COLLEGE BOOK Exchange saves many shopping trips by stocking supplies needed by busy students. Corky Oliver and Larry Dyson are engaged in a lively discussion with their friend Charlie Brown.

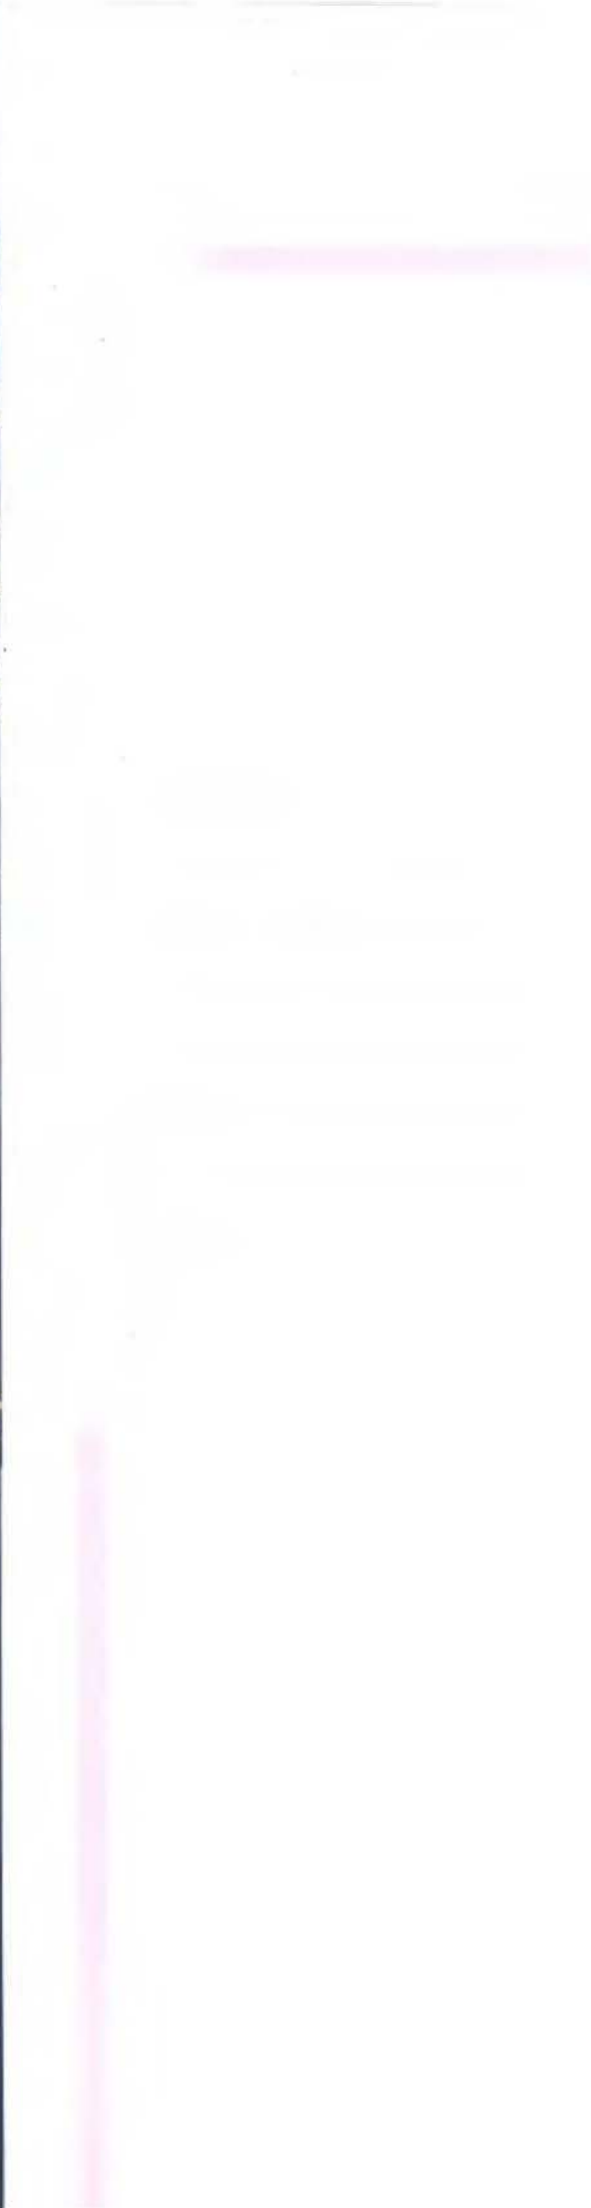

NEWSPAPERS KEEP students informed of happenings in the outside world. Tom Johnson takes advantage of Hallie McKinney Hall's lounge to read about the day's events.

Relaxation, Too, Is Part of College Student's Life

THE STUDENT LOUNGE is a favorite gathering place at any time of the day. Larry Alley, Martha Belch, Wilma McCurry and Lutricia Williams find it a relaxing place to sit after dinner.

Southeastern Emphasis Is on the Academic

Contrary to many cynical critics, college life is principally academic. SSC students will readily tell you of the hours spent in the classroom, laboratory, and the library. These hours are the most important ones of their day.

JOHN IMES finds an experiment in organic chemistry very tedious.

TO ACQUAINT new freshmen with the operations and activities of Southeastern State College is the main objective of Freshman Orientation. The freshmen also study the uses of the Library and have interesting speakers from the college faculty.

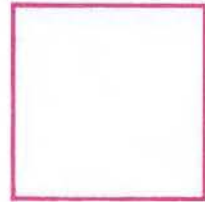

OF THE 1250 MILES of shore line touched by Lake Texoma probably the most popular swimming area is the Catfish Bay beach. This is not only enjoyed by college students but by many families who visit Lake Texoma during the summer.

Lake Texoma Spells Both Recreation and

IT IS HARD for summer students to attend classes with such a beautiful scene so near.

Research for Southeastern

The beauty of Lake Texoma is not only attractive to tourists and vacationers but to students as well. The call of the lake, especially in the summer, is answered by the pleasure seekers, by the studios, by Southeastern music campers and math institute members, by picnickers, and by biologists with research on their minds. Remove Southeastern's own resort and you've taken away one of her most unique attractions.

THE LONG SUMMER gives Southeastern students plenty of time to perfect their water skiing abilities.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES climax senior week.

Commencement Is a

Always an occasion to look forward to is graduation. The supreme aim of all college students is to walk across the stage to receive that long-anticipated diploma.

As encouraging evidence that the degree will be awarded, there are the invitation to the President's Reception and congratulations from college administrators and their wives.

Time for Tradition and Fulfillment of Goals

FACULTY MEMBERS help with the President's Reception.

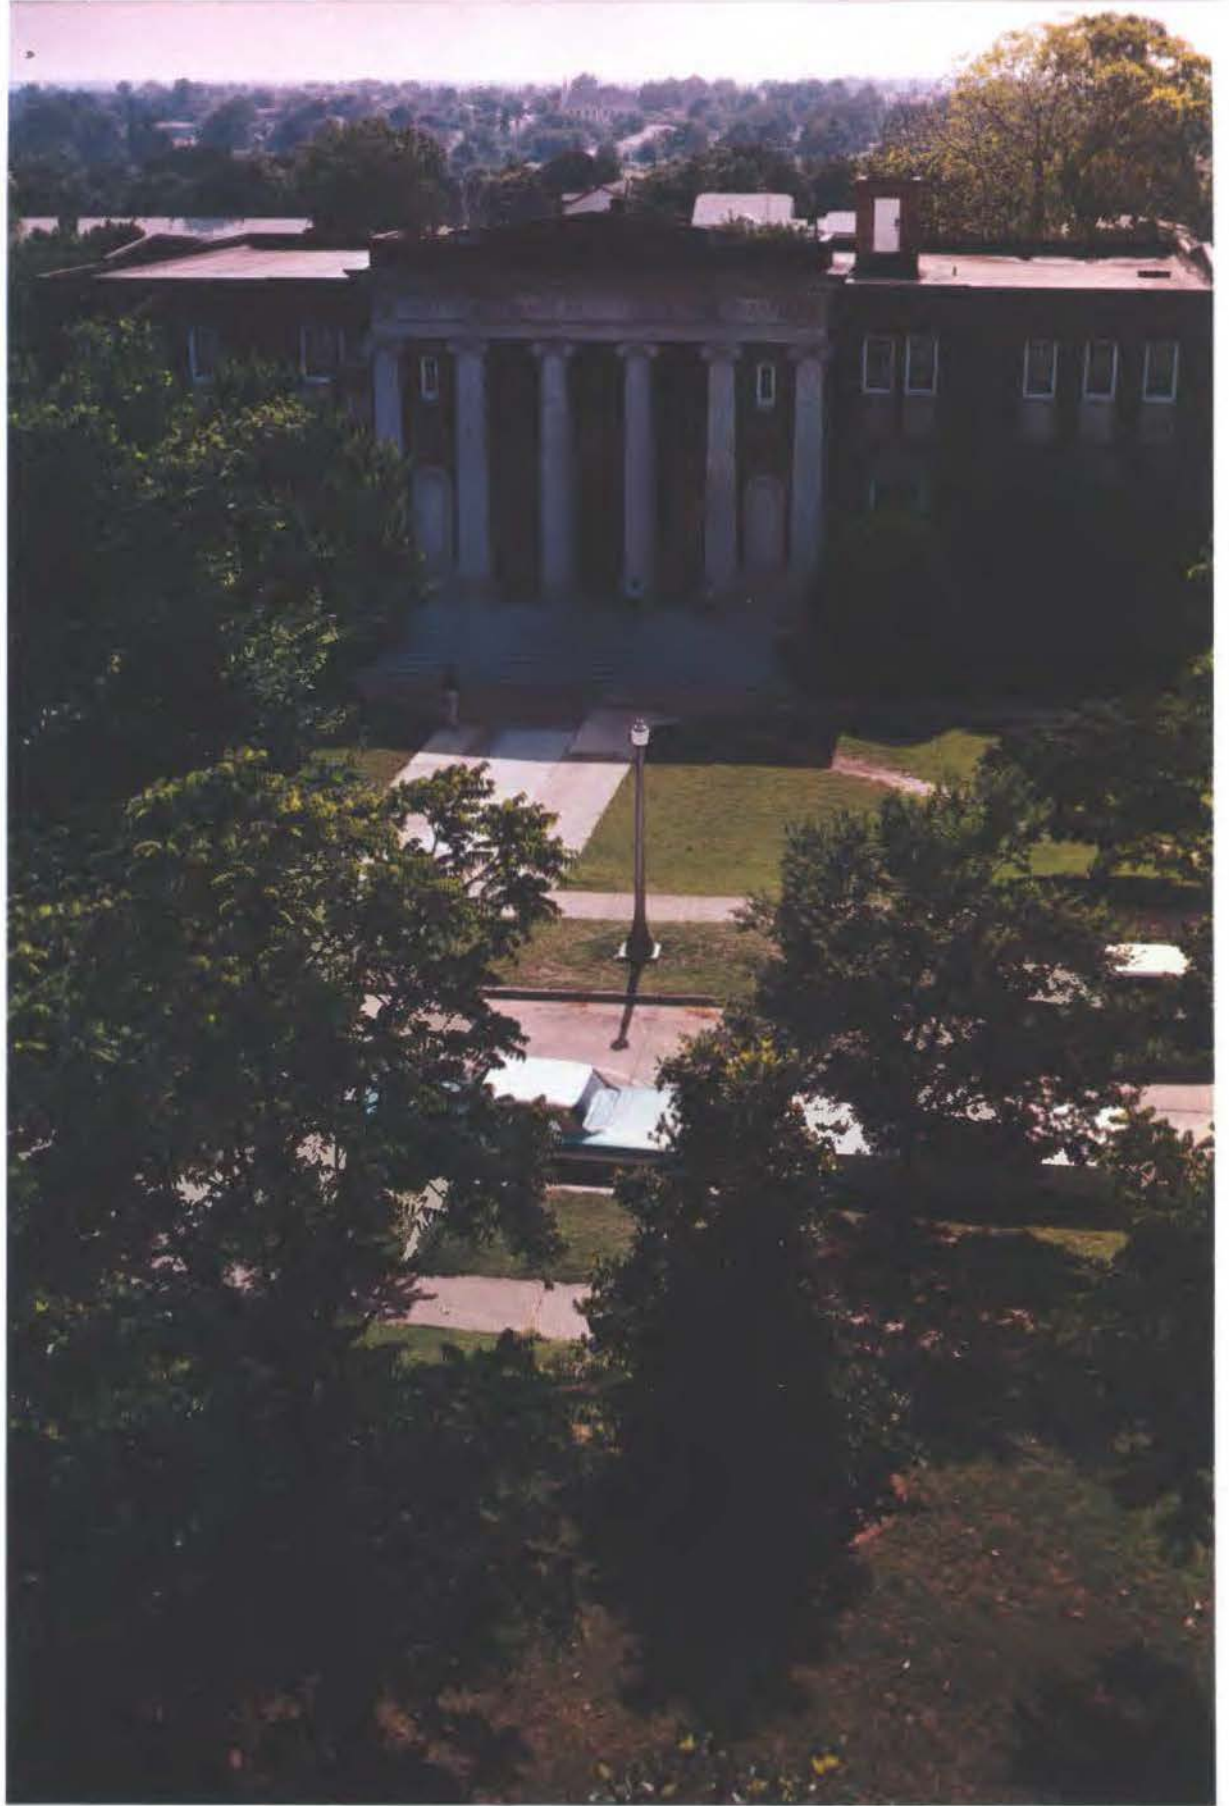

Tomorrow's Goals Are Set Today

As each student strives today for a goal that will put him ahead tomorrow, he realizes that it is the effort and production one puts out today that makes tomorrow more meaningful. In these routine days of campus life, the student often cannot determine exactly what will contribute to his anticipated goal but he realizes that a well-rounded academic program interspersed with some social activity and many friends will best achieve his height of ambition.

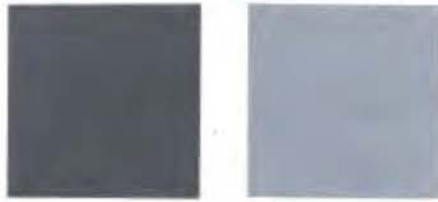

On the continually growing campus of Southeastern, the library stands as a center of academic life, a challenge to each student to aim high so that success will await him upon graduation.

LEARNING TO PRINT may be incidental in Art 103 but is certainly valuable to Elementary Education majors. Richard Bivins is showing lettering techniques to one of the students.

Aside from the traditional instruction of art which ranges from oil painting to crafts, Southeastern's versatile art department includes on its schedule of activities the annual Beaux Arts Ball, an all campus event, and art exhibits all through the year.

The department purposefully tries to teach students to become good art consumers so that their future lives may be fully enriched through the application and appreciation of art.

Business Education Train

The college's Business Department has as prime objective the training of business education teachers. Of equal concern is the training for careers in industry. In this connection, students are made aware of the automation and new machines in business as an industry.

Learning skills which are to be taught is fundamental for prospective business teachers.

Education Department

Teacher education has been Southeastern's first role since the college, originally known as a "normal," was founded in 1909. Classroom study and practice teaching are the two aspects of training stressed in Southeastern's Education Department.

Professional education, in all of its areas, is part of the study of the majority of Southeastern students.

and Offers New Services

Among other courses of special interest offered by the English department is English as a second language for foreign students. The class is conducted by Helen Scroggins, who also advises foreign students. An increase in the number of foreign students on the campus necessitated such instruction.

Students work diligently in Sigma Tau Delta, professional English fraternity and such areas as journalism to gain proficiency and experience in the field.

During the spring plans were made for a summer workshop in English which will be co-sponsored by the National Council of Teachers of English. Dr. Slaughter, whose work in NCTE is widely known, has continued to work as a national leader in improving the quality of English teaching.

Modern foreign language classes are developing rapidly through the efforts of Wade and Pat Baskin. Classes in Spanish, German, French, and Russian are offered and meet at the OPC language center.

Students have been introduced to the most modern equipment available to the field. Several took part in a demonstration of materials and techniques at a one-day Foreign Language Workshop sponsored by Southeastern-OPC.

Home Economics Study

Home economics study at Southeastern not only stresses the traditional arts and crafts of homemaking but also strives to develop students' ability to make intelligent choices in many areas of daily living

The study of nutrition, particularly on the part of future teachers, has continued to gain emphasis in this field of study. Home economics students put their study into practice when they plan and prepare meals for guests and at teas and other social events.

The Industrial Arts Department offers courses in woodworking, auto mechanics, metal working, photography, home mechanics, electricity and electronics, technical drawing, and arts and crafts.

Instruction in the field of electronics has been enlarged with the introduction of equipment designed by instructors Troyce McGovern and Harold Lynn. A spring exhibit was held in Oklahoma City at the state agency for surplus goods.

A new course in radio theory has been added to the curriculum. Upon completion of the course, the student receives a radio telephone operators license.

Southeastern Has Become Known

Southeastern's reputation as a center of mathematics study continues to grow in a manner which has attracted national attention.

Dr. Dwight and his staff are almost as busy "on the road" as on campus as they conduct in-service classes and work with parents of public school children.

National Science Foundation programs are in progress throughout the year, with the summer turning the department into an "institute center."

The department keeps its students informed about career possibilities and also sponsors career clinics for high school students.

Lloyd Cook began new duties as Band Director. The Marching Band performed first at Homecoming and ended its season with a half-time performance at Ada.

Concerts and tours were major activities of the Concert Band.

The Chorale's concerts and tours were equally successful and earned wide-spread praise.

Clinic and festivals brought hundreds of visiting high school students to the campus.

Physical science study at Southeastern continues to keep pace with national trends in this area of study.

Seminars, staff members' participation in professional meetings, and in in-service institutes have again been part of the physics and chemistry picture.

In the spring students learned that their chemistry study would broaden next year with the addition of key laboratory equipment provided through a National Science Foundation grant.

As pre-medical advisor, Sturch is particularly interested in these three students who have been accepted in medical schools for next fall. The doctors-to-be are Whulen Cox, Zenobia Cothran, and Jackie Pettet.

Speech Department

Plays presented by the speech department included "Madwoman of Chaillot" by Giraudoux and "Blithe Spirit" by Noel Coward and were under the direction of new instructor Billye Sue Harmon. An experimental chamber and reading theater was staged in the summer.

Debate activities kept coach Douglas Duke and his students busy with campus study and research as well as with travel to tournaments in Oklahoma and neighboring states.

The 35th annual Savage Forensic again attracted debaters from throughout the country. The high school tournament in the fall gave speech students experience in the operation of tournaments.

The Southeastern television and radio broadcasts were continued this year. The KXII program on speech activities included a cutting given in the play production class and a demonstration of make-up techniques learned in the make-up class.

Library Serves Whole Campus

The college library contains approximately 61,000 well chosen books, about 160,000 government documents, and a large collection of bound and unbound magazines.

For student use there is a main reading room where books for ready reference are shelved and books from the stacks are requested. Current issues and back copies of magazines and newspapers are located in the magazine room. A curriculum room contains textbooks for methods classes.

Highlights

School opens on the Campus of a Thousand Magnolias beginning a series of activities for both students and faculty members.

Through the year organizational functions, athletic events, and other extracurricular activities provide a full schedule for the busy students at Southeastern.

Reception Marks Start of New Year

Dr. and Mrs. Louis Johnson greet students at the Student-Faculty Reception and present them to President and Mrs. A. E. Shearer.

Bells and Belles Promote Campus Spirit

School spirit was important on the campus this year. The pep rallies were planned by the school spirit committee of the Student Senate. Pledges of organizations added to the assemblies by presenting skits.

The cheerleaders were active in supporting teams throughout the seasons.

ONE OF THE LARGEST pep assemblies was the one before the Austin College game.

SPECIAL LIGHTING effects were done by Billie Sue Harmon and Dorothy Higginbotham.

The 1962 annual Candlelighting Service was comprised mainly of music, sacred and secular, presented by the Southeastern Chorale and instrumental ensembles.

The first part of the program featured "For To Us A Child Is Born" by J. S. Bach. Carols of four countries made up the second part, and the third section was a presentation of "The Nutcracker Suite" by Tchaikowsky.

The stage settings, church and home scenes, were designed and built by the speech department.

Decoration of the auditorium and designing of the program, which contained a poem by George Morrow, were projects of the art department.

THE DORM representatives are Jim Grant, Shearer Hall; Ann Semple, Hallie McKinney Hall; and Gwen Glendale, O.P.C.

The Southeastern chapter of Alpha Psi Omega, national dramatics fraternity, assisted the speech department in sponsoring the major productions presented at South-eastern. During the summer term the experimental "Twilight Theatre" gave chamber theatre and reader's theatre productions.

The first annual Awards Banquet was inaugurated April 2, 1962, as a local tradition of Alpha Psi Omega. Trophies are presented each year to the Best Actress, the Best Actor, the Best Technician, and the "Top Trouper."

With College Players, Alpha Psi sponsored the prize winning booth, "Pegasus, the Flying Horse," at the Beaux Arts Ball, where its mural also received honorable mention. The organization's skit, a "Greek Western" won third place, and captured the "Best Actor" Award.

The organization is sponsored on campus by Dr. Dorothy Higginbotham, speech department chairman, and Billye Sue Harmon, dramatics professor.

Alpha Psi Omega Promotes Dramatic Projects

Kappa Delta Pi Recognizes Academic Superiority

The Beta Delta chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, national honorary education fraternity, was installed at Southeastern May 14, 1928. It is the oldest national organization on campus.

The group consists of 40 active members. New members are selected three times a year on the basis of having exceptionally high rank academically and possessing desirable qualities of leadership and character. The purpose of Kappa Delta Pi is to encourage high professional, intellectual, and personal standards and to recognize outstanding contributions to education.

Sigma Tau Delta Stresses Creative Writing

Sigma Tau Delta is a national English fraternity offering a stimulus to students of Southeastern who do creative writing of merit.

Each year the organization sponsors the appearance of at least one man of letters. During the past years such men as Carl Sandburg, John Ciardi, John Gould Fletcher, and John Joseph Mathews have been on campus.

The Sigma Tau Delta award, established in honor of Mrs. Floy Perkinson Gates, founder and former sponsor of Tau Beta chapter at Southeastern, is given each spring to a selected English major.

This year the group initiated plans to sponsor a literary booklet of student creative writing and poetry.

Members of Sigma Tau Delta are Sally Murray, Kandi McKown, Jane New, Suzanne Renshaw and Raymond Piller. (standing) Jim Barnes, George Morrow, Carl Armstrong, and Dr. Slaughter.

The Southeastern chapter of Pi Omega Pi, sponsored by Dr. Linnie Ruth Hall, is composed of business education students whose qualifications include superior academic standing.

Pledge and initiation ceremonies this year were again important occasions.

Meetings were pleasant get-togethers and also included programs of professional interest to the members.

Delegates to the Chicago national Pi Omega Pi convention in December were Roberta Cobb and Joan Hughes.

Throughout Southeastern Area

Vocal music groups, directed by George Smith, made an important contribution to Southeastern and the community.

The Chorale is the music department's select choir while membership in the Chorus is open to students who enjoy singing and are interested in improving singing techniques.

The men's and women's trios are greatly in demand throughout the Texoma area for many different types of programs.

A high point of the year for the Chorale was its participation in the Candlelighting Service with the J. S. Bach cantata, "For To Us A Child Is Born," carols representing different countries of the world, and, a final selection, Tchaikowsky's "Nutcracker Suite."

Broadway musicals were an important source of supply for the girls trio's programs this year, while the boys ensemble had a generous supply of folk songs.

Groups Through Impressive Year

Starting off with impressive performances as a marching organization during football season, the Southeastern Band, under the new direction of Lloyd Cook, continued accumulating fans and admirers throughout the 1962-63 school year.

With the annual Winter Concert at Christmastime heralding the band's season as a concert group, the organization also contributed highly appreciated portions of the Candlelighting Service.

Five hundred high school students and visiting directors had warm praise for the Southeastern Band when it was featured on the program at the first annual Woodwind Clinic at the opening of the new year. Special billing went to the flute section and the trumpet trio, composed of Ronnie Wright, Jack Green, and Jim Gabbard.

Spring programs and concerts added still more to the stature of the instrumentalists.

Student Publications Play Major Role

TY COMSTOCK is Mailing Manager for the SOUTHEASTERN, and Don Tucker is the Business-Manager for the SAVAGE.

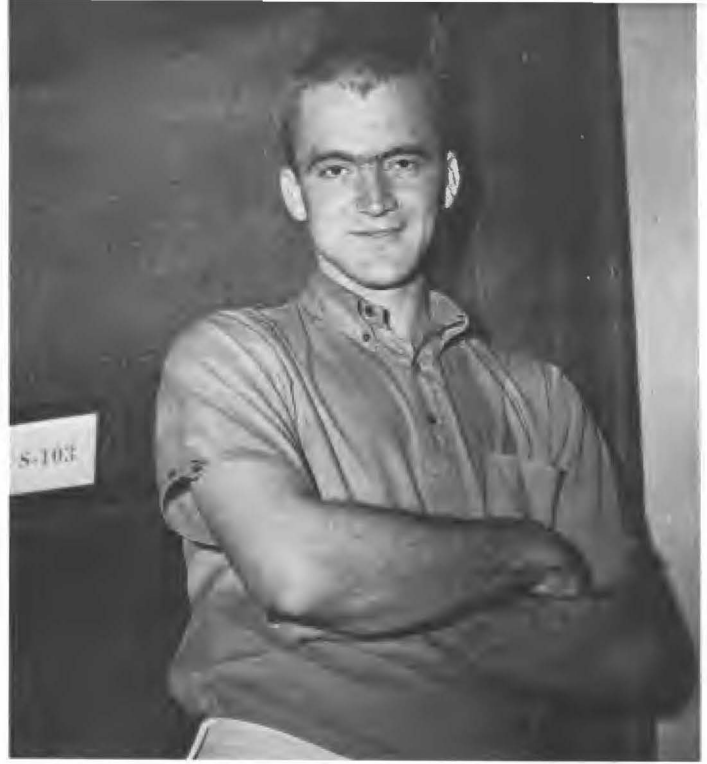

STUDENT PUBLICATIONS play an important role at Southeastern for the campus in general and for those students, in particular, who work on the staff of The Southeastern, weekly student newspaper, or The Savage, college yearbook.

Reporters on The Southeastern are journalism students whose principal training and study involves campus "beats," camera assignments, headline-writing, copy reading and proofreading.

Savage staff members, chosen by the Editor, get comparable experience in both journalism and art.

The fall rush party for Delta Zeta sorority carried out a "Nite Club" theme and a more informal rush party was held in February. Founders Day celebration was held October 24 commemorating the founding of this, the largest national intercollegiate sorority in the nation. An alumnae tea was held the day of homecoming. Delta Zeta also sponsors an annual spring dance.

This year Southeastern's chapter, Eta Zeta, one of the seven chapters in Oklahoma, received the National Scholarship Award. Delta Zeta's float received honorable mention in the homecoming parade. The Beaux Arts Ball honored representatives Kay Roberts Green and Joe Taylor as queen and king.

Under the leadership of Miss Ruth Hatchett and Dr. Bernice Crockett, Delta Zeta has been functioning on this campus since 1958.

Lambda Psi Omega was founded as a local fraternity at Southeastern in the spring of 1961. Active membership presently numbers 37.

Under the sponsorship of Dr. Donald Brown and Marvin Layman, Lambda Psi has established annual social events including a Christmas Dance and an Alumni smoker during the fall semester. The spring semester calendar showed a dance that has also become an annual event.

Rush parties for prospective members often take a peculiar turn as did the "audience participation" rush held in the fall.

TIPPER LIVINGSTON is announced as TKE Dreamgirl by Oran Chappell, president.

Parents of Tekes are honored at the Chapter House each year at Parents Day. The Teke Dreamgirl was selected before the Red Carnation Ball to represent the Chapter at social functions and activities.

Epsilon-Theta Chapter, having an active membership of 22, for three straight years has won the scholarship award sponsored by the area province of TKE. The chapter was also named first runnerup by TKE International for the Scholarship Supremacy Award.

The local chapter was founded at Southeastern May, 1956, and is sponsored by Raymond Piller.

ACADEMY YEARBOOK

3 February 1963

Miss Jane New
Station A, Box 62
Southeastern State College
Durant,
Oklahoma

Dear Miss New:

It was a real pleasure for our staff to play a part in choosing a yearbook queen for the SAVAGE. We were quite impressed with the candidates, and the final decision was difficult and very close, though a bad decision would have been impossible.

As you will see, #3 was judged most beautiful, while numbers 8 and 4 were runners-up. Due to a time problem with getting film developed, we are not returning any action shots of the judging. I will include a few individual shots of cadets taking part in the judging with this letter, and if you need something other than these, let me know, and I will take care of it.

Congratulations to your queen and to your school for having so many pretty girls. We're jealous! Best of luck.

Sincerely,

Dennis W Stiles

SOUTHEASTERN 16, AUSTIN COLLEGE 14

Savages slipped by Austin College 16-14 to post their second win of the season.

The winning margin was provided by Stan Payne as he split the uprights with a 14-yard field goal. Touchdowns were scored by Charlie Johnson and Granville Chandler.

The Austin win followed an opening victory over an experienced Memphis Navy team, 20-13.

SOUTHEASTERN 7, NORTHEASTERN 20

The Savages of Southeastern got their first taste of defeat when the Redmen of Northeastern turned the trick with a 20-7 win.

SOUTHEASTERN 21, PANHANDLE A&M 21

Southeastern's surprising Savages invaded Panhandle A&M, to a 21-21 standoff. After a 50-yard scamper by Landis Denley, Charlie Johnson hit Branson Metcalf for a fourteen-yard touchdown pass.

For the second touchdown, Johnson hit Bailey with a pass who then lateraled to Chandler who raced into the end zone.

After a series of twelve plays, Duke Christian rammed into the end zone for the third and final touchdown.

SOUTHEASTERN 20, SOUTHWESTERN 25

Southwestern came from behind with less than five minutes left in the game to edge the Savages 25-20.

Southwestern jumped to an early 7-0 lead.

Southeastern returned the kick-off up to the 26 but was unable to move against the Southwestern defense. The Bulldogs scored and left the score 13-0.

The Bulldogs were unable to stop the charge and Southeastern struck pay dirt on a 13-yard pass play from Christian to Metcalf. The PAT was good and the Savages trailed 13-7.

In the third period the Savages were able to push across two more scores. Chandler accounted for one score on a 21-yard scamper and Butch Thomason added the other on a 22-yard run later in the period.

Southwestern scored leaving the score 25-20.

SOUTHEASTERN 7, CENTRAL STATE 33

Central State smothered a fired-up Savage squad to hold them 33-7. Briggs scored three of the Bronchos' touchdowns and played havoc all night with the Savage line.

The Bronchos led at halftime with a score of 20-0.

Southeastern came back fired up and held the Central State Bronchos scoreless through the third quarter.

The Savages made their only touchdown when Butch Thomason drove into the end zone for the score. Butch added the extra point and the game ended 33-7.

SOUTHEASTERN 12, LANGSTON 12

Langston was not denied during the Southeastern game as the Lions came roaring back late in the fourth quarter to knot the score 12-12.

The first TD came in the second quarter when Duke Christian hit Jerry Bailey with a pass who then raced into the end zone for the score.

Johnson took the second half kick-off and returned it to the 21. Christian then connected for his second TD toss of the night when he hit Granville Chandler who scored on a 79-yard run.

SOUTHEASTERN 14, NORTHWESTERN 0

Coach Bob Thomas' chargers outlasted a tough Northwestern crew winning their third victory of the season 14-0. This was the first victory over Northwestern in 4 years.

The "Monster" defense was really in action as the Savages held the Rangers to 110 yards rushing.

Midway in the second period Duke Christian hit Jerry Bailey and Gary Jones for short yardage and then made a perfect lateral to Jones for 40 yards.

On a fumble by Jones, Bailey recovered for the touchdown. The Savages led 7-0.

For the second touchdown Thomason powered his way down to the Rangers' 3-yard line and Christian added the other 3 yards to finish the game 14-0.

SOUTHEASTERN 7, ARKANSAS TECH 13

Southeastern could not get its offense off the ground and dropped its third game of the season to Arkansas Tech 13-7.

Southeastern uncorked one of its most successful plays of the season. Gary Jones took a punt on the mid-field stripe, faked the handoff and went 50 yards down the east side-line for the score. Butch Thomason booted the ball through the uprights for the extra point and the Savages trailed 13-7.

SOUTHEASTERN 20, EAST CENTRAL 41

In their final game of the season the Southeastern Savages fought the East Central Tigers down to the wire before bowing 41-20 to the powerful chargers from Ada.

The Savages had their sights set on an upset and took the following kickoff and marched 60 yards for the tally. Christian carried the final yard and the 6 points. Thomason's kick was wide and the Savages trailed 7-6.

Christian skillfully guided the team down to East Central's 28-yard line where Thomason took the ball down the sidelines for the score. Thomason also added the PAT to make the score 14-13.

Both teams scored later in the game and the score stood 41-20.

THE SOUTHEASTERN TENNIS TEAM for the 1963 season, Ike Groce, Mack Dyer, Coach Clarence Dyer, Mike Kennedy and Steve Roemer.

New Season Is Under Way for

The 1963 tennis team is one of the best teams in depth that Southeastern has ever had.

Coach Dyer knows as much about tennis as any coach in the nation having had 17 years experience in the field. For the past two years he has turned out the OCC champs who went on to be runnersup in the National NAIA Tournament.

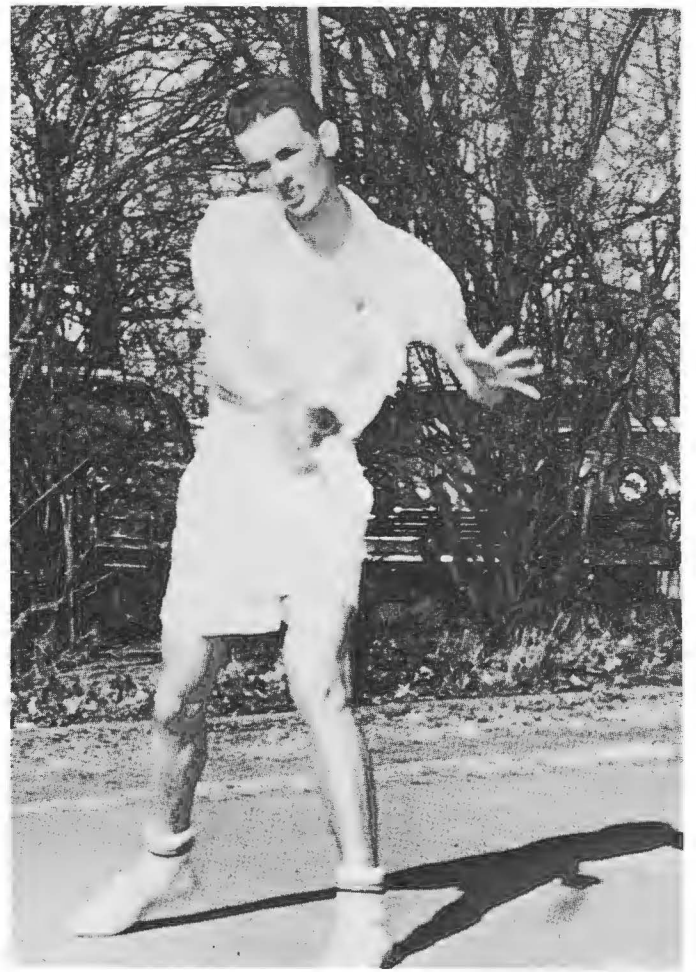

One of his strongest points is the way he works with each boy individually and gives him personal instruction. He also spends as much time on the hard courts as the members of his squad. Coach Dyer is known for "taking an average player and making a great player."

Bloomer Sullivan, serves as both Head Basketball Coach and Athletic Director at Southeastern. Sullivan was chosen NAIA Coach-of-the-Year in 1957. Other honors include being chosen to the Helm's Foundation Hall of Fame and being picked as the Oklahoma Collegiate Conference Coach-of-the-Year three times. His teams have won the conference championship more than those of any other coach, and have appeared in the NAIA finals three times.

In addition to assisting with varsity sports, Don Parham teaches physical education and directs the intramural program.

Savages Close Season in Third Place

MARTIN UNDER for two in Phillips slaughter.

The Southeastern Savages closed the '62-'63 season by tying for third place in the OCC.

Connie McGuire finished in 4th place with an 18.3 scoring average. Other Savages getting recognition in collegiate conference scoring were Harold McDaniel, Tommy Hedrick, and Elvin Sweeten.

The Savages finished second to Pan American in the Holiday Tournament in Edinburg, Texas, and took third place in the Christmas Festival Tournament at Lake Charles, La. McGuire was named all-tournament center in both bouts.

Injuries were prominent in the Savage squad this year. Elvin Sweeten was only able to play first semester due to an arm injury. McGuire's hope of securing the conference scoring championship was lost when he was sidelined for two weeks because of an ankle injury.

The Seniors on the Savage squad were CECIL WILLIAMSON, HAROLD McDANIEL, and CONNIE MCGUIRE.
