Meanwhile . . . . .

Four thousand students under one thousand magnolias

STUDENT LIFE at Southeastern Oklahoma State University consisted of a wide variety of activity. Students found themselves faced with the responsibilities of academics, full and part-time employment, and extracurricular activities.

New acquaintances were made and lasting friendships achieved beneath the branches of "The One Thousand Magnolias."

To escape the pressures of scholastics students discovered many ways to relax and enjoy the company of classmates and friends. The Baptist Student Union and the Wesley Center were two such places students went to fellowship with others. The beaches of Lake Texoma, located west of Durant, were also frequented by students seeking the fun and relaxation the sands and water provided.

Educational pressures, job responsibilities, extracurricular activities, friendships, and fun incorporated to provide students with lifelong memories of their attendance at Southeastern.

TOP RIGHT: One person at a time is about all the computer nook in Choctaw Tower Residence Hall can accommodate. This student takes advantage of its placid atmosphere to complete a homework assignment. BELOW: Student workers are a valuable asset in the campus police department. Brothers Scott and Clent Horner along with Dispatcher Jean Lester work numerous hours helping the Campus Police Officers insure the safety of those who attend and work at Southeastern.

On location at Southeastern

PLACES on "The Campus of the One Thousand Magnolias," include many unique buildings that are home to classrooms, laboratories, administrative offices, residence halls, food services and other facilities that keep Southeastern functioning.

If students desire a serene place to study they may choose the library or the secluded amphitheater located north of Choctaw and Chickasaw Towers.

The front lawn of Morrison Hall is the site of a beautiful flowing fountain and shady magnolias beneath which students relax and enjoy the outdoors.

For their entertainment a recreation center is provided for students who relish physical activity. It contains both basketball and racquetball courts and a weight room. The "Rec" is located on Montgomery Drive east of the Savage Baseball locker room.

Most students have a place they like to visit on campus. It may be The Coffee Shop, Baptist Student Union, Library, Wesley Center or their own dormitory room. Wherever it is it will always be remembered as their "favorite place" at Southeastern.

Making friends and getting organized

ORGANIZATIONS gave students the opportunity to make new friends, express their creativity and gain knowledge along with support from others.

The Student Senate took stands in support of student sentiment while Fraternities and Sororities provided students with a sense of unity and assuredness. Academic societies provided students with the chance to acquire additional wisdom and express their opinions.

Religious unions made it possible for students to find support and fellowship with other students and staff.

Whether it was academic related or just for their own enjoyment, organizations provided for companionship and communication.

The extravaganza continues

EVENTS that took place throughout the year contributed to the memories that students acquired of their attendance at Southeastern. Functions such as Homecoming, The Christmas Ball, Theatre Productions, Special Olympics, Debate Tournaments and countless others involved people who attempted to make the most of their time and talents.

A new event at Southeastern was Camp Savage. It is a special day of welcoming new freshmen to our campus. It is an informative and fun-filled day in which new students receive an introduction to the university. Camp Savage was held the day before classes began in the fall semester and was voluntarily staffed by Super Savage Leaders.

The hard work, dedication and togetherness that people exhibited while preparing for each event symbolized the devotion that Southeastern has for its students.

Catch the Savage Spirit

ATHLETICS played a large part in the extracurricular lives of students that attended Southeastern. Whether they participated as players or supporters most students contributed a sizable portion of their spare time involved with SOSU sports activities.

Basketball, Baseball, Football, Men's and Women's Tennis teams, Track and Cheerleading united to form an athletic program that Southeastern is proud of.

Intramural sports were offered to students who did not engage in the regular athletic curriculum. Men's, Women's and Co-Ed softball and volleyball, Men's and Women's basketball and Men's football are the intramural programs that were offered.

Due in part to the excellence of Southeastern's Athletic Instructors many players have had the opportunity to extend their talents into professional athletic associations. Two of the most famous Southeastern Athletic Alumni are Brett Butler of the Los Angeles Dodgers and Dennis Rodman of the Detroit Pistons. Not only did student learn to perform at their highest potential they were taught sportsmanship, motivational and leadership skills that they maintain for a lifetime.

FACING PAGE: For many years the Savage mascot has watched over Southeastern's athletic teams. The Savage can be found at most athletic events cheering the Southeastern Savages on to victory. Spirit, the paint pony, serves as the costumed spirited side kick to the Savage. ABOVE: A southeastern football player flies high over his opponents to catch this pass during Southeastern's Homecoming game. BELOW RIGHT: Southeastern Cheerleaders along with The Savage and Spirit the paint pony are the backbone of student support during Southeastern Athletic games. BELOW LEFT: Savage Baseballer, Darren Riddle, waits patiently on first base during a District 9 play-off game at Oral Roberts University in Tulsa.

Teaching, Serving, Dedication

ADMINISTRATION, FACULTY and STAFF at Southeastern Oklahoma State University are dedicated to the excellence of the education and services that they have provided throughout the years for the students that attend S.O.S.U.

Students were not only taught educational requirements but self-esteem, motivation and communication skills were acquired from the devoted individuals employed at Southeastern.

The support that the administration, faculty and staff exhibited for each other and the students made campus life easier and enjoyable for everyone.

A place for everyone beneath the magnolias

PEOPLE came from around the world to receive their education from Southeastern Oklahoma State University. Almost everywhere you looked people were observed as outgoing and cheerful which reflected the friendly atmosphere that Southeastern projects.

The people at Southeastern went out of their way to support and encourage one another. To help new students adjust to college life, Camp Savage was introduced. A New Student Hot Line was created to answer any questions and help students with problems they faced.

The people of Southeastern-Administration, Faculty, Staff and Students united to create a comfortable environment for all to enjoy.

Activities are an important part of student life and provide a more relaxed atmosphere for the student body. These activities help students relieve the stress caused from their academic pressures. The following pages portray representative activities from among the many that occurred on campus this year.

SPRINGFEST 1991

Springfest was a week long event sponsored by the Student Senate that included mud-volleyball and other team games, lunch on the lawn, Big Man on Campus contest, evening entertainment, and a scavenger hunt. The grand finale was the Springfest Street Dance, which included the awards presentation and the Savage Body contest was held on Thursday April 25. Springfest gave the opportunity for students to let loose before the crunch of finals began.

TOUGH COMPETITION

Faculty and staff were pitted against students in competition on the front lawn of the Morrison Building during Hokey Day.

Games included frisbee golf, miniature golf, horseshoes, volleyball, sack races, tug-o-war, and softball.

SOSU Greeks kicked off the 1991 Annual Greek-Week with an inter-fraternity/sorority Sand Volleyball tournament.

Competing in the tournament were fraternities Tau Kappa Epsilon, Phi Sigma Phi, Delta Chi Delta, and Sigma Tau Gamma. Both of Southeastern's sororities, Alpha Sigma Tau and Sigma Sigma Sigma also competed.

In the final round of play, the Delta Chi Deltas became the Spring 1991 Greek-Week Sand

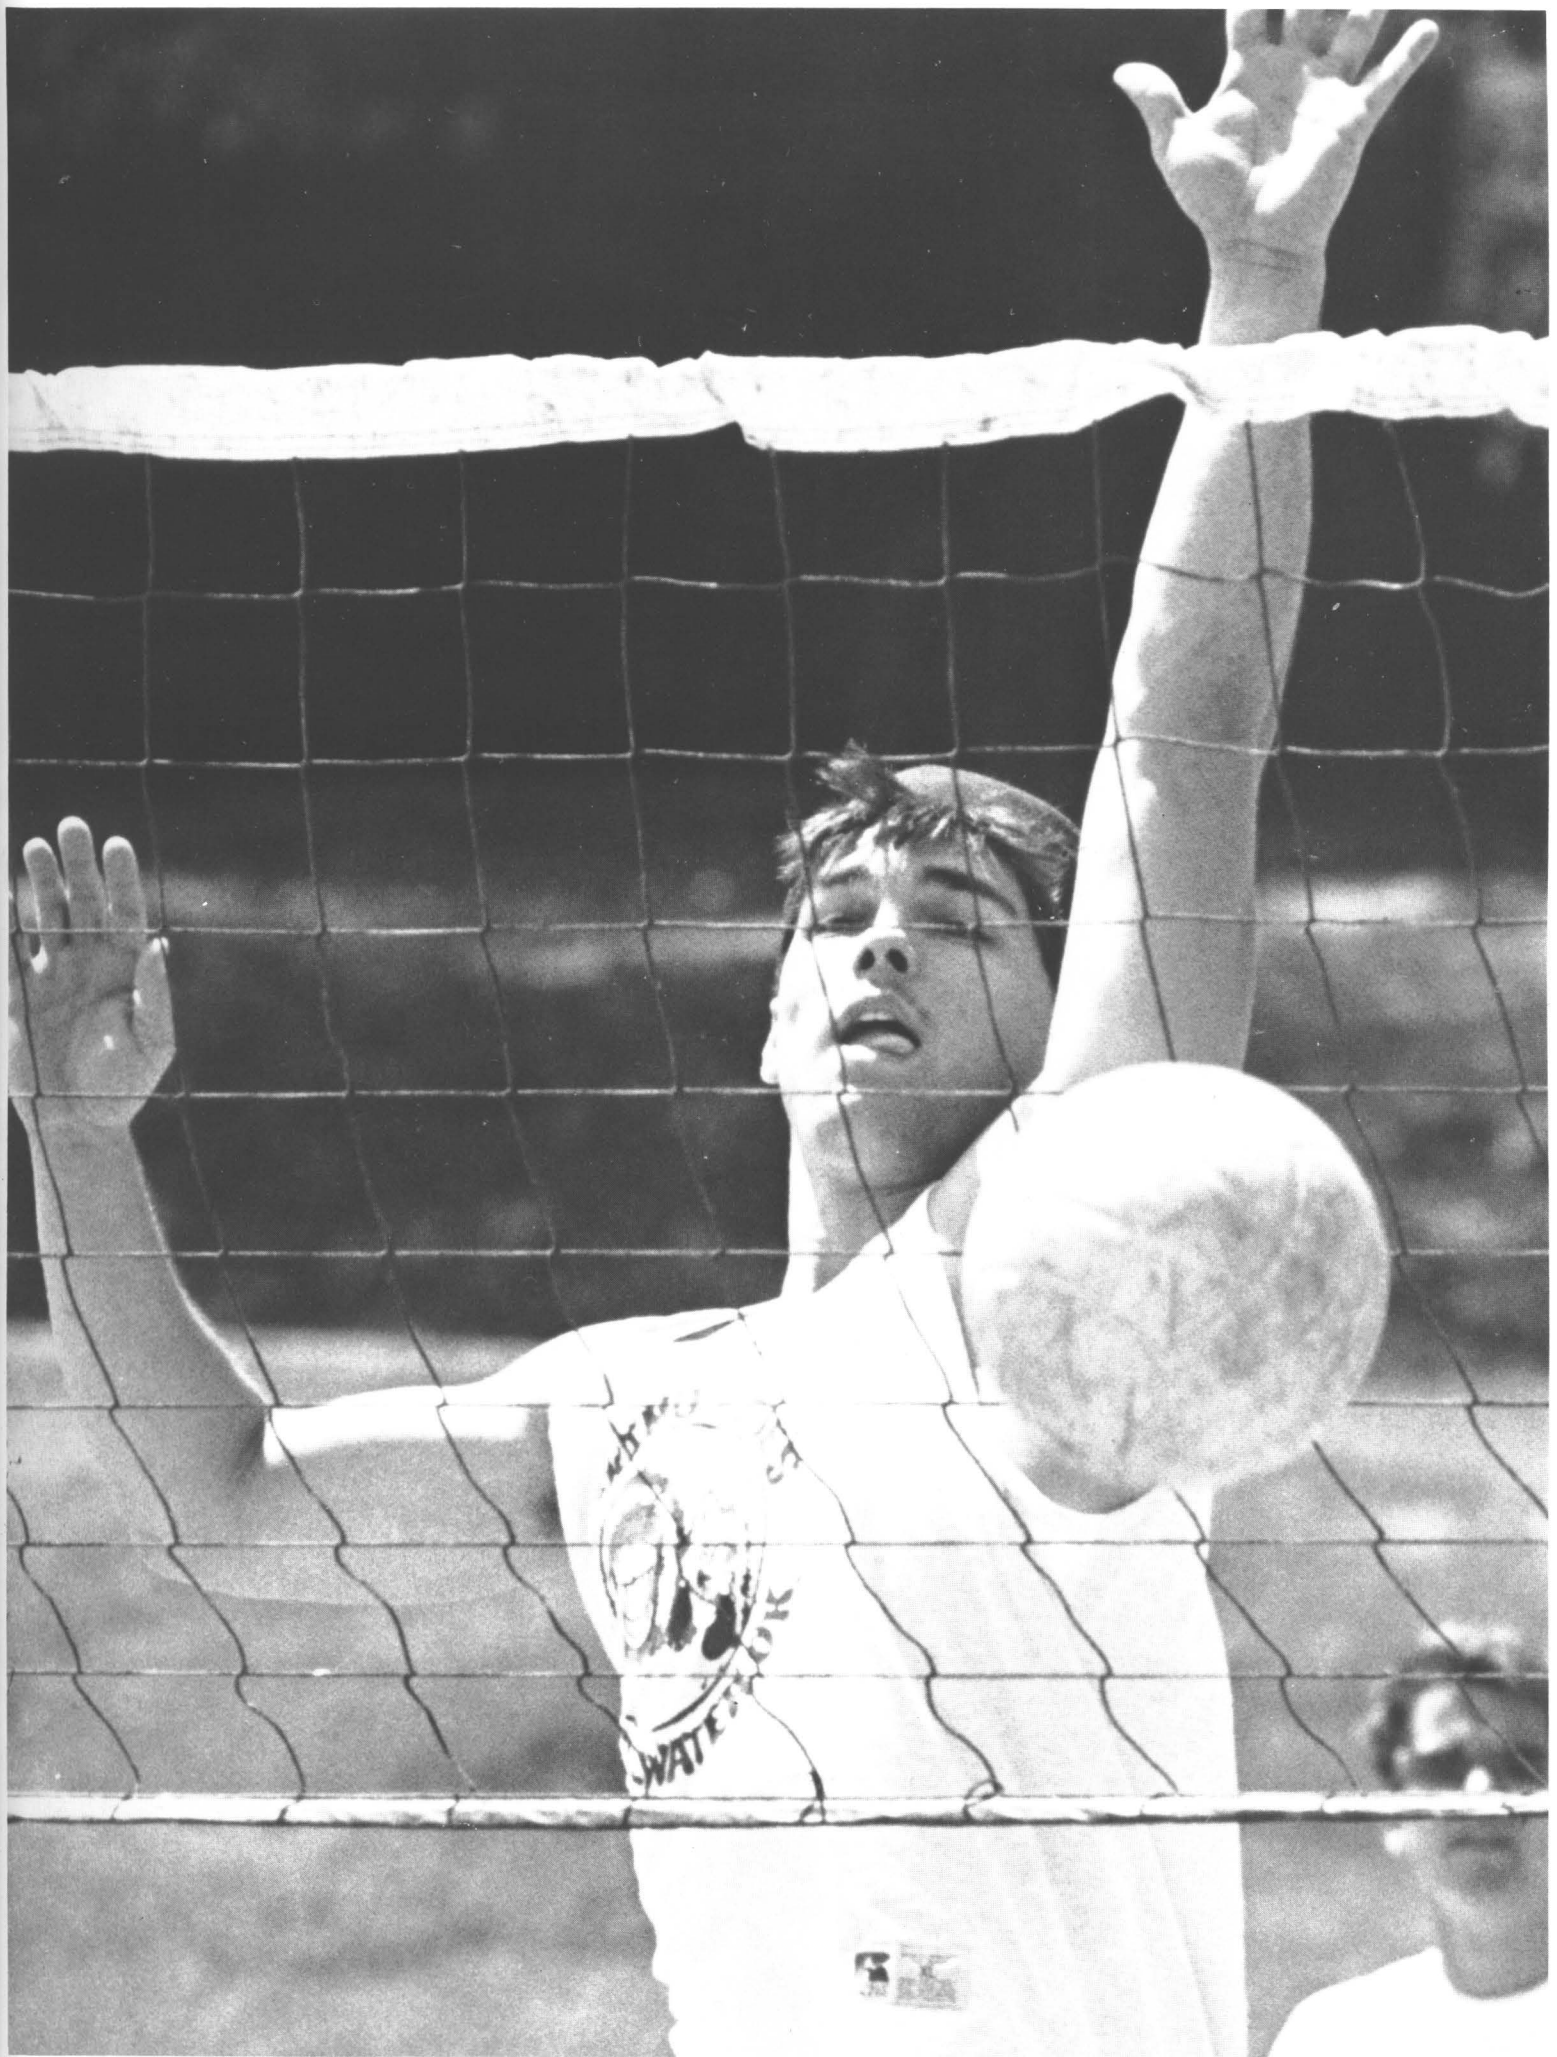

Volleyball Champions when they defeated the Phi Sigma Phis 15-12. A Delta Chi Delta, Brett Drumm, said, "It was great competition."

PARENTS' DAY

Parents' Day was an important event that took place in the fall. Students and their parents spent the day orienting themselves with Southeastern's campus.

Many students posed to have their pictures taken with their parents by Dan Hoke in the ballroom. Many organizations had demonstration booths including the Student Senate's booth, which provided free Cokes. There was a live band, the Chorvettes performed, the American Chemical Society and the theatre students provided a demonstration. The Communication Department demonstrated Desktop Publishing, a software package that is currently used for on-campus publications.

MUSICAL ARTS SERIES

The Musical Arts Series opened its eighteenth year with the American Brass Quintet, an ensemble with the Julliard school in New York, that includes a French horn player, David Wakefield, who is originally from Durant.

Many well-known solo and chamber music performers appeared in the Fine Arts Recital Hall as part of this series. Some of them include the Aeolian Chamber Players, The Tulsa Chamber Orchestra, who also played for area school children, the Midland Odessa Thouvenel String Quartet, The Oklahoma Brass Quintet, The Scholars of London, a vocal group that sings unaccompanied, and many other accomplished artists.

The Musical Arts Series featured 11 concerts in the spring and 4 concerts held in the fall. Some of these were also sponsored by the River Arts Council of Durant.

CAMPUS COMEDY

During the fall, Jim Barber, a top international ventriloquist visited the campus under a thousand magnolias with his dummy, Seville.

Also, The Phillips Brothers magic, juggling, comedy, and music act appeared on campus. This comedy team was nominated for the 1990 Campus Entertainment Awards, and has performed for many enthusiastic audiences.

FUN IN THE SUN

The Makah Rhythm Tribe is a highly progressive and versatile band that displays elements of all styles of popular music, blended with the unique sound of Reggae Music. They performed on February 20, 1991 at the Gazebo. Everyone brought their own blankets, sunglasses, and were ready to have some fun. The concert was held at noon, and the Campus Dining Services set up at the Gazebo.

SPECIAL OLYMPICS

In the annual Area 10 Special Olympics track and field meet, 200 special athletes gathered at Southeastern's Paul Laird field in defiance of the gray skies and occasional rain. The athletes refused to let the stormy weather dampen their spirits.

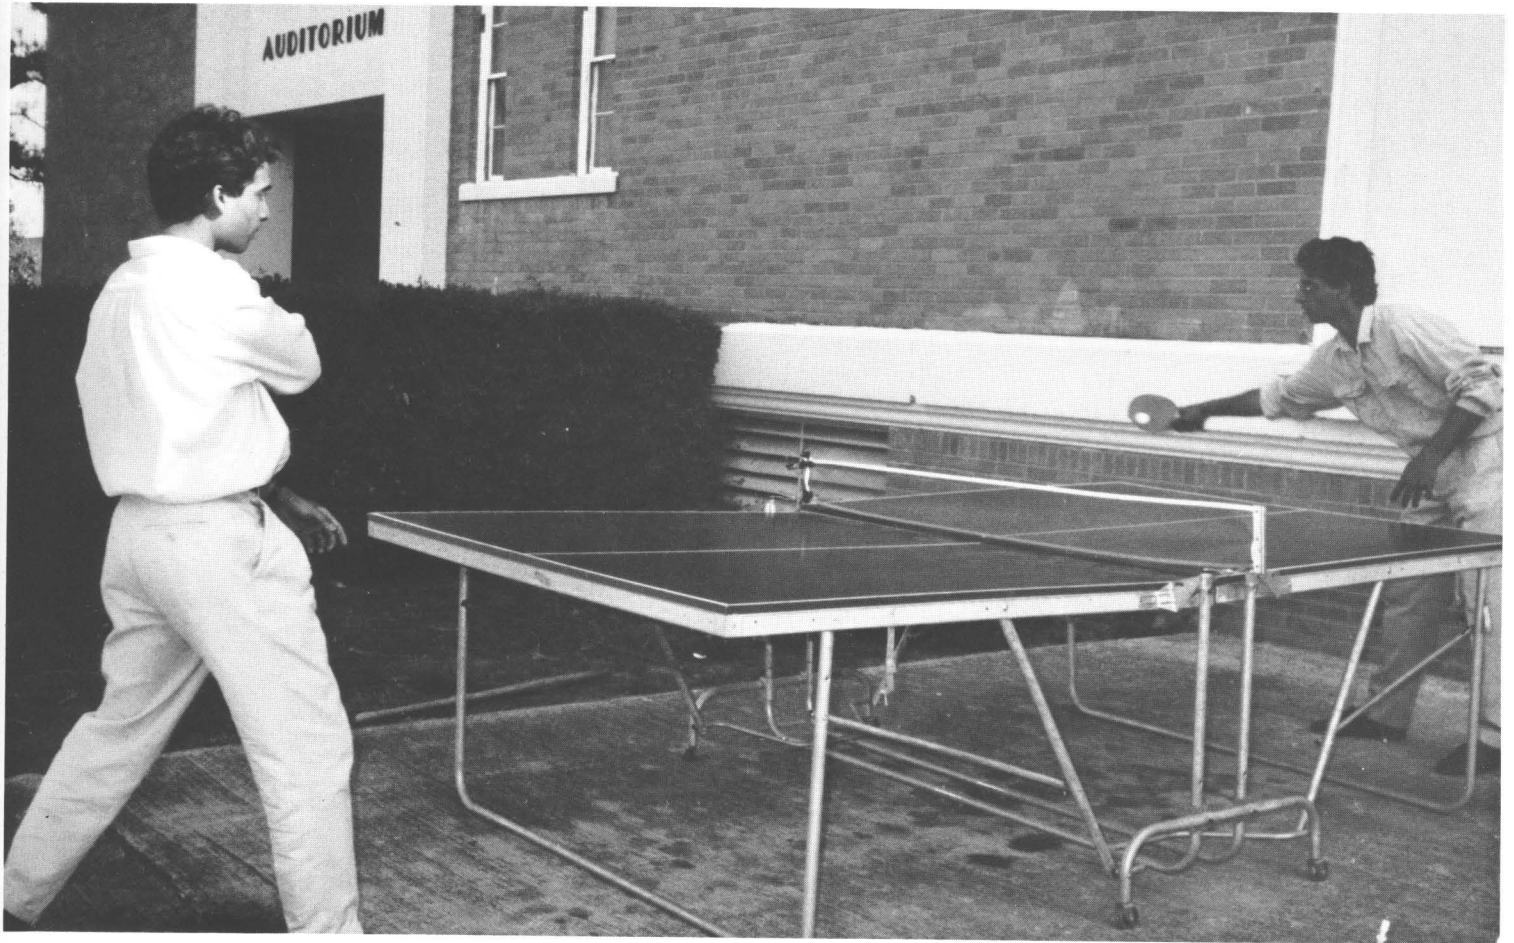

Several campus organizations provided entertainment for the participants between activities by providing many different booths in the Olympic Village. The Student Senate provided a fishing booth, and Delta Chi Delta fraternity set up aluminum soda cans for children to knock down with baseballs. The President's Club was in charge of organizing the Olympic Village. Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority offered a free lollipop tree. Other organizations offered face painting and booths of free gifts and games. The Durant FFA offered a petting zoo.

Many Students volunteered to be a "hugger," and paired off with one of the special athletes for the day. A hugger's main purpose is to welcome the child to the finish line with a big hug.

SOSU President Larry Williams was Master of Ceremonies, and The Bank of Southern Oklahoma awarded him with a plaque for Southeastern's years of involvement in the area's Special Olympics program.

Oklahoma Shakespearean Festival

The Oklahoma Shakespearean Festival is an annual event that provides audiences with the best in classical entertainment.

In the 1992 season, the OSF is celebrating 13 years of dedication to bringing the best theatrical entertainment possible to the Southwest. OSF is one of America's fastest growing professional summer theatre festivals.

During the annual festival, audiences discover the entertainment, laughter, drama, and spectacle that were experienced by the masses who were Shakespeare's patrons.

Among the plays to be presented in 1992 are Henry V by Shakespeare, The Comedy of Errors by Shakespeare, Rumors by Neil Simon, Paint Your Wagon by Alan Jay Lerner and Frederick Loewe, Shakespeare on a Shoestring (an adapted collection of Shakespearean scenes), Teen Theatre, and Sleeping Beauty.

During the 1991 OSF, the productions included MacBeth, As You Like It, The Fantasticks, A Thurber Carnival, and Blithe Spirit.

SUPER SAVAGES

The Super Savage Leaders along with the Office of Student Affairs are part of Camp Savage, a few days of informative and fun events before classes actually start.

There are a total of 40 Super Savage Leaders. All were chosen from applications submitted. They not only help during orientation, but also are dedicated to making the transition for Freshmen students easier and help them during their first semester as a service to the University.

SOSU's television show, "Southeastern Saturday 91" began airing on Saturday September 14 on KTEN. The show ran for 14 weeks. It opened with events from the Saturday before and led up to information on current events for the close. SOSU President Dr. Larry Williams used students, faculty, and staff in the show to highlight the university.

BLOOD DRIVE

Eighty-eight pints of blood were contributed on Wednesday and Thursday November 6-7 during a tri-annual blood drive sponsored by Southeastern's Circle K Club.

According to Tonya Beaty, Circle K President, the goal of the drive was 110 pints.

Beaty said, "I thought the drive went well. I hope more students get involved. I appreciate all the student support and I hope more will help at the next-drive."

The blood drive is the main program that the Circle K Club sponsors. There is a blood drive every semester and the organization is in competition with East Central University because the college with the most pints of blood donated is awarded a plaque from the Oklahoma Blood Institute.

A little rain does not stop the Savage fans from supporting their favorite team. The sight must be mind boggling from a passing plane as supporters cheer the players. Going head over hills is only one part of the grueling effort our players put out all season. Assistant Coach Bridgman does his part to urge the Savages to the victory they seek for the fans. Coach Sloan looks on as the club goes through mud and grime. The Savages work just as hard in practice as they do the actual game. Preparing for the games can be as tense as the game itself.

FROM A SAVAGE TO A BRAVE

LEFT: Southeastern Hurler Dirk Blair signed a pro baseball contract with the Atlanta Braves in June of 1991. Blair posted a 21-13 record over three years with Coach Mike Metheny's Savages. In his first he recorded a 3-5 with 2 saves. As a junior he was 11-4 with a strong performance in the NAIA College World Series recording 2 wins and 1 loss. He was 7-4 in his senior season despite missing some starts due to an injury. Atlanta Scout Joe Campise said he signed Dirk off of one pitch. In the 10th inning against Northwestern in the District 9 Playoffs he fired a fastball that was clocked at 89 miles per hour.

THE SOUTHEASTERN, produced as a laboratory by the Communication and Theatre Department, attracted a talented and lively staff for its 71st year of publication. Shown are Colleen McGraw, Eric Stanglin, Kevin Farr, Kathy Phipps, Nick Phipps, Jack Haggard, Brad Nichols, Rhonda Alexander and Harlan Stensaas (adviser). Photographer Heather Wilson was somewhere in the Southwest and circulation manager Chris Howell was out circulating. A number of others participated as contributing writers. The publication was ranked First Class Honor Rating in the fall semester critical review by the Associated Collegiate Press.

E.T. Dunlap Lecturer

The 1991 E.T. Dunlap Lecture

Dr. William Arceneaux, who guided the development of the modern system of higher education in Louisiana, delivered the second annual E.T. Dunlap lecture on higher education and public policy September 30.

The lectureship was started in 1990 as a perpetual memorial to Dr. Dunlap, long-time Chancellor of the Oklahoma State System of Higher Education. A 1940 graduate of Southeastern, Dr. Dunlap attended this year's dinner, along with many other dignitaries in higher education. The Ballroom was filled to capacity.

Dr. Arceneaux spent the day on campus, meeting with students, faculty, administrators and community leaders. He addressed the student body in Montgomery Auditorium in the morning and answered questions in a lively question-answer period.

The lectureship was created by the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education and financed by private funds contributed by friends of Dr. Dunlap following his retirement. Southeastern was designated by the Regents as the host institution for what will be a continuing series of lectures on the general theme of higher education and public policy.

A three-inch metal bearing a likeness of Dr. Dunlap was presented to Dr. Arceneaux by President Williams at the dinner program.

Dr. Dunlap's education career began at age 19 in a two-room school near Red Oak. Since retiring as Chancellor in 1982, he has remained active as a consultant of national and international note to states and countries seeking expertise in higher education matters.

Sixty-eight make 1991-92 Who's Who List

The 1991-1992 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities will include the names of 68 Southeastern students. Inclusion in the prestigious list is based on all-around student status, including both scholarship and participation in campus life and activities.

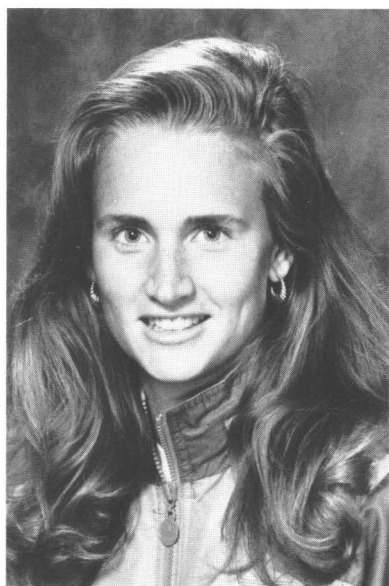

On the list this year are: Aaron Lucas Adair, Sharon Lynn Adams, Donna Louise Albers, Cecil Harold Albin III, Rickey Don Alexander, Gerrie Rae Ashmore, Valerie J. Babbitt, Stephanie Lynn Beckner, John Allen Blocker, Kelli Sue Bond, Ronald Quentin Brown, Pamela Kay Brown, Marianne Brown, Jami Sue Cody, Martha Jeanne Conley, Teri Lyn Cook, Kelli Annette Crain, Dirk Ramsey Decker, Alan Joe Dickerson, Cheryl Lynn Donaldson, Brett Alan Drumm, Charles Raymond Ellsworth III, Raymon Leon Fennell, Jeanne Christina Fuller, Daniel Roy Gibbs, Patti L. Green, Sean Lee Hammel, Carol Lee Hanny, Iva Mae Harkins, Stefani Dawn Hatcher, Dianne Loree Henderson, Leslie Michelle Hill, Gretchen F. Horton, Ahmao "Sunny" Hassain, Kellie Dawn Jenkins, Melissa Bruce Johnson, Pamela Jean Landua, Evelyn Irene Marek, Tammy Sue Mayo, Jeff Scott McCullough, Annette Marie McDonald, Mellanie Ann Moore, Raymond Edward Moss, Kelly Lynn Murphree, Kristen Brooke Murray, Lisa Dawn Myers, Rhonda Denise Newman, Charles Edward Pack III, Annette K. Peoples, Vincent Gary Rains, Darren Fredrick Riddle, Susan Kay Rooker, Paula W. Ross, David Peter Ryeczyk, Wesley Martin Schreier, Deborah Ann Selman, George M. Sorrels, Gretchen Lynn St. John, Christopher Lee Stofel, James Madison Tucker, Brenda Kay Turney, Tracy Lynn Viers, Joseph Wayne Viles, Anthony Wayne Waldroup, Glen Dean Wallace, Kimberly Amanda Webb, Amy Suzanne White, Mary Beth Williams-Singleton.

Tri-Sig is 'Outstanding Greek'

In spring of 1991 a senior from Yuba, Oklahoma, was chosen as Southeastern's Outstanding Greek. Kelli Crain was selected for the honor by a majority vote of the Greek Council. The president of each greek organization nominated one member for the award, based on contributions to the university as a greek. Kelli was a member of Sigma Sigma Sigma and served as treasurer of that organization when presented the award. She is a communication major who enrolled for graduate work in the spring semester.

First female All-American athlete

Southeastern Tennis star Tracy Viers is a senior Business Management-Aviation major from Fort Worth, Texas. One of Southeastern's top tennis sensations, Tracy had a dream season in 1991 and was named SOSU's first-ever female NAIA All-American Athlete with a 3.96 grade point average. She was All-District .9 at 8-2 in singles and 9-0 in doubles. Tracy was also honored as Southeastern's Outstanding Female Athlete and is one of only two female tennis players at SOSU to be named All-District.

Academic ability honored in Parsons Program

The Parsons Scholars follow a special program of educational experiences designed for students of outstanding academic ability. These specially chosen students receive full academic scholarships. Ten scholars are selected each year from qualified high school seniors who apply for the scholarship.

The program honors Dr. David L. Parsons, a 1928 B.A. graduate of Southeastern who later earned the Master of Arts at University of Chicago and the Ph.D. from the University of Oklahoma. A pharmacist, he owned drug stores in Oklahoma and Texas and had oil investments in West Texas. Upon his death in 1978, his estate passed to Southeastern to establish a perpetual endowment fund, which is the financial base of the Parsons Scholar Program. The 1991 Parsons recipients, shown here with Dr. Gordon Eggleton, director of the program, are: (first row) Michele Ebert, Marietta; Sarah Gordon, Marietta; Brenda Slice, Durant; Stacy Potter, Choctaw; Tracy Grist, Atoka; Dr. Eggleton; (second row) Amy Payne, Cresce Joshua Craig, Indianola; Tommy Marcum, Washington; Michael Helbert, Choctaw; and Jana Bacon, Boswell.

Top Teachers

In spring of 1991 University President Larry Williams presented two outstanding professors the Burlington Northern Award of Excellence in Teaching. Recipients of this award were Dr. Roberta Westcott, professor of physical education and Dr. Paula Platter, professor of mathematics education. Each was presented a $1,500 check and also received plaques at a university-wide reception in their honor.

"We have many fine, dedicated faculty members here at Southeastern," said President Williams. "Putting it very simply, these are the best of the best."

Press Awards

The Oklahoma Collegiate Press Association's annual convention brought awards for the staff of The Southeastern.

Colleen McGraw, 1990-1991 editor of The Southeastern was honored with second place in feature writing and third in news writing in the state contest.

Alan Dickerson scooped a coveted first place honor for excellence in display advertising during his tenure as advertising manager at The Southeastern.

Colleen, a political science major, completed an editorial internship during the summer of '91 at The Denison Herald newspaper in Denison, Texas, where she wrote for the editorial and advertising departments.

Alan, a double major in business and communication, is Student Senate President for the '91-'92 academic year. He is active in the Oklahoma Student Government Association and the Oklahoma Intercollegiate Legislature.

. . . on its 200th anniversary!

"The removal of Brad Nichols from the Senate meeting was done as a joke . . .

There was no one else to throw out."

*-Alan Dickerson,
Student Body
President*

The First Amendment is no joke!

As stated on the front page of this week's issue of The Southeastern, I was ejected from Thursday's Student Senate meeting. Senate President Alan Dickerson's claims that the whole ordeal was a joke. Well, if indeed it was meant as a joke than maybe we ought to take a closer look at the responsibilities of Senate and the Senate president.

The preamble to the Senate's constitution states their purpose is to "...engender a closer relationship between the student body, faculty, staff and administration..." and "...to encourage wholesome school spirit comprised of loyalty, cooperation, and unity among students..."

These are serious tasks and they carry a great deal of responsibility with them. Nowhere is it written that the purpose of the Senate is to make jokes.

The mission of the Student Senate is a serious one and it is much different than those of a high school student council. This is where our Senate has gone wrong. They have taken the responsibility of their jobs too lightly.

The Senate, under Dickerson's leadership, broke Oklahoma state law. The Open Meetings Act of the State of Oklahoma clearly establishes that student senates in Oklahoma Colleges and Universities are "public bodies" as defined in Section 304. This means they must comply with all state laws regulating such groups.

As students, we all have the right to attend any and all Senate meetings and the Senate cannot force or ask anyone to leave. If they do, they are violation of state laws which they are sworn to uphold and the act is a misdemeanor which is punishable by a fine of up to $500 and/or by imprisonment up to one year.

I would hate for any Southeastern student to attend a Senate meeting and be faced with the same type of humiliation that I was. The Senate members are public servants and it is time they started acting as such. All students, whether they are a member of the press or not, should be treated by Senate members with the respect they deserve.

The Senates reckless disregard for state law and their joking attitude is unacceptable. If the Senate's action was meant as a joke, why did Dickerson, when asked if he was serious, reply that he was serious, and then instruct me to leave the meeting?

For those Senators who still feel that the matter was meant as a joke and should have been taken that way, I will try to simplify things further. This is not high school and we all should be responsible for our actions. If you were to get caught speeding down the highway at 100 mph., do you think the law enforcement official would laugh if you told him/her that you were just joking? I don't. The law would be broken and you would have to pay the fine.

The Senate president made a grave mistake, to put it mildly, when he called for my removal from the meeting. If it were a joke, it was in extremely poor taste and the result is still the same; he broke the law.

Dickerson is the official spokesperson for Student Senate and the SOSU student body and he should maintain higher standards than those displayed at Thursday's meeting. His actions were irresponsible and inconsiderate, not to mention illegal.

The students of this university deserve better representation from their Senate president and the other Senators. It is time for our Senate to start acting more like a collegiate senate and less like a high-school student council.

ELTON AKINS

Services were held for Elton Akins on January 15, 1992, Moyers, OK, after he died in Lancaster, California. Elton Keith Akins, 22, died January 9 from injuries sustained in an automobile accident.

Elton, a junior majoring in communications and theatre education, was active in both departments. Recognized for "Rockin' Dokken" on KHIB, Akins was a familiar voice on the campus radio. In theatre, he worked both on and behind the stage. His acting accomplishments at Southeastern included roles in the plays "Dark of the Moon," "Chinamen," "Hello Out There," and "Arabian Nights."

JOE KHOURY

Southeastern football player, Joe Khoury, 22, a graduate student at Southeastern collapsed in SOSU's weight room on February 13, 1991, and was pronounced dead on arrival at the Medical Center of Southeastern Oklahoma.

Khoury is the son of Steve and Phyllis Khoury of Kingston. Khoury was a walk-on football player from Kingston, where he graduated from high school. While at Southeastern, Khoury earned second team All-OIC and honorable mention All-District 9 honors on a defensive line that featured two All-American players. He was a member of the 1988 Oklahoma Intercollegiate Conference championship team that had a 9-0 regular season.

When asked about his former player, Head Football Coach Morris Sloan said, "Joe was an excellent football player, and I was glad to call him a friend."

SOSU President Larry Williams said, "The university is deeply saddened at the tragic loss of such a fine student, and we convey our condolences to the Khoury family."

We need not recount here the difficulties and handicaps under which this book was produced. All yearbooks have problems and this one had more than most! It approaches midnight a month or two after the final deadline and this page and the index remain to be done. We would like here to acknowledge some folks whose help and friendship made this book possible.

THANK YOU!

Dan Hoke, university photographer, for countless hours both in the light and in the dark; the staff of the Office of Student Affairs and those of Liz Cobb's Activities Office who seemingly recognize every face in every photo under the sun; C.W. Mangrum, chair of Communication and Theatre, who can find a calming word in every catastrophe; Jim Harmon, who remembered the yearbook when great shots came his way; and the staff of The Southeastern, from whom we stole unabashedly.

Freedom of expression is so important to American values that many persons consider it to be the basis of all our liberties. That freedom is guaranteed in the First Amendment to the United States Constitution, a document which this year has passed its 200th birthday.

THE FIRST AMENDMENT

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the government for a redress of grievances.
