Dr. Sally Leonard, master of ceremonies at the Kappa Delta Pi Honors Dinner, present; Kappa Delta Pi keys to Mrs. Gates and Dr. Fort.

Two members of the Southeastern faculty, Mrs. Flov Perkinson Gate and Dr. M. K. Fort, receive highest recognition for rlistinpuished service a an Honors Dinnrr given by the campus chapter of Kappa Delta Pi. na tional education fraternitv.

At the left are President A. E. Shearer, speaker at the Honors Dinner, and Dr. Ann Semple, program chairman.

Below are Ethel Byrns, charter member, and Mrs. Walter Blain, founder of th Southeastern chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, receiving special recognition from Mrs. Va Williams, chapter officer.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE INSTITUTE

Increasing demand for foreign language study had its answer in Durant this year when the Foreign Language Institute was established by Southeastern and Oklahoma Presbyterian College.

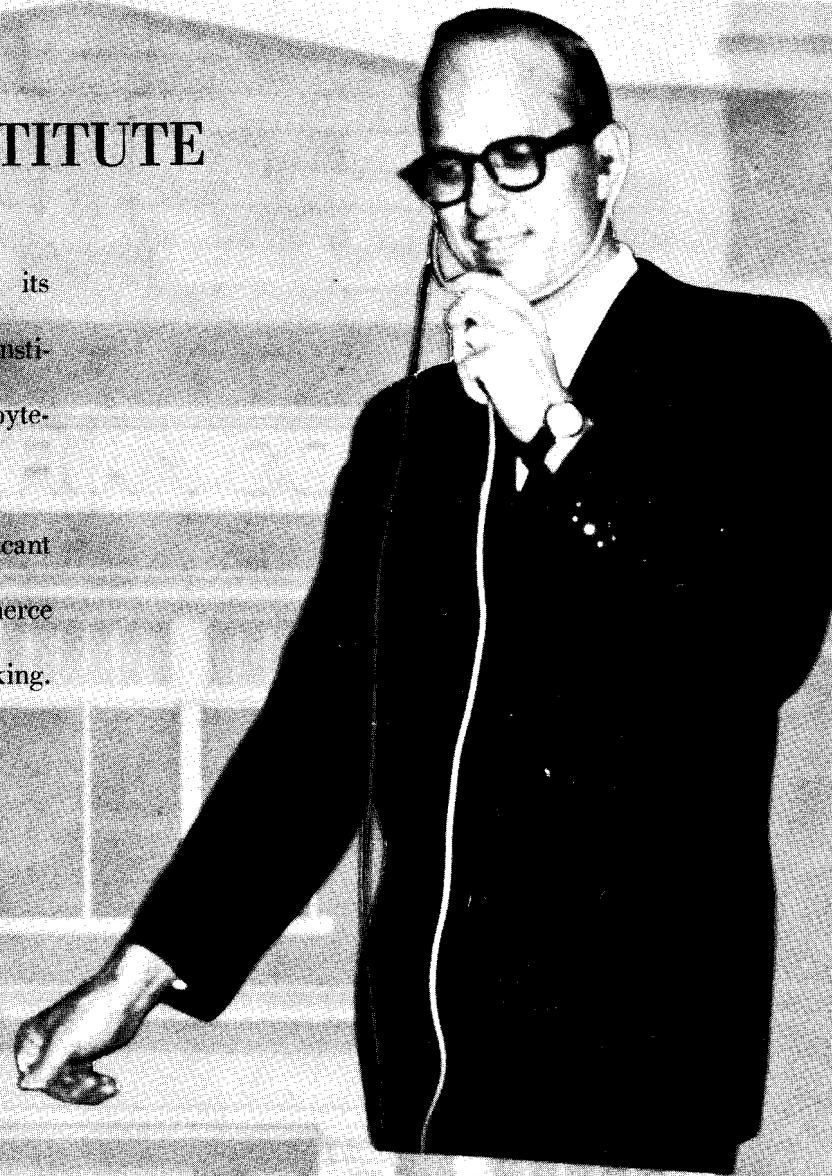

Finding in the new program the potential of significant service and opportunity, the Durant Chamber of Commerce gave the institute enthusiastic support and financial backing.

The most modern language-teaching equipment available is provided in the new laboratory at OPC. Dr. Wade Baskin, head of foreign language study at Southeastern, directs the institute, where Russian, German, Spanish, and French are taught.

A marked increase in foreign language study was the immediate result of the new institute. In addition to regular students, special students of Durant and the area are taking advantage of the new program. Night classes in conversational Spanish and Russian have been organized with the specific purpose of serving special students.

Spanish and Russian have been organized with the specific purpose of serving special students.

Mrs. Vlasta Baskin is instructor in Russian. Assisting Dr. Baskin as laboratory aide and in teaching conversational Spanish is Rafael DeLaFuente, native of Mexico and graduate of Southeastern.

Rafael DeLaFuente, assistant in teaching conversational Spanish, is also laboratory aide.

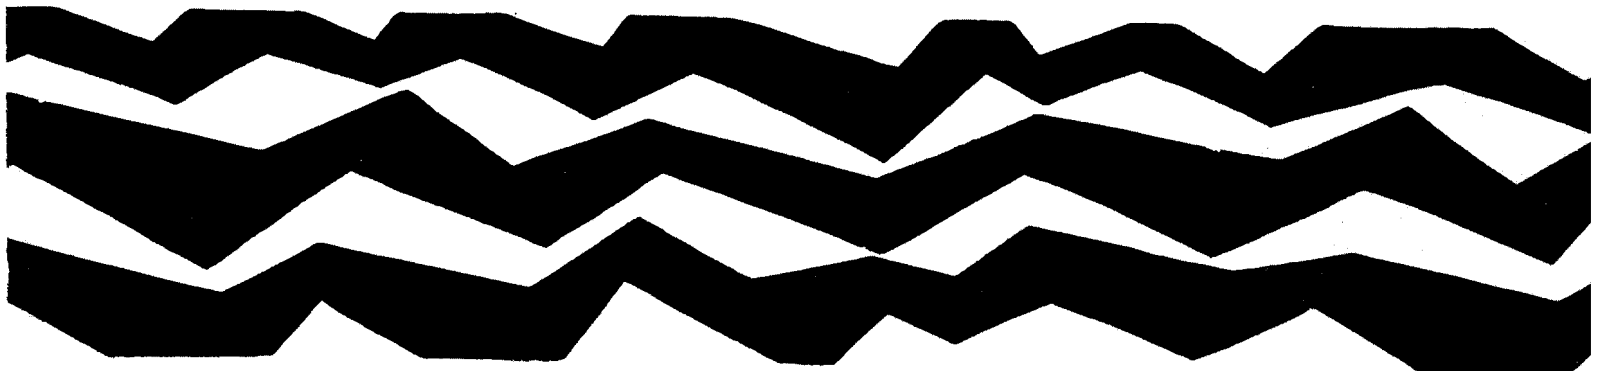

Mrs. Vlasta Baskin, instructor in Russian, gives a student individual help.

Up-to-the-minute equipment does much to aid teaching and learning.

SSC 14

The Savages ended a 14 game losing streak by downing a big Memphis team in the mud.

MEMPHIS NAVY 6

SSC 6

The Kangaroo passing attack proved fatal to Savage hopes. The Savages scored in the final period to avert shutout.

AUSTIN 27

SSC 0

Two Savage drives were halted in the last period as teams battled to a deadlock in rain and mud. Contest was marred by fumbles and interceptions.

OUACHITA 0

SSC 20

The Redmen fell victims to an impressive 20 point first period as the Savages notched their first conference victory. Savage scoring featured 65 and 91 yard jaunts.

NORTHEASTERN 12

SSC 13

Leading 7-6 at halftime, the Savages were blasted by the conference champions.

LANGSTON 54

SSC 20

The tribe lost a heartbreaker as the Rangers scored the decisive tally in the last 13 seconds.

NORTHWESTERN 25

SSC 14

The Savages spoiled the Bulldog homecoming with an outstanding defensive effort. Passing attack netted both touchdowns.

SOUTHWESTERN 13

SSC 20

Trailing 20-0 at halftime, the tribe dealt the undefeated Wonder Boys a nightmarish final half.

ARKANSAS TECH 26

SSC 20

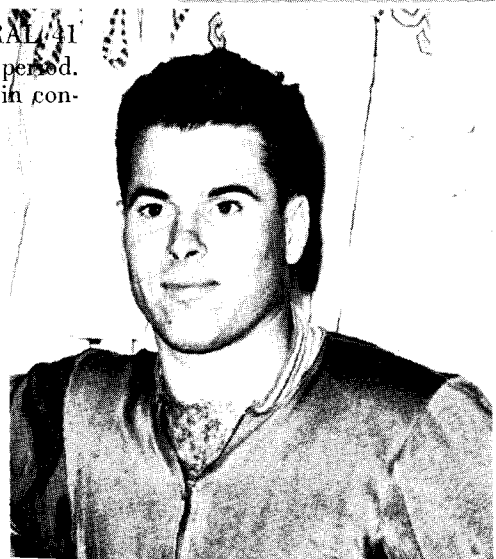

The Savages treated a homecoming crowd with a high-geared aerial attack to drop the Bronchos.

CENTRAL 14

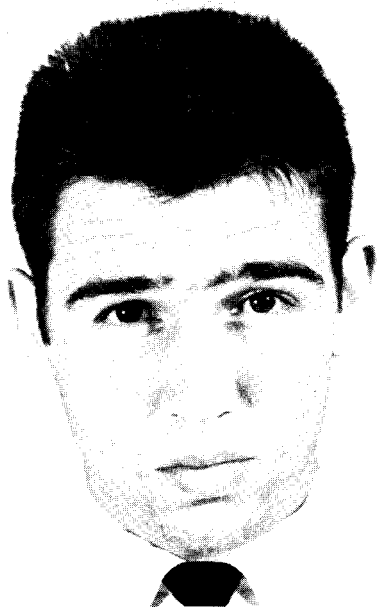

SSC 26

The Tigers crossed the goal line four times in the final period. The setback gave the Savages records of 3-3 and 4-5-1 in conference and season play.

SPOTLIGHT

TEN PRETTY GIRLS

Ten Pretty Girls at Southeastern State College are Judy Rhoades, Sharon Hewitt, Sally Murray, Louise Ricketts, Linda Reynolds, Jane Galloway, Sue Patty, Rosemary Dobson, Gloria Stewart, and Donna Ellis.

The spirit of competition is fanned every year with the contest for the Ten Pretty Girls, sponsored by Cardinal Key. Voting blanks are available to every student to vote for his choice of the ten prettiest. From these nominations the top twenty are selected. These twenty present a style show for the student body, ballots are passed out, and students again select their top ten.

The Parisian models of Monsieur Choaté formed the theme of this year's style show.

After the top ten emerge triumphant, there is one more obstacle for the queen to overcome. She must be chosen by the judge of the annual contest. This year's judge is an island, or to be a little more specific, a group of Air Force men stationed on an island. The 720th Aircraft Control and Warning Squadron of Middletown Island selected for the 1961 Savage Queen . . .

MIDDLETON ISLAND SELECTS SAVAGE QUEEN

720TH AIRCRAFT CONTROL AND WARNING SQUADRON (AAC)
United States Air Force
APO 735, Seattle, Washington

8 February 1961

Miss Peggy Holder
Southeastern State College
Box 84
Station "A"
Durant, Oklahoma

Dear Miss Holder,

It is my pleasure to inform you that the personnel of this squadron have elected Miss Linda Reynolds to reign as queen for the 1961 Savage.

The selection itself placed a pleasant hardship on all personnel, in that it was extremely difficult to choose one winner from the ten contestants. Many voices were raised in support of their favorite and a lot of politicking was in evidence throughout the squadron.

The queen was chosen by popular vote. The ten pictures were displayed the day before the election so all personnel could decide on their favorite. A vote was taken on February 6, 1961 by all squadron personnel and the winner was decided by simple majority. Needless to say, with so many lovely misses to choose from the vote was extremely close.

The pictures of the contestants are returned herein along with several pictures of the site and site personnel as requested. A brief history of Middleton Island is also enclosed as requested.

All personnel here have expressed regret that the pictures had to be returned. If it is possible, the squadron would appreciate a copy of the picture of the queen used in the 1961 Savage be sent to the squadron so it may be placed in a place of honor as the queen which the 720th AC&W elected.

All members of the squadron have asked that I send you our expression of thanks for giving us the honor of selecting this year's queen. We all wish her a long and happy reign.

Sincerely,

Charles P. Carver

FRIENDSHIP FIRE

... annual event at SSC and one of the most admired of its traditions. Each organization nominates its friendliest boy and girl to carry a symbolic emblem to the fire.

From each of the organizations' nominations the friendliest boy and girl are selected by an all-school election. Held at OPC the ceremony draws heavily from the Indian heritage of Oklahoma.

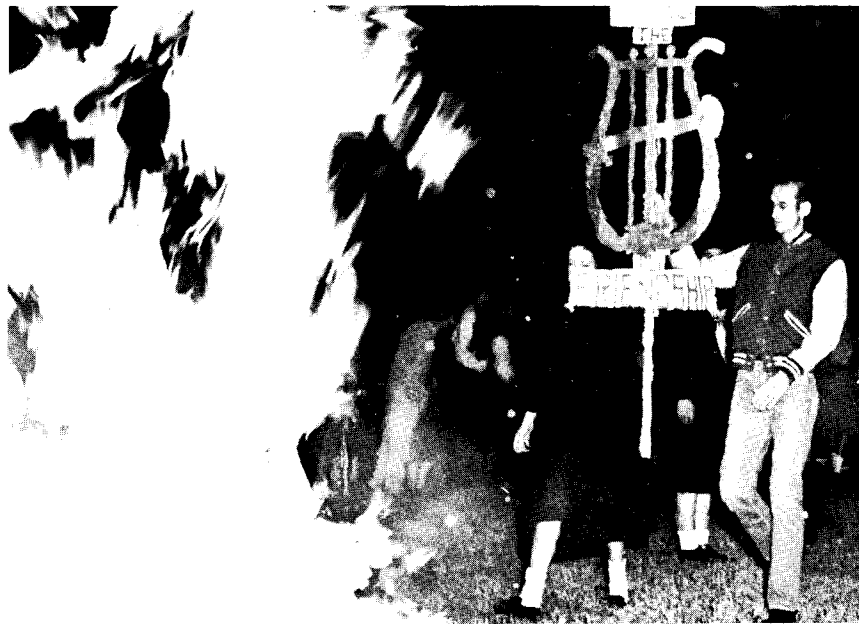

Signal fires at four corners start the torches that are carried to the main bonfire, symbolic of the torches of friendship from the four corners of the world.

This year's friendliest boy and girl were June McPhetridge, Atoka, and Charley Park, Wister.

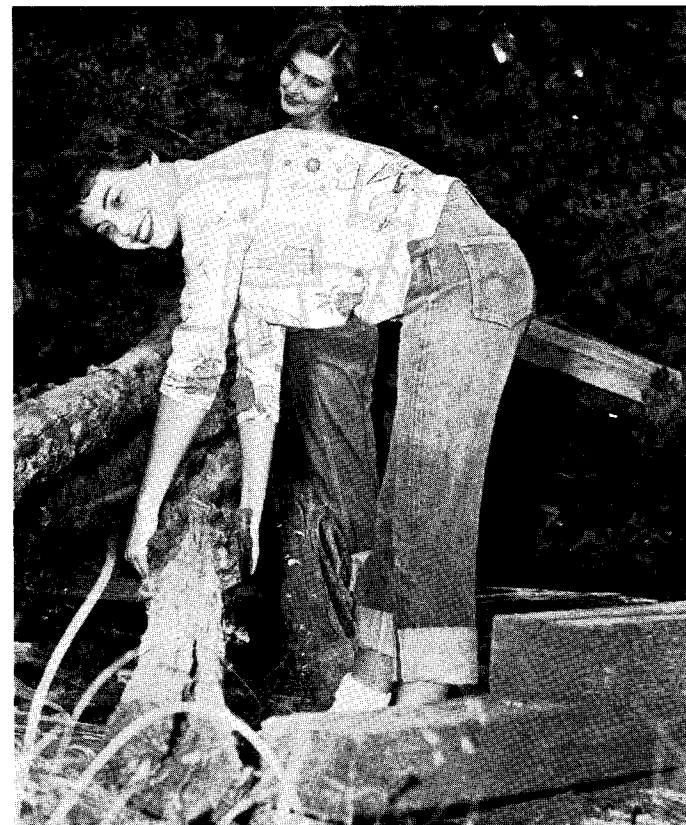

June was nominated by Sigma Kappa, social sorority, and Charley represented the student senate.
