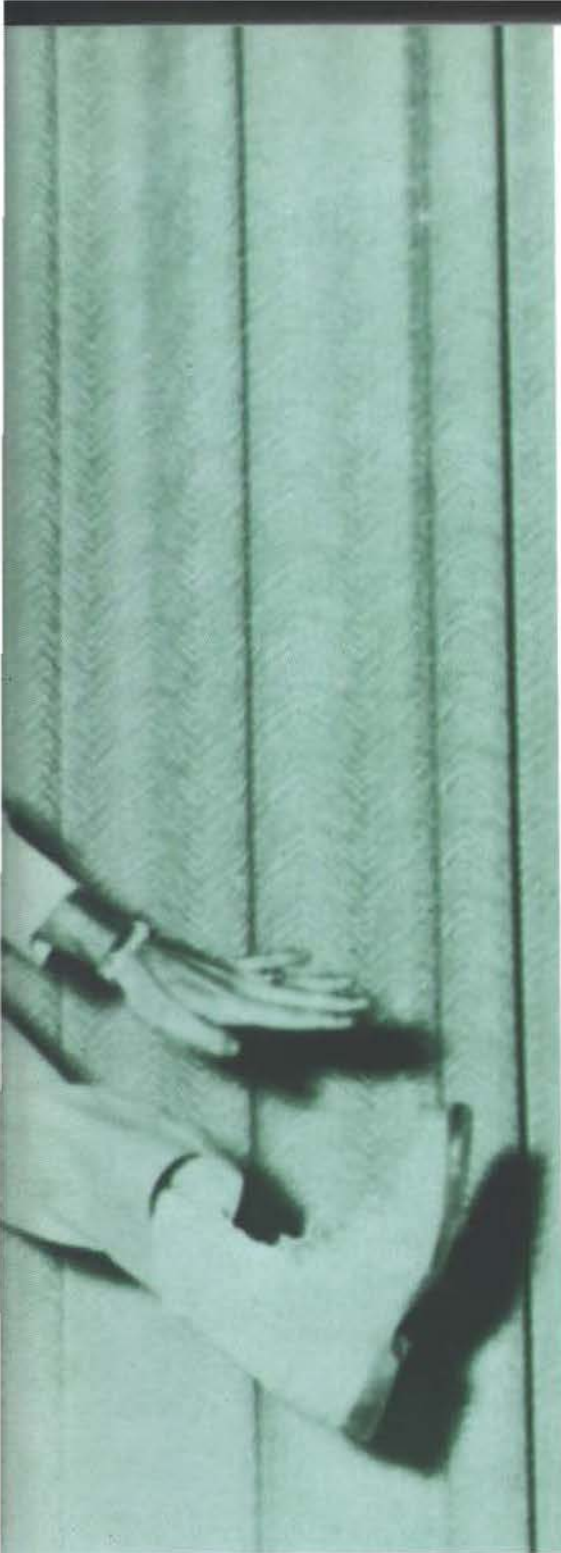

If you're wondering why I have doodled foot-prints all over this letter, I'll tell you. It is my own inspired way of introducing the theme of the book to you. Throughout the book you're going to see the feet that make these prints. They are everybody's feet in general and your feet in particular. They are the feet that will lead the world of tomorrow. Where these feet go and what they do is up to you but remember—the world's going to be following you. It's a frightening responsibility but one that we have to face up to and we shall face up to it. We're not really the 'beat' generation, we're a generation that's going places. These feet are going to stand in Congress, the United Nations, at Cape Canaveral, and on the moon! The time has come to tell the skeptics and pessimists to 'hide and watch.' We're going places !!!!!

And speaking of going places, that's what I've got to do.

See you,

Marleen Karol Page

SPIRIT . . . It means different things to different people . . . here we're not only talking about the frenzy of a cheerleader at a big game . . . we're talking about the Spirit that lives everyday in everything we do on campus . . . the class spirit that drives us to stay up all night the week before Homecoming in hopes of beating out the other classes . . . the school spirit that wells up and makes us want to fight if somebody makes a dig at Southeastern . . . the personal spirit that drives us to college to accomplish something, to better ourselves through education . . . this is the spirit that makes a college a campus where we want to live rather than one we merely tolerate . . . this is the spirit of Southeastern.

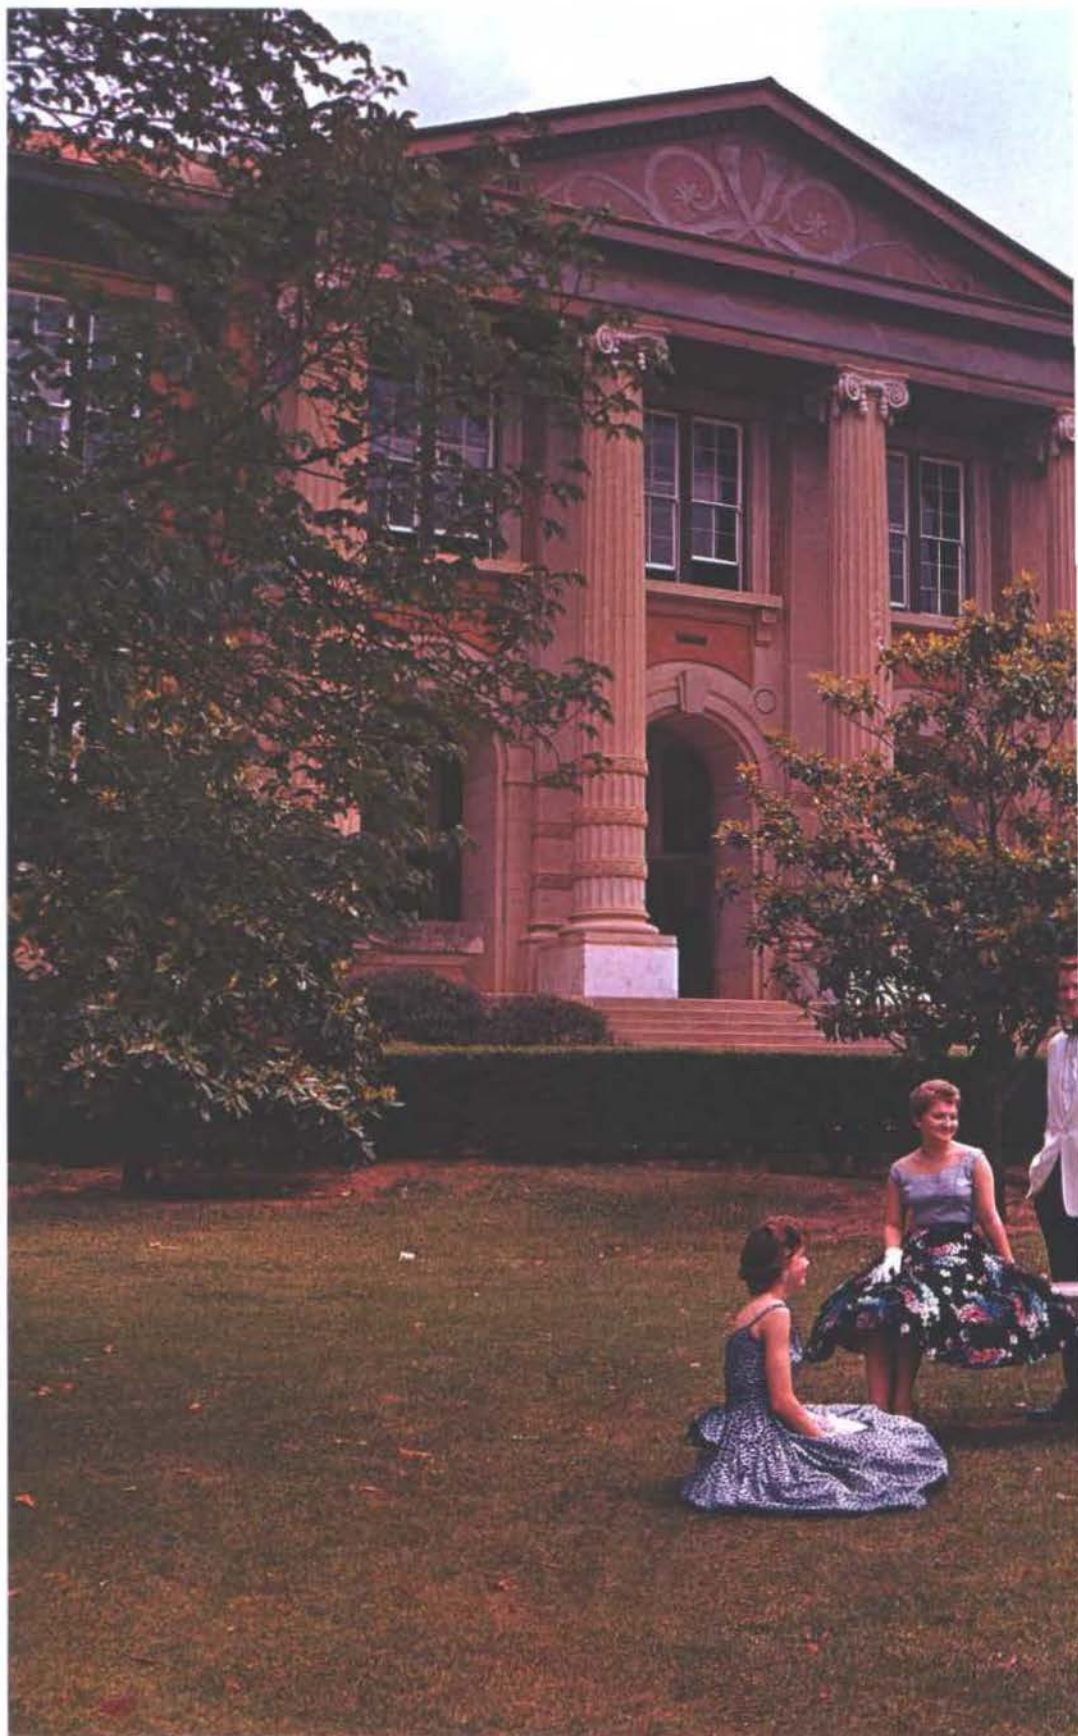

Spirit

"How does the average college student spend his day?" We asked these two kids to pose in some characteristic ways. These are only a few pictures we hoped would be representative. Besides studying and classes, you'll find that dancing in the ballroom, sitting and sipping in the coffee shop, and just talking, take up a large part of the day. Here's hoping this peek at these two remind you of some of the ways you have had fun this year.

Springtime

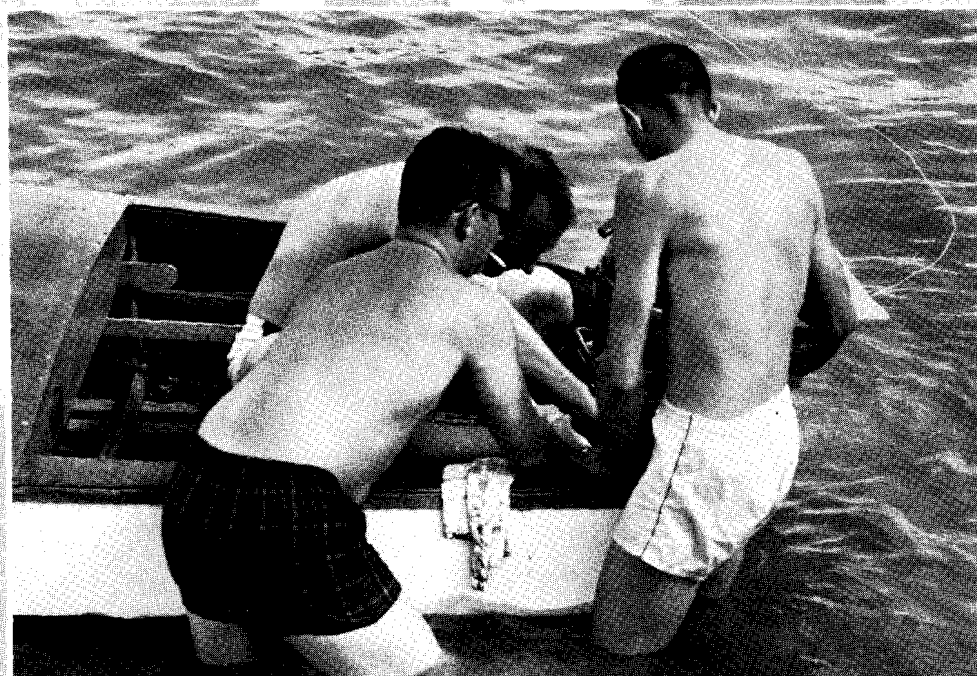

at Southeastern

"Oh, I don't know! That water looks kinda deep and as a swimmer I'm less than terrific."

Beautiful

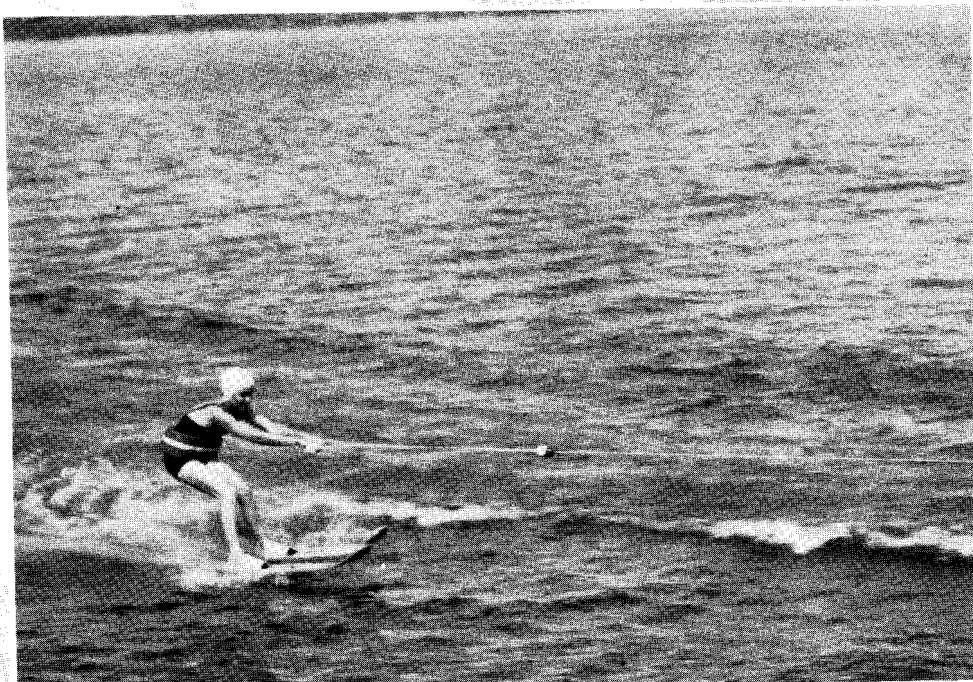

"Now, Hazel, keep your arms stiff and relax and let the boat pull you up."

Texomaland . . .

. . . playground of the Southwest and backyard of Southeastern. Savage students find that one of the most popular courses offered is 'Required Beachology.' Summer school or regular term, the lake and its facilities are as familiar to the SSC'er as the magnolia trees and coffee shop.

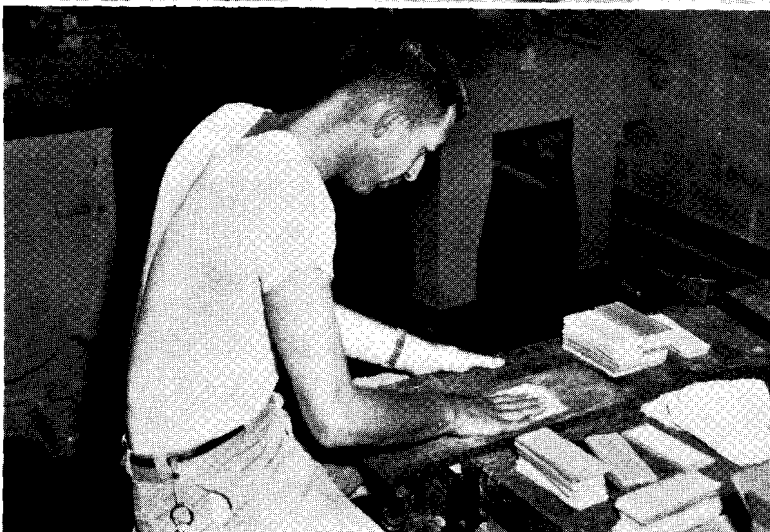

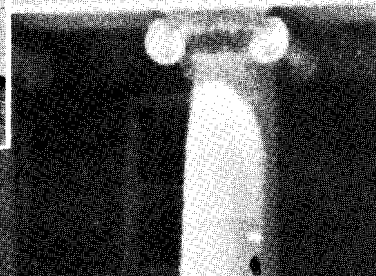

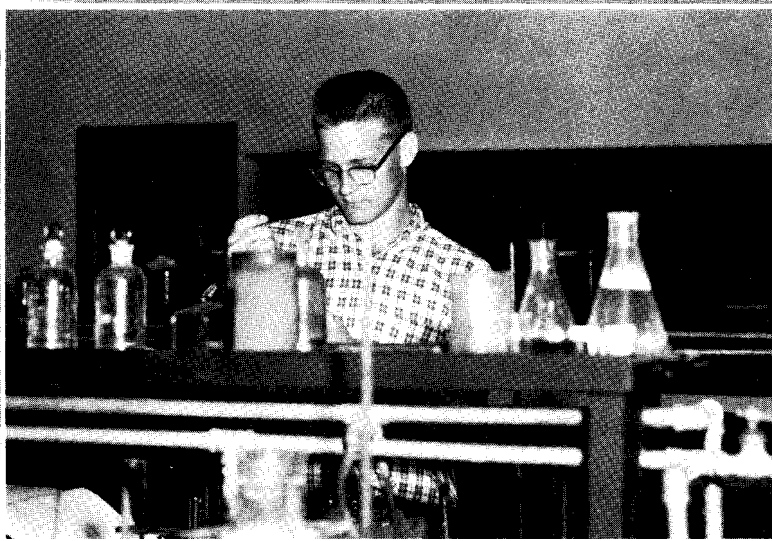

ACTIVITIES . . . a broad word that could about cover everything . . . from the Beaux Arts ball where this king and queen were crowned . . . to hellweek for Hellhound pledges . . . you name it . . . the extra-curricular activities of the campus are as vital a part of campus life as a ribbon to a typewriter . . . our campus offers a number of activities which make college life more meaningful, more enjoyable and which provide plenty of happy memories . . . the Friendship Fire . . . the Savage Scandals . . . Homecoming . . . campus elections . . . the big formal dances . . . disc jockey . . . things you can't forget . . . these are all ingredients for a memorable, happy college career.

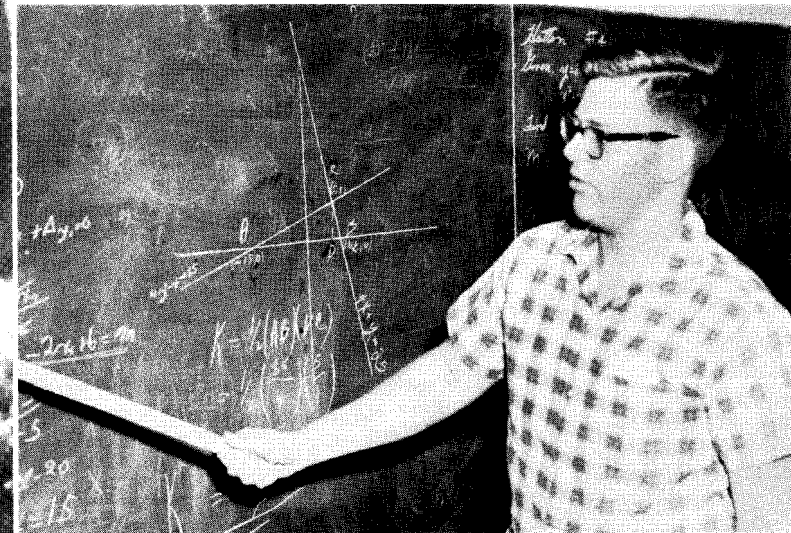

Activities

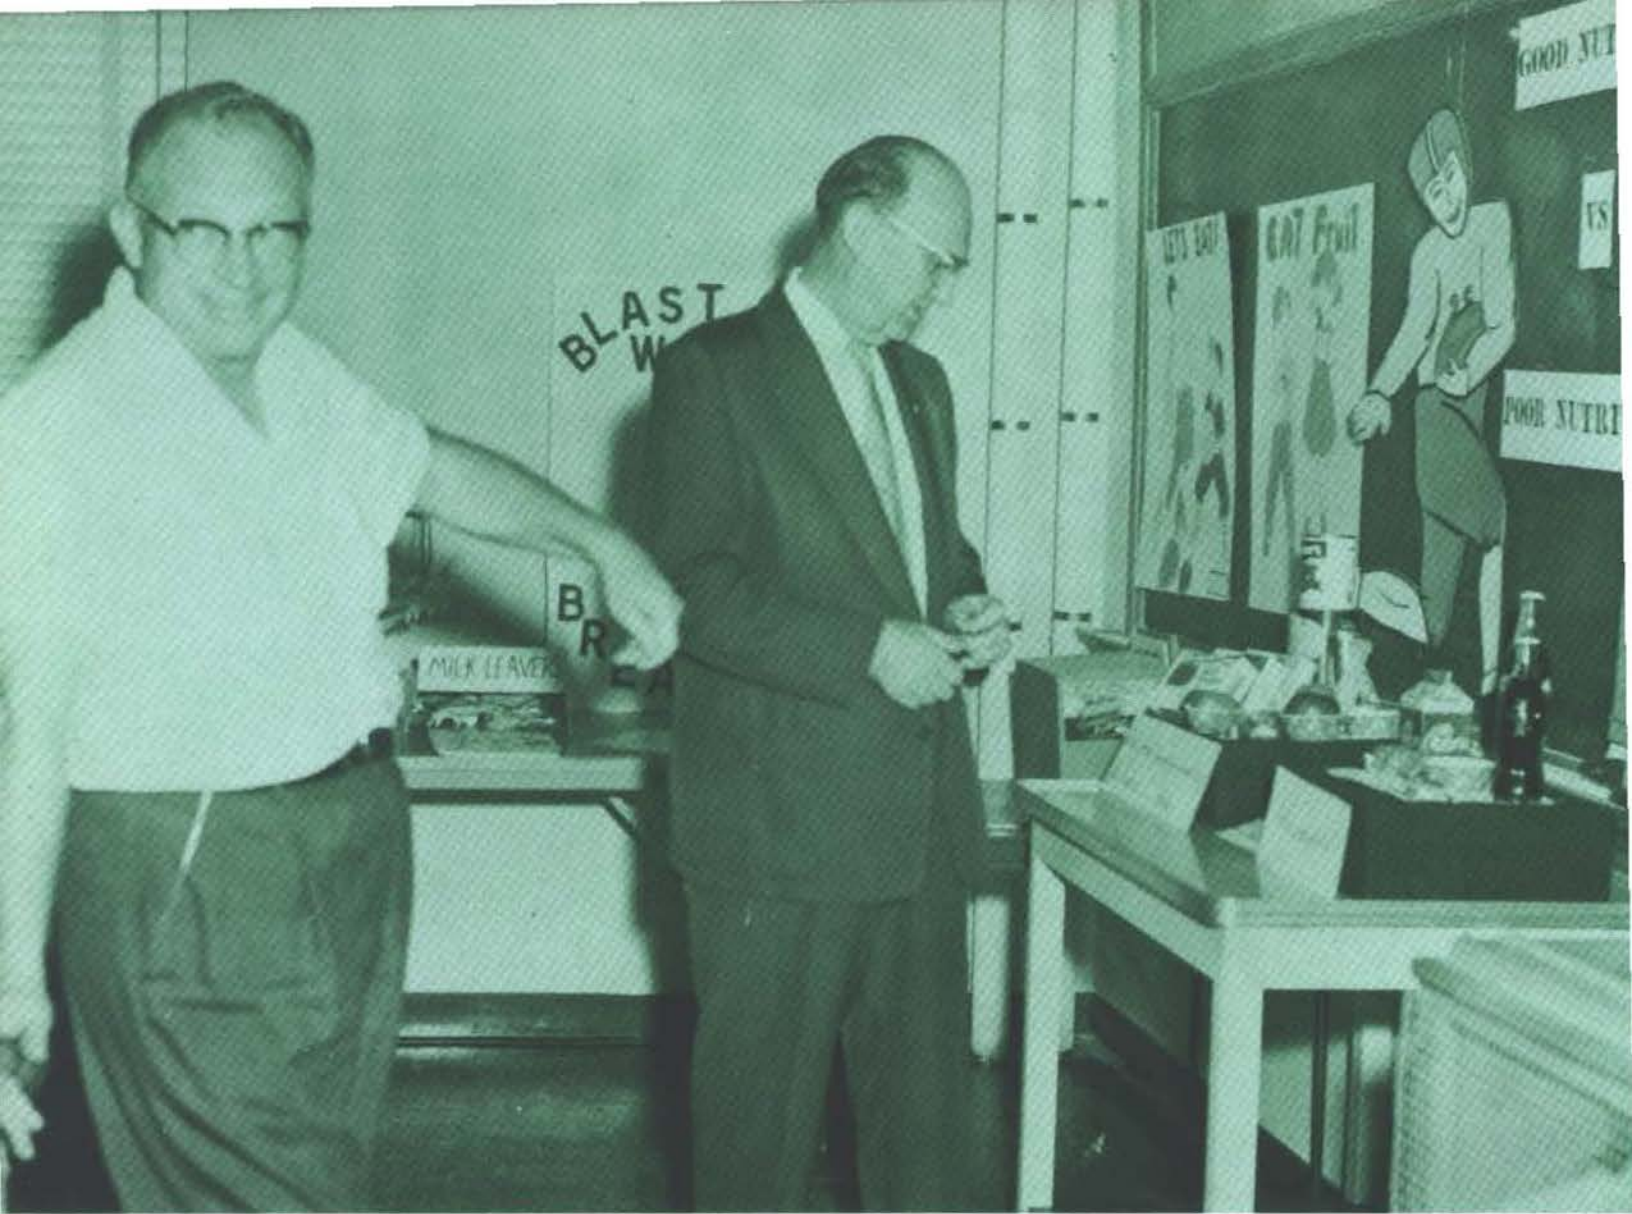

Time to Study

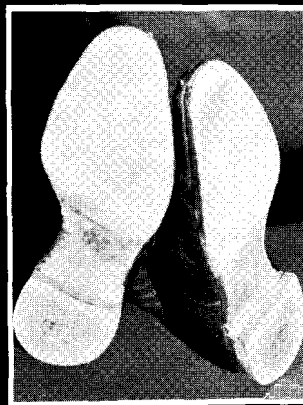

All play and no work makes Jack an ex-college student. Nothing could be truer and the average college student finds that hours of study are required to keep up with the standards of his school. Excellent instructors in all departments provide guidance and assistance in the student's quest for knowledge. The library is one of the most widely used buildings on campus as SSCers get ready to take their places in the outside world as leaders of tomorrow.

Administration

ADMINISTRATION . . . efficient, capable, and interested . . . three words which best describe the administration of our college . . . members of the administrative staff are really interested in the welfare of the students and in the work they're doing . . . whether inspecting a display in the home ec department or entertaining at the faculty-student reception . . . it's good to feel you can take any problems to them and they'll help with all their experience and ability.

CAMPUS

Oklahoma Presbyterian College strives to maintain a wholesome Christian "home-away-from-home" for students of Indian extraction and foreign students, in particular.

Please, pretty please?"

We caught someone, believe it or not, "Studying!"

Candlelighting

The thirty-ninth annual Christmas candlelighting service was an event of December 15 on the college campus. Featured in the service was Norman Vincent Peale's "The Coming of the King," with a musical setting by Don Gillis, Texas composer. A living representation of the Juan De Flandes painting of "The Nativity" was a part of the traditional all-campus program.

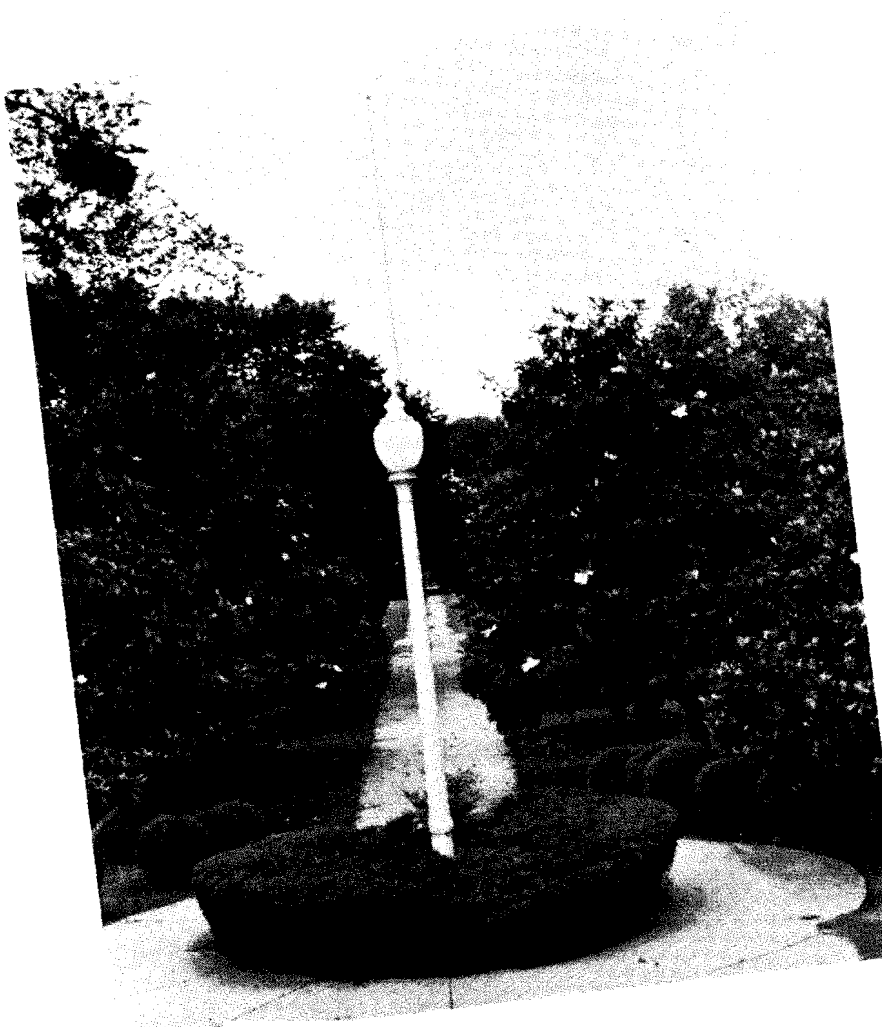

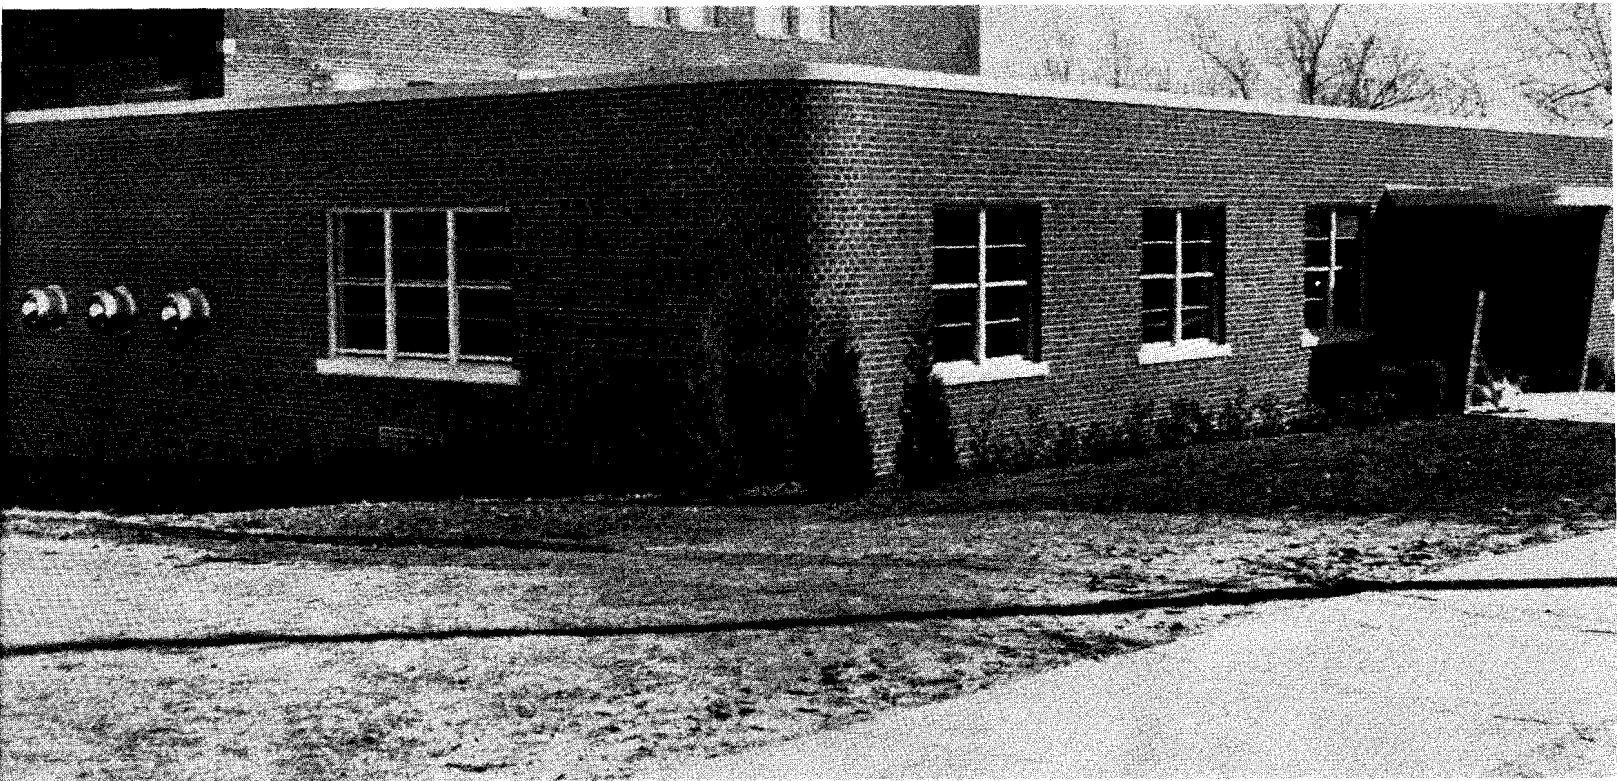

Beaux Arts Ball

Beaux Arts Ball is a traditional event sponsored by the Art Club each year. Below are shown the 1959 King and Queen, Jesse Arnold and June McPhetridge; the skit, the booth, and the mural.

1909 — Golden Homecoming — 1959

The coldest weather of the year could not chill the spirited celebration of the Savages' Golden Homecoming. Alumni from all over came back to make this the most memorable homecoming ever. Wanda McCoy, Healdton freshman, was crowned Homecoming queen. Her attendants were Margaret Fincher, sophomore from Hugo; and Phyllis Burgess, Antlers junior.

Imaginative floats depicting fifty years of progress were entered in the Saturday morning parade. The Art club's magnolia representing 'The flowering of education' captured first prize and Sigma Tau Gamma's 'Locomotive' won second

Savage Football

The 1959 Savage football team's 0-9 record left them at the bottom of the ladder in Oklahoma Collegiate standings, but those who watched the Savages play this year agree that they were a much better team than their record showed.

Although their record was anything but impressive, lack of experience was their main drawback.

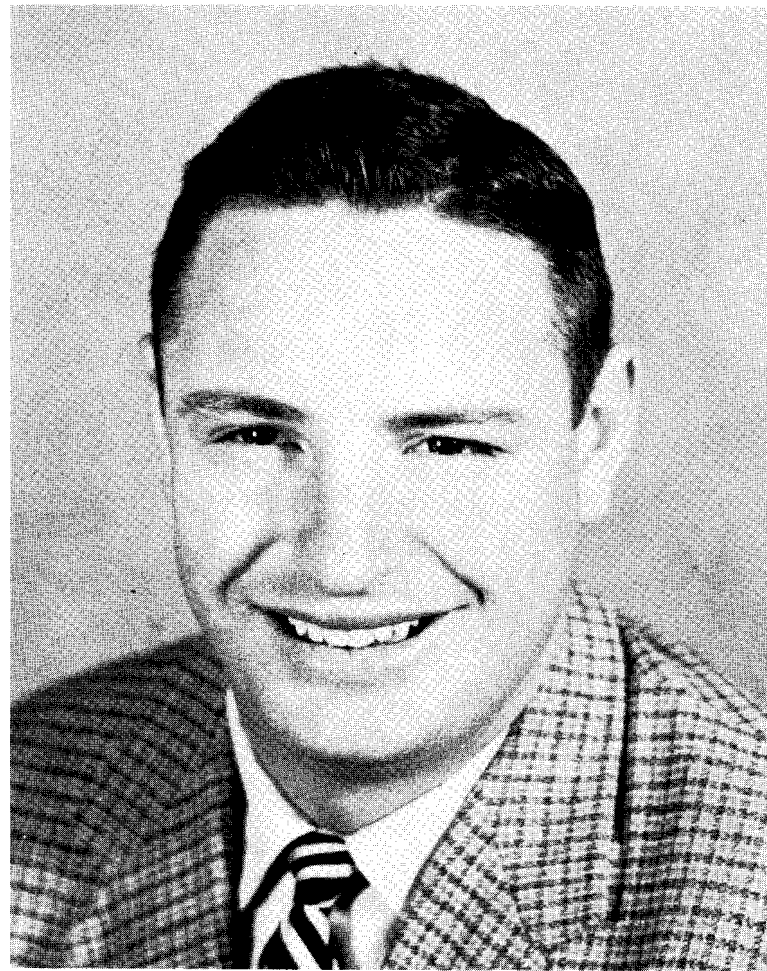

The team showed much potential strength and gave some good teams a scare during the season.

Their worst beating all season came at the hands of Northwestern 42-13, and several better teams couldn't do as well.

The conference champions, Langston, rang up an impressive victory 39-7, but runner-up Central was lucky to get off with a 26-13 win.

The Savages dropped close ones to Austin College, 13-0; Northeastern 27-13; Southwestern 21-20; Arkansas Tech, 13-7; and East Central, 20-7.

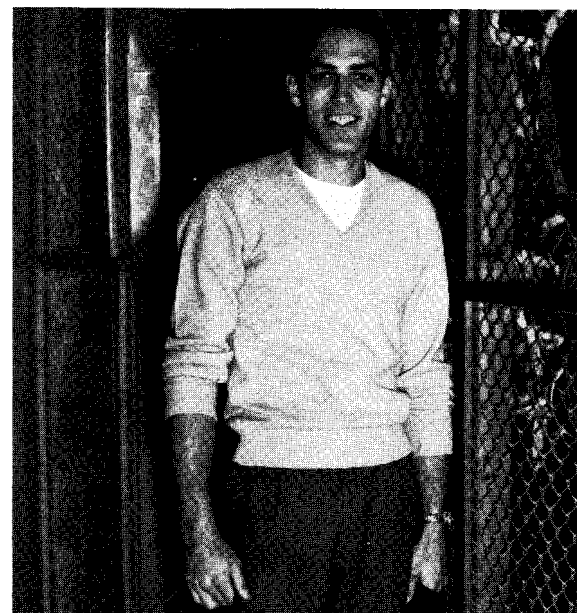

The students of SSC expect the freshman standouts of this year to carry the Savages to a better than average season in 1960.
